Mine Strike Hinted By Lewis

Says '47 Pact "Dishonored" By Operators

Efforts To Negotiate Pension System Fail

WASHINGTON, March 12. (AP)—John L. Lewis hinted today that another nationwide soft coal strike is around the corner unless mine owners meet his pension demand.

The United Mine Workers' president sent letters to the 400,000 coal diggers in the United States bituminous fields telling them the operators "have dishonored the 1947 wage agreement and defaulted under its provisions affecting the welfare fund."

Such language might cause the miners to decide they are no longer "willing" to work. The contract, signed last July 8 and hailed by the UMW as the finest ever obtained in the coal fields, carries a clause pledging the miners to work only so long as they are "able and willing." Lewis pointed that out at a news conference. Otherwise the bushy-browed miners' leader was careful to withhold any clue as to what might happen in the near future.

Monday, being the next full work day, may supply the answer. In the field the miners remained silent, waiting for the letter to arrive.

Says Negotiations Fruitless

In it, Lewis told his followers:

"Please discuss this matter in your local unions so that our membership may be fully advised. You will later hear more from this office on this subject."

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, described Lewis' letter as "unfair and uncalled for."

Both in the letter and in the news conference at which he released it, Lewis said he had tried without success to negotiate a pension system with Ezra Van Horn, the operators' representative on the three-man board of trustees. A third trustee, Thomas E. Murray, New York, resigned in January after charging both men with being stubborn. Murray was a neutral.

The contract calls for selection of a third trustee by the other two men, but Lewis said there was little chance that Murray's vacancy would be filled soon. The contract, unless terminated on 30 days' notice by the miners or operators, is good until June 30.

The agreement sets up a welfare and retirement fund, financed from a 10-cent royalty on each ton of coal mined. All of this money, piling up at the rate of $60,000,000 a year, is going into the bank untouched, Lewis said. The $1,000 death benefits and "distress payments" which have gone to miners to date have been paid from the fund established by the Krug-Lewis agreement of May, 1946, based on a nickel-a-ton payment. There is still

Watchful Waiting Attitude Adopted

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 12. (AP)—Union officials and operator spokesmen in the West Virginia coal fields adopted an attitude of wary and watchful waiting tonight after John L. Lewis informed members of his United Mine Workers that operators had "dishonored" the 1947 wage agreement.

Two Southern West Virginia operators willing to comment said the Lewis action came as a surprise and one, President Arthur Downing, of the Logan Operators' Association, said it "looks bad."

Once-Rejected Case Comes Up On Wednesday

Showdown On USSR Expansion Is Seen

LAKE SUCCESS, March 12 (AP)—The government of Chile today demanded United Nations investigation of Russia's role in the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

This forced consideration of the once-rejected case brought by the Czechoslovak anti-Communist delegate here on Wednesday soon after Jan Masaryk died in Prague.

The case was placed tonight on the Security Council's provisional calendar for a meeting at 2:30 p. m. (EST) next Wednesday.

Chile's demand for Security Council action was accompanied by a blistering attack on the Soviet Union.

Chile said Russia was using the tactics of Adolf Hitler.

It was the first time Russia had been directly called to account before the council since the Iranian case in the infant days of the United Nations two years ago.

Showdown Envisioned

The first test will come over admitting the case to the agenda of the council. This step is considered procedural and thus outside the range of the big power veto held by Russia and the other great powers.

Some delegates immediately envisioned a showdown between Russia and the Western Powers over expansion of the Soviet sphere in Europe and elsewhere. Others expected Russia to follow her tactics of March, 1946, and walk out of the council if it pursued the case.

Chilean Chief Delegate Hernan Santa Cruz filed the charges on direct instructions from President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla in Santiago.

Santa Cruz said he had not discussed the plan in advance with any other delegation and that this was in compliance with specific orders from his president.

Chile broke off diplomatic relations last October with Russia, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. This was done on charges that the three intefered in Chile's internal affairs and at a time when Czechoslovakia was falling into the Soviet orbit.

Shortly after Santa Cruz made his statement to a news conference, Secretary-General Trygve Lie announced that the document was being circulated immediately to council delegates.

Chile Supports Papanek

Two days ago Lie pigeon-holed a similar demand from Dr. Jan Papanek, still recognized Czechoslovak delegate to the United Nations, on the grounds that Papanek's document was a "non-governmental communication."

A United Nations spokesman said Lie had no alternative but to accept the Chilean-Czechoslovak document now and pass it along to the council delegates.

The Chilean president apparently took a personal hand in the case in order to avoid any suggestion that it might not have come directly from the top level of a United Nations member government.

Senate Spurns Taft Proposal To Slash Fund

Action Clears Way For Quick Approval

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The Senate tonight defeated a proposal by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) to cut the first year's outlay under the European recovery plan to $4,000,000,000.

The roll-call vote was 56 to 31.

The action cleared the way for expected quick approval of a bill making $5,300,000,000 available for European aid, beginning April 1.

However, numerous other amendments remained pending.

Taft told his colleagues before the vote that the aid program "is completely without economic justification but it is justified by the world battle against Communism."

He said the program would interfere seriously with our own economic stability." He urged that the fund be cut $1,300,000,000 under the figure previously approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Defeat of the Taft amendment marked the high tide of opposition to the ERP bill. It probably will undergo similar attacks in the House, however.

Taft, Vandenberg Clash

Taft and Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) clashed in debate earlier tonight on the question of one year or four years of aid to Europe.

The Senate ended a grueling day and night session at 11:03 p. m. EST, to meet again at noon tomorrow, when a final vote on the bill is expected.

The first open disagreemeint between Republican leaders came after Taft urged adoption of the European recovery program, with a $4,000,000,000 limit, on the chance it might help in "the world battle against Communism."

Vandenberg said the bill "contemplates" four years of United States assistance. No Congress can bind the next Congress, he said. But he added that he would feel obliged to vote for continuing aid beyond the first year if countries on the receiving end lived up to their obligations.

"I wholly disagree," Taft shouted. "There is no such obligation. There is no contract. They are not our partners."

"So far as I can see," the Ohioan declared, "they haven't agreed to do anything to our advantage except as it is to their own advantage."

Taft also declared emphatically that the aid bill is "no war measure." In a reference to recent grave statements by President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall, he said he does not believe there is danger of war.

And he warned that the recovery program will be "a serious interference with our economic stability" and "can well do more harm than all the economic benefit conceivable for many years to come."

"Informal" Talks Launched

The State Department anounced, meanwhile, that it has begun "informal" talks with representatives of the 16 Marshall Plan countries on speeding delivery of American supplies—as soon as Congress gives the go-ahead.

Taft said he does not understand the President's statement that his confidence in world peace is somewhat shaken—or Marshall's comments that the world situation is

Meyers, Convicted, Faces Up To 30-Year Sentence

"Guilty" To Each Of Three Charges

WASHINGTON, March 12—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, No. 2 Army Air Forces purchasing officer during the war, was convicted today of persuading another man to tell lies to Senate investigators.

He faces a prison sentence of up to 30 years.

A Federal District Court jury decided Meyers induced a former business associate, Bleriot H. Lamarre, to give false testimony to senators investigating the General's private wartime business affairs.

The balding, 52-year-old Meyers listened without visible emotion as the jury foreman announced "guilty" to each of three charges. His attractive wife, the former Movie Actress Ila Rae Curnutt, wiped away a tear and put one arm around her husband. Neither spoke.

Bail Continued Until Monday

Judge Alexander Holtzoff wanted to put Meyers in jail right away. But the General's attorneys protested that it was usual for defendants "of his position" to be allowed freedom on bail.

"We don't often have defendants in his position," Holtzoff snapped.

He finally agreed, however, to continue Meyers' bail until Monday, when sentence will be passed.

Usually a week or 10 days interval is allowed between a conviction and sentence. But Holtzoff said he wanted to fix Meyers' penalty "very promptly."

One witness against Meyers was Lamarre's pretty wife, Mildred, once identified by the General as "my girl friend." She denied at the time that there was any improper relationship between them.

Lamarre "Covered Up"

Lamarre testified at the trial that he "covered up," during the Senate investigation, the fact that Meyers, as the real owner of Aviation Electric Corporation in Dayton, Ohio, took $150,000 in wartime profits out of the aircraft parts concern. He did this, Lamarre said, at Meyers' urging, but later changed his story and told the senators the truth.

Lamarre, now 36, said he was "dummy" president of the company at $50 a week. He already has pleaded guilty to perjury charges and is awaiting sentence.

Meyers, who has been stripped of his wartime decorations, also has been indicted on charges of lying himself to the Senate investigators and on income tax fraud charges. There were some indications the perjury charges might be dropped in view of today's conviction.

Western Europe Nations Complete Anti-Red Treaty

Pact Is Described As "Unprecedented"

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 12 (AP)—Delegates of Britain, France and the three Benelux countries adopted today the completed draft of a treaty setting up a Western European union as a block to Communism.

The pact when ratified binds Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg to an automatic joint defense against attack in Europe. Although Germany is said to be mentioned by name as a possible aggressor it is by no means limited to defense against Germany alone. Its drafters are convinced their agreement will ultimately attract at least the tacit support of the United States.

Described by one qualified source as a pact "unprecedented in the history of Europe," it also binds the five nations to a joint declaration of democratic principles, and to harmonize their production, standards of living, legal systems, trade practices and other matters touching nearly every field of national activity.

Signing Set For Wednesday

The complete text will not be made public before the treaty is signed here Wednesday by the five foreign ministers, the negotiators said.

The union is left open for other European nations to join. A non-European country, such as the

Gromyko Silent As Jews Present Holy Land Views

U. S. Insists Peaceful Partition Required

NEW YORK, March 12—(AP)—Andrei A. Gromyko refused to discuss the partition of Palestine today with Jewish leaders in a formal Big Four conference.

The Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister sat silent for two hours while the Jewish Agency for Palestine urged the powers to carry out without change the United Nations plan to create Jewish and Arabic countries in the Holy Land.

Gromyko also had nothing to say when the top delegates of the other conferring powers, the United States, France and China, decided to invite the Arab Higher Committee to appear before the four powers on Monday at 10:30 a. m.

Report Due Next Monday

The Big Four must report back to the Security Council next Monday at 2:30 p. m. on the result of the talks.

The Soviet delegate declared in a statement handed newsmen after the conference that he still felt that such talks with Arab and Jewish leaders would only lead to complications. He maintains that the views of the Jews and Arabs are known, and insists that the partition plan be carried out.

He charged that the United States wants to start again at the beginning of the Palestine question.

A Soviet source earlier this week made a similar charge, which drew a sharp retort from Warren R. Austin, United States delegate, that Russia is pre-judging the results of the consultations.

The United States delegation, for the second time in two days, issued a special statement on its position on Palestine.

Paper Will Use "Stinkin' Ink" In "Ramp Edition"

FANWOOD, N. J., March 12. (AP)—Chemist Clayton Myers has an order to make some "stinkin' ink" for a weekly newspaper in Richwood, W. Va.

The ink has to be ready for a special edition of the News Leader March 17 to celebrate the annual "harvest of the ramp."

The ramp is a spring herb of the garlic family.

"It tastes good going down" says Myers, "but stinks terrifically after you eat it."

Everybody in Nicholas County, W. Va., eats ramps to celebrate the coming of spring, says Myers so the ramp is pretty important.

Editor-Publisher J. F. Comstock, of the News Leader, got an idea. The March 17 edition of his paper will be printed with "ramp ink," he says, to commemorate the stink.

Measure Extending Rent Controls Sent To House

Would Give Local Boards Authority

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The House Banking Committee voted today to strip federal officials of major authority over rent controls and to turn the decision powers over to local rent boards.

Then the committee approved a bill to continue the modified controls for one year, to March 31, 1949.

The House will begin debate on the bill Monday, with a showdown vote set for Tuesday.

An amendment written into the Senate-approved rent bill would give the local boards, appointed by governors of the various states, power to decontrol rents entirely in their areas or to order rent increases.

Rep. Monroney (D-Okla) declared this amendment would "knock an awful hole in effective rent control."

The Oklahoman immediately announced he will seek to restore a Senate provision when the bill reaches the House floor. This provision says that local boards may recommend rent increases or complete decontrol but leaves it up to the Federal Housing Administer to determine whether they have "substantiated" their cases.

A proposal to make the local boards all powerful was defeated by the Senate during its consideration of the bill.

Extended Vote Is 13 to 3

The House committee approved the 12 months rent control extension on a 13 to 3 vote.

But on the amendment giving broad authority to local boards the vote was 12 to 8. One member reported that the closed door action saw virtually a party line split—with Republicans supporting the amendment and Democrats opposing.

Rep. Spence (D-Ky), senior Democrat on the Banking Committee, said "the committee has approved a very weak bill. It affords tenants very little protection."

Rep. Monroney told reporters "landlords are well organized for presentation of their cases to the local boards, but tenants usually are not well represented." Therefore, he said, the tenants suffer a disadvantage.

"The amendment," he said, "is going to create a great uncertainty whether rent control will be continued in any given area. The local boards would have full control."

Benes To Attend Funeral Service For Jan Masaryk

Thousands View Body Of Minister

PRAGUE, March 12—(INS)—The Czechoslovak Communist government announced tonight that President Eduard Benes will return to Prague from his country home tomorrow for the huge state funeral for Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk.

Thousands of Czechs in an eight-hour procession today wept beside the body of "Masaryk the martyred" amid drastic new purge orders designed by the Communists to shatter the economic life of their opponents.

The announcement of the return to the capital of Benes said the ailing President will attend the funeral service for Masaryk in the Pantheon of the National Museum but will not participate in the subsequent procession.

Reported Virtual Prisoner

Benes has been at his country home for two weeks. He went there as soon as he bowed to Communist pressure and swore in the new Cabinet. He has been inaccessible to newsmen amid reports he was a virtual prisoner.

The Czechs got their last glimpse of Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk on the eve of a huge state funeral climaxed by Communist graveside orations.

It was the biggest such turnout in the history of the country. Lines of men and women extended more than two miles from the city up to Cernin Palace, where Masaryk's lay in state.

Clinging to the hands of their tearful parents were children unaware of the political convulsion shaking their land.

"Traitor's" Kinsmen Warned

Alps Searched For U. S. Plane Carrying Five

MILAN, Italy, March 12 (AP)—American, Italian, French and Swiss aircraft searched the Alps today for an American C-46 transport reported missing with its crew of five.

The transport, believed engaged in commercial service, was said to have left Geneva yesterday for Rome. It has not been heard from since.

Eight United States military planes arrived in Milan tonight to join in the portion of the search being conducted from here.

Exact identity of the missing transport and its occupants still has not been established.

Argentina Charged With 'Bleeding' Europe Through High Wheat Prices

WASHINGTON, March 2—(AP)—The Herter Committee charged today Argentina is "bleeding a starving Europe" through "exorbitant" wheat prices.

The 18-man House of Representatives committee called on the future administrator of the European recovery program to get tough with Argentina. It urged him to use every weapon at his command to bring Argentine prices into line.

The committee suggested rationing exports of United States industrial equipment to Argentina in ratio to her co-operation.

Otherwise, the committee said, Argentine higth prices will raise Marshall Plan costs more than a billion dollars during the four years of the program.

The committee said Argentina refused last year to pool her wheat with other producing countries for allocation abroad under the International Emergency Food Council. Numerous IEFC appeals for co-operation were rejected, the committee added.

Last Saturday, Argentina also refused to join in a 36-nation agreement setting a $2 bushel ceiling on wheat for export. Argentina argued that price ceilings would have to be set on industrial and agricultural equipment as well before she would go along.

Argentine Charge D'Affaires Martin Luis Drago said today he had no comment on the Herter committee report.

The committee, which toured Europe last summer studying economic and financial conditions, made the statements in a report on the Latin-American aspects of the Marshall program.

The group is headed by Rep. Herter (R-Mass).

It said the Argentine government has "repeatedly indicated lack of interest in sharing in the task of working out a solution to Europe's economic problems."

The committee said that as recently as December, 1947, Argentina made Brazil pay $4.86 a bushel for 500,000 tons of wheat, payable in dollars.

Wiley Backs Southern States' Education Plan

WASHINGTON, March 12—(AP)—A plan of 15 southern states to establish regional universities was endorsed by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) today as one which might help solve a "perplexing problem."

He gave his opinion as a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee concluded a day's hearing of a resolution to authorize the states to join in establishment of such schools.

"It would appear to me that through a united effort this will provide additional educational institutions for both colored and white people," he said.

Peace, Prices Chosen As Demo Theme Song

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The Democratic Party's high command decided today to fight its presidential campaign on two issues: "Peace and prices."

And from one southerner came a prediction the Solid South would be in on the team play as usual, despite the civil rights quarrelings.

The Democratic National Executive Committee met today, agreed on the main issues, but disagreed on civil rights.

However, Mrs. Lennard Thomas, Montgomery, Ala., said she was "perfectly satisfied" with an answer President Truman gave her on the controversy and added:

"We're going to stand together and work for a Democratic victory."

Other political developments:

At Richmond, the Virginia Senate adopted an anti-Truman bill which would permit the Virginia Democratic Party to name its own candidate for President. President Truman, if nominated at Philadelphia, could appear on the ballot as the candidate of the "National Democratic Party" or some other name besides the "Democratic Party." The aim would be to withhold Virginia's electoral vote from Mr. Truman unless southern demands win concessions.

Mayor Curley, of Boston, withdrew and Rep. McCormack remained as a candidate for delegate to the national convention; and Tokyo aides of Gen. MacArthur, a potential Republican candidate, were disclosed to have protested against broadcast in Japan of anti-MacArthur news.

Major development of the day was the meeting of the National Democratic Executive Committee. Frank McHale, Indiana committeeman, said no official action was taken because "the voice of the party is its convention."

The convention will be held in Philadelphia in July, but the execu-

Negro Kidnaps Woman To Force Her Father To Drop Charge Against Him

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP) — A negro who allegedly kidnaped the white daughter of a Pennsylvania hotel owner in an effort to get her father to drop a perjury charge against him was arrested in Brooklyn today as a fugitive.

The woman, Irene Papp, 22, also was found in Brooklyn. Authorities said she told a story of a three-day ride through Pennsylvania, into Delaware and New York during which she was kept under the influence of an anesthetic most of the time.

Officers quoted her as saying that she had not otherwise been molested.

Assistant Chief Inspector Patrick Kenny said the negro, Wilford Jenkins, 23, admitted kidnapping the young woman to force her father to drop a perjury charge against him in McKeesport, Pa.

Police said Miss Papp was five feet two inches tall and weighs 200 pounds. Jenkins is tall slender, weighing about 155 pounds.

Jenkins was picked up early today.

Assistant District Attorney Louis Andreozzi and Kenny reconstructed the events leading up to the arrest as follows:

A partnership between the woman's brother, Joseph, and Jenkins was dissolved last May. For some reason, still unexplained, Jenkins a short time later appeared at the McKeesport Marriage License Bureau with a white woman and obtained a license in the name of Irene Papp.

Jenkins confronted Irene's father, Andrew Papp, owner of the McKeesport Hotel, with a story that he and Irene were married and he could produce a marriage license to prove it. The father wouldn't believe the story and a perjury charge against Jenkins resulted.

Senate Spurns Taft Proposal To Slash Fund

Action Clears Way For Quick Approval

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The Senate tonight defeated a proposal by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) to cut the first year's outlay under the European recovery plan to $4,000,000,000.

The roll-call vote was 56 to 31.

The action cleared the way for expected quick approval of a bill making $5,300,000,000 available for European aid, beginning April 1.

However, numerous other amendments remained pending.

Taft told his colleagues before the vote that the aid program "is completely without economic justification but it is justified by the world battle against Communism."

He said the program would interfere seriously with our own economic stability." He urged that the fund be cut $1,300,000,000 under the figure previously approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Defeat of the Taft amendment marked the high tide of opposition to the ERP bill. It probably will undergo similar attacks in the House, however.

Taft, Vandenberg Clash

Taft and Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) clashed in debate earlier tonight on the question of one year or four years of aid to Europe.

The Senate ended a grueling day and night session at 11:03 p. m. EST, to meet again at noon tomorrow, when a final vote on the bill is expected.

The first open disagreemeint between Republican leaders came after Taft urged adoption of the European recovery program, with a $4,000,000,000 limit, on the chance it might help in "the world battle against Communism."

Vandenberg said the bill "contemplates" four years of United States assistance. No Congress can bind the next Congress, he said. But he added that he would feel obliged to vote for continuing aid beyond the first year if countries on the receiving end lived up to their obligations.

"I wholly disagree," Taft shouted. "There is no such obligation. There is no contract. They are not our partners."

"So far as I can see," the Ohioan declared, "they haven't agreed to do anything to our advantage except as it is to their own advantage."

Taft also declared emphatically that the aid bill is "no war measure." In a reference to recent grave statements by President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall, he said he does not believe there is danger of war.

And he warned that the recovery program will be "a serious interference with our economic stability" and "can well do more harm than all the economic benefit conceivable for many years to come."

"Informal" Talks Launched

The State Department anounced, meanwhile, that it has begun "informal" talks with representatives of the 16 Marshall Plan countries on speeding delivery of American supplies—as soon as Congress gives the go-ahead.

Taft said he does not understand the President's statement that his confidence in world peace is somewhat shaken—or Marshall's comments that the world situation is

Meyers, Convicted, Faces Up To 30-Year Sentence

"Guilty" To Each Of Three Charges

WASHINGTON, March 12—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, No. 2 Army Air Forces purchasing officer during the war, was convicted today of persuading another man to tell lies to Senate investigators.

He faces a prison sentence of up to 30 years.

A Federal District Court jury decided Meyers induced a former business associate, Bleriot H. Lamarre, to give false testimony to senators investigating the General's private wartime business affairs.

The balding, 52-year-old Meyers listened without visible emotion as the jury foreman announced "guilty" to each of three charges. His attractive wife, the former Movie Actress Ila Rae Curnutt, wiped away a tear and put one arm around her husband. Neither spoke.

Bail Continued Until Monday

Judge Alexander Holtzoff wanted to put Meyers in jail right away. But the General's attorneys protested that it was usual for defendants "of his position" to be allowed freedom on bail.

"We don't often have defendants in his position," Holtzoff snapped.

He finally agreed, however, to continue Meyers' bail until Monday, when sentence will be passed.

Usually a week or 10 days interval is allowed between a conviction and sentence. But Holtzoff said he wanted to fix Meyers' penalty "very promptly."

One witness against Meyers was Lamarre's pretty wife, Mildred, once identified by the General as "my girl friend." She denied at the time that there was any improper relationship between them.

Lamarre "Covered Up"

Lamarre testified at the trial that he "covered up," during the Senate investigation, the fact that Meyers, as the real owner of Aviation Electric Corporation in Dayton, Ohio, took $150,000 in wartime profits out of the aircraft parts concern. He did this, Lamarre said, at Meyers' urging, but later changed his story and told the senators the truth.

Lamarre, now 36, said he was "dummy" president of the company at $50 a week. He already has pleaded guilty to perjury charges and is awaiting sentence.

Meyers, who has been stripped of his wartime decorations, also has been indicted on charges of lying himself to the Senate investigators and on income tax fraud charges. There were some indications the perjury charges might be dropped in view of today's conviction.

Western Europe Nations Complete Anti-Red Treaty

Pact Is Described As "Unprecedented"

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 12 (AP)—Delegates of Britain, France and the three Benelux countries adopted today the completed draft of a treaty setting up a Western European union as a block to Communism.

The pact when ratified binds Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg to an automatic joint defense against attack in Europe. Although Germany is said to be mentioned by name as a possible aggressor it is by no means limited to defense against Germany alone. Its drafters are convinced their agreement will ultimately attract at least the tacit support of the United States.

Described by one qualified source as a pact "unprecedented in the history of Europe," it also binds the five nations to a joint declaration of democratic principles, and to harmonize their production, standards of living, legal systems, trade practices and other matters touching nearly every field of national activity.

Signing Set For Wednesday

The complete text will not be made public before the treaty is signed here Wednesday by the five foreign ministers, the negotiators said.

The union is left open for other European nations to join. A non-European country, such as the

Gromyko Silent As Jews Present Holy Land Views

U. S. Insists Peaceful Partition Required

NEW YORK, March 12—(AP)—Andrei A. Gromyko refused to discuss the partition of Palestine today with Jewish leaders in a formal Big Four conference.

The Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister sat silent for two hours while the Jewish Agency for Palestine urged the powers to carry out without change the United Nations plan to create Jewish and Arabic countries in the Holy Land.

Gromyko also had nothing to say when the top delegates of the other conferring powers, the United States, France and China, decided to invite the Arab Higher Committee to appear before the four powers on Monday at 10:30 a. m.

Report Due Next Monday

The Big Four must report back to the Security Council next Monday at 2:30 p. m. on the result of the talks.

The Soviet delegate declared in a statement handed newsmen after the conference that he still felt that such talks with Arab and Jewish leaders would only lead to complications. He maintains that the views of the Jews and Arabs are known, and insists that the partition plan be carried out.

He charged that the United States wants to start again at the beginning of the Palestine question.

A Soviet source earlier this week made a similar charge, which drew a sharp retort from Warren R. Austin, United States delegate, that Russia is pre-judging the results of the consultations.

The United States delegation, for the second time in two days, issued a special statement on its position on Palestine.

Benes To Attend Funeral Service For Jan Masaryk

Thousands View Body Of Minister

PRAGUE, March 12—(INS)—The Czechoslovak Communist government announced tonight that President Eduard Benes will return to Prague from his country home tomorrow for the huge state funeral for Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk.

Thousands of Czechs in an eight-hour procession today wept beside the body of "Masaryk the martyred" amid drastic new purge orders designed by the Communists to shatter the economic life of their opponents.

The announcement of the return to the capital of Benes said the ailing President will attend the funeral service for Masaryk in the Pantheon of the National Museum but will not participate in the subsequent procession.

Reported Virtual Prisoner

Benes has been at his country home for two weeks. He went there as soon as he bowed to Communist pressure and swore in the new Cabinet. He has been inaccessible to newsmen amid reports he was a virtual prisoner.

The Czechs got their last glimpse of Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk on the eve of a huge state funeral climaxed by Communist graveside orations.

It was the biggest such turnout in the history of the country. Lines of men and women extended more than two miles from the city up to Cernin Palace, where Masaryk's lay in state.

Clinging to the hands of their tearful parents were children unaware of the political convulsion shaking their land.

"Traitor's" Kinsmen Warned

In the relentless government purge, a public notice signed by the Communist Prague mayor, Vaclav Vacek, appeared on signboards.

These notices warned that any Czech found expressing grief or praise for kinsmen sentenced to death "as war criminals or for act-

Alps Searched For U. S. Plane Carrying Five

MILAN, Italy, March 12 (AP) — American, Italian, French and Swiss aircraft searched the Alps today for an American C-46 transport reported missing with its crew of five.

The transport, believed engaged in commercial service, was said to have left Geneva yesterday for Rome. It has not been heard from since.

Eight United States military planes arrived in Milan tonight to join in the portion of the search being conducted from here.

Exact identity of the missing transport and its occupants still has not been established.

Argentina Charged With 'Bleeding' Europe Through High Wheat Prices

WASHINGTON, March 2—(AP)—The Herter Committee charged today Argentina is "bleeding a starving Europe" through "exorbitant" wheat prices.

The 18-man House of Representatives committee called on the future administrator of the European recovery program to get tough with Argentina. It urged him to use every weapon at his command to bring Argentine prices into line.

The committee suggested rationing exports of United States industrial equipment to Argentina in ratio to her co-operation.

Otherwise, the committee said, Argentine higth prices will raise Marshall Plan costs more than a billion dollars during the four years of the program.

The committee said Argentina refused last year to pool her wheat with other producing countries for allocation abroad under the International Emergency Food Council. Numerous IEFC appeals for co-operation were rejected, the committee added.

Last Saturday, Argentina also refused to join in a 36-nation agreement setting a $2 bushel ceiling on wheat for export. Argentina argued that price ceilings would have to be set on industrial and agricultural equipment as well before she would go along.

Argentine Charge D'Affaires Martin Luis Drago said today he had no comment on the Herter committee report.

The committee, which toured Europe last summer studying economic and financial conditions, made the statements in a report on the Latin-American aspects of the Marshall program.

The group is headed by Rep. Herter (R-Mass).

It said the Argentine government has "repeatedly indicated lack of interest in sharing in the task of working out a solution to Europe's economic problems."

The committee said that as recently as December, 1947, Argentina made Brazil pay $4.86 a bushel for 500,000 tons of wheat, payable in dollars.

Wiley Backs Southern States' Education Plan

WASHINGTON, March 12—(AP)—A plan of 15 southern states to establish regional universities was endorsed by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) today as one which might help solve a "perplexing problem."

He gave his opinion as a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee concluded a day's hearing of a resolution to authorize the states to join in establishment of such schools.

"It would appear to me that through a united effort this will provide additional educational institutions for both colored and white people," he said.

Peace, Prices Chosen As Demo Theme Song

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP) — The Democratic Party's high command decided today to fight its presidential campaign on two issues: "Peace and prices."

And from one southerner came a prediction the Solid South would be in on the team play as usual, despite the civil rights quarrelings.

The Democratic National Executive Committee met today, agreed on the main issues, but disagreed on civil rights.

However, Mrs. Lennard Thomas, Montgomery, Ala., said she was "perfectly satisfied" with an answer President Truman gave her on the controversy and added:

"We're going to stand together and work for a Democratic victory."

Other political developments:

At Richmond, the Virginia Senate adopted an anti-Truman bill which would permit the Virginia Democratic Party to name its own candidate for President. President Truman, if nominated at Philadelphia, could appear on the ballot as the candidate of the "National Democratic Party" or some other name besides the "Democratic Party." The aim would be to withhold Virginia's electoral vote from Mr. Truman unless southern demands win concessions.

Mayor Curley, of Boston, withdrew and Rep. McCormack remained as a candidate for delegate to the national convention; and Tokyo aides of Gen. MacArthur, a potential Republican candidate, were disclosed to have protested against broadcast in Japan of anti-MacArthur news.

Major development of the day was the meeting of the National Democratic Executive Committee. Frank McHale, Indiana committeeman, said no official action was taken because "the voice of the party is its convention."

The convention will be held in Philadelphia in July, but the execu-

Negro Kidnaps Woman To Force Her Father To Drop Charge Against Him

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP) — A negro who allegedly kidnaped the white daughter of a Pennsylvania hotel owner in an effort to get her father to drop a perjury charge against him was arrested in Brooklyn today as a fugitive.

The woman, Irene Papp, 22, also was found in Brooklyn. Authorities said she told a story of a three-day ride through Pennsylvania, into Delaware and New York during which she was kept under the influence of an anesthetic most of the time.

Officers quoted her as saying that she had not otherwise been molested.

Assistant Chief Inspector Patrick Kenny said the negro, Wilford Jenkins, 23, admitted kidnapping the young woman to force her father to drop a perjury charge against him in McKeesport, Pa.

Police said Miss Papp was five feet two inches tall and weighs 200 pounds. Jenkins is tall slender, weighing about 155 pounds.

Jenkins was picked up early today.

Assistant District Attorney Louis Andreozzi and Kenny reconstructed the events leading up to the arrest as follows:

A partnership between the woman's brother, Joseph, and Jenkins was dissolved last May. For some reason, still unexplained, Jenkins a short time later appeared at the McKeesport Marriage License Bureau with a white woman and obtained a license in the name of Irene Papp.

Jenkins confronted Irene's father, Andrew Papp, owner of the McKeesport Hotel, with a story that he and Irene were married and he could produce a marriage license to prove it. The father wouldn't believe the story and a perjury charge against Jenkins resulted.

Speedy Tax Bill Action Ordered By GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP) — The Republican leadership today ordered speedy action on a bill to cut income taxes $4,700,000,000. The goal is a Senate vote next week.

After that would remain (1) adjustment with a House-passed bill to cut taxes $6,500,000,000 and (2) efforts to override an expected presidential veto.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) announced that the Senate deadline was set at a meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

In the House, Chairman Knutson (R-Minn), of the House Ways and Means Committee, said:

"I don't think the differences between the House and Senate are insurmountable. I am confident the House will override any veto, either on the bill that passed the House or as it was amended by the Senate (Finance) Committee."

Rep. Doughton (D-NC), senior Ways and Means Democrat, said: "The bill approved by the Senate committee looks like it is a close kin to my tax bill. It looks reasonable to me."

Sen. Connally (D-Tex) said he voted against the bill in committee, when it was approved last night, but plans no floor fight on it.

Democratic Leader Barkley, of Kentucky, predicted that a Democratic substitute will be offered in the Senate. But, he said, he hasn't made up his mind whether he will vote for the Republican version of the bill if the Democratic substitute is turned down.

The Truman administration has argued that this is no time to reduce government revenue and that surpluses should be used to whittle the national debt.

State Uniform Accounts Commission Opens Office

BALTIMORE, March 12 (AP) — The long job of devising a uniform accounting system for Maryland's counties, cities, towns and taxing districts is getting under way here.

The Maryland Commission on Uniform Accounts has opened up an office and Benjamin S. Schilling, Jr., has been put in charge of a field survey which is to do the preliminary work.

The commission hopes to have the system ready to go by January 1, 1950.

It was authorized by the 1947 General Assembly in one of the bills enacted to carry out recommendations of the so-called Sherbow Commission.

The Sherbow group made a long study on the distribution of state revenues and the levying of taxes.

It said there ought to be an accounting system "uniform in its application to all accounts of the same class of each county and of each incorporated city and town or taxing district of the same grade."

Betty "Breaks Down"

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 12 (AP)—Betty Grable, horse owner and actress, broke down in the stretch today, as she put it. She sprained her left ankle while rehearsing a dance number for a new picture. But, she quipped:

"I don't think the studio has any intention of destroying me."

tive committee's advance work is important. Today it selected its theme song — peace and prices.

"We are certain that the mass of the people will make any sacrifice for peace," McHale said. "The Republicans have missed the boat on the high cost of living issue. They are putting up a tax reduction as a panacea for all the ills of the world."

McHale said much of the discussion today was about the civil rights program. This has split Democratic Party ranks.

Maryland On Way Back To 'Best-Roaded' Position

BALTIMORE, March 12 (AP) — The State Roads Commission, in its first comprehensive report on the 1948 highway program, said today that "Maryland is on her way back to the position she once enjoyed as the best-roaded state in the nation."

Bids have been received this year on a total of five "primary road" projects and 26 widening and resurfacing projects, involving 129.22 miles in all. Estimated cost is $4,759,635.

Work on many of these projects has already started, State Engineer William F. Childs, Jr., said in an interview.

In addition, he said, "a total of 24 survey parties are in the field making surveys for roads included in the program for immediate improvement."

Cause Of Chicago Plane Crash Still Mystery

CHICAGO, March 12—(AP)—A blue ribbon coroner's jury failed today to learn what caused the Delta Airlines plane crash Wednesday night in which 12 of 13 persons aboard were killed.

Meanwhile, surgeons removed part of the right leg of Mrs. Tripilina Meo, 33, sole survivor of the fiery tragedy. The suburban Oak Lawn woman, whose son, Alfred, Jr., 8, was killed in the plane, was reported still in "critical condition."

The inquest was continued by Coroner A. L. Brodie until March 31 in the hope that new facts upon which to base a verdict will be turned up.

Clear, Warmer Weather Moving Into Cold Area

CHICAGO, March 12 (AP)—The brunt of the record March cold wave which has swept much of the eastern half of the country moved into the Atlantic coastal area tonight, but relief was not far behind.

The weather Bureau predicted rising temperatures for the middle seaboard by tomorrow afternoon. Meanwhile the weather moderated in the Plains, the Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes areas today.

Clear weather moved into most of the cold area today following heavy snows in many areas including Oklahoma, New York and New England.

Greeks Battle Guerrillas

KASTORIA, Greece, March 12 (AP) —The Greek army is fighting a fierce battle with 800 guerrillas, 73rd Brigade officers said tonight.

The battle was reported to be in progress on Mount Mourikou 12 miles northeast of Kastoria and near the Albanian border. The guerrillas started an advance toward Kastoria, with intentions of isolating the town, army officers said.

Five Are Rescued After Shipwreck

GAY HEAD, Mass., March 12—(AP) —The 56-foot New Bedford fishing vessel Smilyn broke up tonight on rocks southwest of Martha's Vineyard Island and all five of her crew were rescued.

All suffered from exposure and required hospital treatment.

The Smilyn went ashore on No Man's Island, three miles southwest of this town, which is at the southwestern tip of Martha's Vineyard. Coast Guard officers said they were uncertain how the accident occurred.

Capt. Edward Sanches and another crewman rowed out a mile to the fishing vessel Princess, where a distress message was sent to the Coast Guard.

Three others were reported to have swum through the icy water to No Man's Island.

Five CIO Unions Protest Executive Council Action

BALTIMORE, March 12 (AP)—Five Baltimore CIO unions protested today action of their state and city executive councils which voted yesterday to back the national CIO directive against the third party movement.

Representatives of the protesting unions charged the move "is unconstitutional and an open violation of the right of any affiliated organization to determine x x x whom it should support for public office."

The representatives spoke for the National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards; United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers; International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers; United Furniture Workers of America, and the Food, Tobacco and Agricultural Workers of America.

They said they represented about 4,000 Maryland workers.

NEW YORK, March 12 (INS)—Employes of the newspaper PM were informed today in a memorandum that Publisher Marshall Field, 3rd, has sold the New York tabloid.

Exploding Match Fatal

OAKLAND, Calif., March 12 (AP)—Mrs. Hannah Dalton, 55, stepped on a match on the tile floor of her bathroom.

The match exploded and fired a piece of paper. The paper ignited her dress.

She died today of body burns.

Final Arguments Due In ITU Case

INDIANAPOLIS, March 12 (AP) — A federal judge wanted to know today whether the effects of contracts proposed by the International Typographical Union isn't to "compel" publishers not to hire non-union men.

President Woodruff Randolph replied: "No, I don't think so. But if it does have that effect, Judge, it isn't our fault."

He argued that neither the ITU nor the law could compel union printers to work with non-union printers.

Their courtroom exchange ended the testimony in the government's injunction case against Randolph and the ITU.

Final arguments will close the 11-day hearing tomorrow.

Judge Luther M. Swygert must decide whether to order the union not to try to cause the nation's newspaper publishers to discriminate against non-union men in hiring.

Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, has charged that the union's policies violate the Taft-Hartley Act. He has asked for a temporary injunction pending a decision on these policies by the five-man NLRB.

Speedy Tax Bill Action Ordered By GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP) — The Republican leadership today ordered speedy action on a bill to cut income taxes $4,700,000,000. The goal is a Senate vote next week.

After that would remain (1) adjustment with a House-passed bill to cut taxes $6,500,000,000 and (2) efforts to override an expected presidential veto.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) announced that the Senate deadline was set at a meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

In the House, Chairman Knutson (R-Minn), of the House Ways and Means Committee, said:

"I don't think the differences between the House and Senate are insurmountable. I am confident the House will override any veto, either on the bill that passed the House or as it was amended by the Senate (Finance) Committee."

Rep. Doughton (D-NC), senior Ways and Means Democrat, said: "The bill approved by the Senate committee looks like it is a close kin to my tax bill. It looks reasonable to me."

Sen. Connally (D-Tex) said he voted against the bill in committee, when it was approved last night, but plans no floor fight on it.

Democratic Leader Barkley, of Kentucky, predicted that a Democratic substitute will be offered in the Senate. But, he said, he hasn't made up his mind whether he will vote for the Republican version of the bill if the Democratic substitute is turned down.

The Truman administration has argued that this is no time to reduce government revenue and that surpluses should be used to whittle the national debt.

State Uniform Accounts Commission Opens Office

BALTIMORE, March 12 (AP) — The long job of devising a uniform accounting system for Maryland's counties, cities, towns and taxing districts is getting under way here.

The Maryland Commission on Uniform Accounts has opened up an office and Benjamin S. Schilling, Jr., has been put in charge of a field survey which is to do the preliminary work.

The commission hopes to have the system ready to go by January 1, 1950.

It was authorized by the 1947 General Assembly in one of the bills enacted to carry out recommendations of the so-called Sherbow Commission.

The Sherbow group made a long study on the distribution of state revenues and the levying of taxes.

It said there ought to be an accounting system "uniform in its application to all accounts of the same class of each county and of each incorporated city and town or taxing district of the same grade."

Betty "Breaks Down"

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 12 (AP)—Betty Grable, horse owner and actress, broke down in the stretch today, as she put it. She sprained her left ankle while rehearsing a dance number for a new picture. But, she quipped:

"I don't think the studio has any intention of destroying me."

tive committee's advance work is important. Today it selected its theme song — peace and prices.

"We are certain that the mass of the people will make any sacrifice for peace," McHale said. "The Republicans have missed the boat on the high cost of living issue. They are putting up a tax reduction as a panacea for all the ills of the world."

McHale said much of the discussion today was about the civil rights program. This has split Democratic Party ranks.

Maryland On Way Back To 'Best-Roaded' Position

BALTIMORE, March 12 (AP) — The State Roads Commission, in its first comprehensive report on the 1948 highway program, said today that "Maryland is on her way back to the position she once enjoyed as the best-roaded state in the nation."

Bids have been received this year on a total of five "primary road" projects and 26 widening and resurfacing projects, involving 129.22 miles in all. Estimated cost is $4,759,635.

Work on many of these projects has already started, State Engineer William F. Childs, Jr., said in an interview.

In addition, he said, "a total of 24 survey parties are in the field making surveys for roads included in the program for immediate improvement."

Cause Of Chicago Plane Crash Still Mystery

CHICAGO, March 12—(AP)—A blue ribbon coroner's jury failed today to learn what caused the Delta Airlines plane crash Wednesday night in which 12 of 13 persons aboard were killed.

Meanwhile, surgeons removed part of the right leg of Mrs. Tripilina Meo, 33, sole survivor of the fiery tragedy. The suburban Oak Lawn woman, whose son, Alfred, Jr., 8, was killed in the plane, was reported still in "critical condition."

The inquest was continued by Coroner A. L. Brodie until March 31 in the hope that new facts upon which to base a verdict will be turned up.

Clear, Warmer Weather Moving Into Cold Area

CHICAGO, March 12 (AP)—The brunt of the record March cold wave which has swept much of the eastern half of the country moved into the Atlantic coastal area tonight, but relief was not far behind.

The weather Bureau predicted rising temperatures for the middle seaboard by tomorrow afternoon. Meanwhile the weather moderated in the Plains, the Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes areas today.

Clear weather moved into most of the cold area today following heavy snows in many areas including Oklahoma, New York and New England.

Greeks Battle Guerrillas

KASTORIA, Greece, March 12 (AP) —The Greek army is fighting a fierce battle with 800 guerrillas, 73rd Brigade officers said tonight.

The battle was reported to be in progress on Mount Mourikou 12 miles northeast of Kastoria and near the Albanian border. The guerrillas started an advance toward Kastoria, with intentions of isolating the town, army officers said.

Five Are Rescued After Shipwreck

GAY HEAD, Mass., March 12—(AP) —The 56-foot New Bedford fishing vessel Smilyn broke up tonight on rocks southwest of Martha's Vineyard Island and all five of her crew were rescued.

All suffered from exposure and required hospital treatment.

The Smilyn went ashore on No Man's Island, three miles southwest of this town, which is at the southwestern tip of Martha's Vineyard. Coast Guard officers said they were uncertain how the accident occurred.

Capt. Edward Sanches and another crewman rowed out a mile to the fishing vessel Princess, where a distress message was sent to the Coast Guard.

Three others were reported to have swum through the icy water to No Man's Island.

Five CIO Unions Protest Executive Council Action

BALTIMORE, March 12 (AP)—Five Baltimore CIO unions protested today action of their state and city executive councils which voted yesterday to back the national CIO directive against the third party movement.

Representatives of the protesting unions charged the move "is unconstitutional and an open violation of the right of any affiliated organization to determine x x x whom it should support for public office."

The representatives spoke for the National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards; United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers; International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers; United Furniture Workers of America, and the Food, Tobacco and Agricultural Workers of America.

They said they represented about 4,000 Maryland workers.

Marshall Field Sells New York Tabloid, PM

NEW YORK, March 12 (INS)—Employes of the newspaper PM were informed today in a memorandum that Publisher Marshall Field, 3rd, has sold the New York tabloid.

The new publisher was not identified in the memorandum, but he was reported to be Clinton D. McKinnon, former publisher of the San Diego, Calif., Journal.

Exploding Match Fatal

OAKLAND, Calif., March 12 (AP)—Mrs. Hannah Dalton, 55, stepped on a match on the tile floor of her bathroom.

The match exploded and fired a piece of paper. The paper ignited her dress.

She died today of body burns.

Final Arguments Due In ITU Case

INDIANAPOLIS, March 12 (AP) — A federal judge wanted to know today whether the effects of contracts proposed by the International Typographical Union isn't to "compel" publishers not to hire non-union men.

President Woodruff Randolph replied: "No, I don't think so. But if it does have that effect, Judge, it isn't our fault."

He argued that neither the ITU nor the law could compel union printers to work with non-union printers.

Their courtroom exchange ended the testimony in the government's injunction case against Randolph and the ITU.

Final arguments will close the 11-day hearing tomorrow.

Judge Luther M. Swygert must decide whether to order the union not to try to cause the nation's newspaper publishers to discriminate against non-union men in hiring.

Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, has charged that the union's policies violate the Taft-Hartley Act. He has asked for a temporary injunction pending a decision on these policies by the five-man NLRB.

Youth Can't Forget Girl Who Seems To Have Lost Interest In Him

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax

I have been going with a girl 16 for the past seven months. I am 20, but when I first met her she told me she was 17.

We fell in love, but now she tells me that, while she is still very much in love with me, she doesn't want to go with me anymore but wants to go out with different fellows. I really don't know what to do. I have tried to forget her but my heart has a mind of its own. I have tried going out with other girls, but I can't seem to enjoy myself.

"RUSTY"

Dear "Rusty:" I may as well tell you frankly that I am afraid this girl has lost whatever interest she had in you. It is nonsense for anyone to talk about being in love with another person and, at the same time, say that they prefer going out with somebody else.

You should realize that, at 16, a girl is not ready to become serious about any young man, and that you can't expect her to have the same point of view as you have at 20.

It may be difficult to make up your mind that this girl is not for you, but I think, nevertheless, that is what you had better do. While she may be too much on your mind now for you to enjoy the company of other girls, it may well turn out to be different later on, if you will just give it a chance.

Wedding Ring Question

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 30 years old and to be married in June. I have my dead mother's wide gold wedding band. Would it be proper for me to use it as my own wedding ring? If so, would it be proper for my husband-to-be to make necessary repairs on it, since he will be the one to present it to me and place it on my finger in the wedding ceremony? Also, what name, or names, or initials, should be on the inside of the ring? My mother's name is already there. I would so love to wear my own mother's ring, if proper.

What sort of engagement ring would look best with a wide gold wedding ring. I presume a solitaire diamond. I have not yet gotten my engagement ring.

"BRIDE-TO-BE"

Dear "Bride-To-Be": I don't see any impropriety in using your mother's wedding ring if you wish to do so. If you decide to do this, I think it would be the logical thing for your fiance to have the ring put in first-class condition in advance of the ceremony and have it engraved on the inside in whatever way you and he choose.

A solitaire diamond engagement ring of course looks very charming with a plain gold wedding band, but the choice of an engagement ring is again a matter of personal preference, and I think you should give your fiance the pleasure of picking it out himself. I think I would also give him the opportunity to say how he feels about the wedding ring. It may be that it would mean a great deal to him to give you a wedding ring himself, in which case you should be happy to let him do that and simply keep your mother's ring as a treasured heirloom.

The Southern Retort To Truman's Civil Rights Bill

Even the political tyro realizes by this time that the revolt of the South, together with the candidacy of Henry Wallace, is probably going to blow President Truman's chances for re-election sky-high. But there has been far too little analysis of the motivation of Southern senators and representatives who oppose the Truman civil rights program.

Most of the northern Democratic newspapers, and especially the "liberal" press, see the motive as pure racial bigotry. The problem would be a good deal easier to handle if the explanation were that simple. But you can't explain everything by "bigotry" when a high-minded senator like Harry F. Byrd of Virginia is just as vehement in condemning the Truman program as any Democratic county politician in Mississippi.

Byrd represents a state which has had an effective anti-lynch law on its books for 20 years. Virginia has taken the lead in the widespread movement in the South to eradicate the horrible crime of lynching. Many editors in Virginia and other Southern states have been campaigning to remove the poll tax—which white as well as Negro voters have to pay. They feel that real progress has been made in recent years through state action. While they do not defend the electoral, economic or social conditions everywhere in the South, they feel that an attempt to regulate these by Federal action will produce deep unrest and will hurt the very people whom presume to benefit.

What the Southerners resent even more is what they call the "holier-than-thou" assumption in the North, especially in some of the New York press, that the whole South is given over to ignorance, bigotry and racial violence. Pointing out that there was only one lynching in the entire South last year, they ask whether the Federal Government should not interest itself in the repeated murder waves in Chicago. They ask how a Federal poll-tax law can possibly square with the United States Constitution. They point out that the FEPC issue crosses party lines in the North. Resentful of having the finger of shame pointed at them, they ask whether racial discrimination has been eliminated in the North. Did you know, they ask, that it is illegal for an Indian to become a citizen in Arizona or New Mexico?

But most of all the Southerners resent the obvious political motivation of the Truman program. It is an attempt to hold the Democratic big-city vote in the North and to out-maneuver Henry Wallace's radical crowd. They see the Truman program not as a great reform movement but as a piece of unvarnished personal politics. They are prepared to believe the hints of White House politicos that no serious attempt would be made to enforce civil rights laws in the South once they were put on the statute books—for the record.

But that does not lessen the resentment of men like Harry F. Byrd that the whole South is being politically burned to make a Truman holiday.

These facts should be kept in mind not to defend but to understand the attitude of the Southerners in Congress.

Youthful Murderers Are Baffling Best of Minds

No amount of moralizing or pointing with alarm will solve the problem of American boys and girls who turn to murder at the slightest provocation. In a small Missouri town a 17-year-old girl killed her mother when refused permission to go on a trip. Then she killed her father while he slept to keep him from discovering the first crime. "Mother refused to let me go, so I killed her," was her explanation. She expressed no regret, only admitting she did become a bit uneasy afterwards. She since has changed her story.

If this was the first case of the sort it would not be too alarming. But accounts of murders committed by mere children are all too frequent in the news. Denied some simple request teen-agers have shot down parents or beaten them to death. They have killed playmates for no other reason than to express a childish whim. To them murder is as casual as a visit to the movies.

The answer will not be found in a lack of parental care or training. It cannot be said there was no religious influence in the homes. Public schools cannot be blamed. In fact no outside influence is responsible for the breakdown in childish morals or responsibility. Best minds of the nation are considering the problem and finding no answer.

Certainly modern society has not broken down to such an extent that our youth finds encouragement for not only failing to honor their parents, but to murder them when crossed.

The Meson as Key

It didn't appear on Page One in the newspapers. Those who found it in the inside pages, and read it, probably didn't follow it too well—most laymen being far beyond their depth in this part of the field of science. But the story of the production of the meson in the University of California's giant cyclotron was by all odds the most significant news item published on March 9, 1948.

That is an understatement. When the scientists who reported this achievement go so far as to call it "one of the greatest milestones of all time in fundamental atomic research," it seems clear in the future this year will be starred in the history of science because it brought mankind across a new threshold of knowledge. Or perhaps it will be said that this decade of the 1940s was chiefly memorable for this mighty advance. Or this Twentieth Century.

At present the ability to produce mesons appears to have no practical application. But it means that scientists now have a key that may make it possible for them to unlock the remaining mysteries of the atom. When and if they understand the structure of that tiny building block of matter they may be able to perform miracles as great or greater as the one represented by the atomic bomb.

American scientists were largely responsible for this long stride forward. But Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, inventor of the cyclotron and director of the laboratory, who made the announcement, gave credit to Dr. Cesare Lattes, young Brazilian researcher who has been working at Bristol, England. It was by combining techniques used at Bristol and Berkeley that the thing was done.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Going Through Measles

Youngsters do not always react in the same way. In some, the infection is only a nuisance; others are deathly sick and require skilled care. The older child seems to have the advantage in this respect, withstanding the disease much better than his younger sister or brother.

Dr. Van Dellen

No vaccines are available today that offer complete protection against measles. This is in contrast to vaccination for smallpox or toxoid for diphtheria. There are serums, however, that can be used when exposure has taken place and the ailment is likely to develop within a wek or two. Absolute safety is not provided but symptoms are modified and the chances of complications are minimized. One such preparation is immune globulin which will help even though administered only the day before the rash breaks out. It is most useful, therefore, among tots of pre-school age or younger who have been exposed.

Once the malady appears, the youngster ought to be kept in bed until the temperature has remained normal for three days. A warm room is perfect but the air should be fresh. The shades need not be drawn but since light sometimes hurts the eyes, colored glasses can be worn or the bed turned in such a way that the rays do not strike the face. Petroleum jelly may be used on the lids if they have a tendency to stick together. Aspirin relieves headaches and calamine lotion or zinc oxide diminishes itching. If the thermometer reading is excessive, frequent sponging with cool water is valuable. Should the glands in the neck swell, ice packs or cold applications ease discomfort.

Those who feel miserable do not care to eat but usually tolerate fluids and semi-solids. Hence the menus for a day or two may consist of orange juice, broth, cooked cereals, toast, apple sauce, or puddings. As appetite improves, cooked vegetables, fruits, and various desserts may be added. Meats, eggs, and fats seldom appeal to any one who has fever but are advised during the recovery stage and, when combined with cod liver oil and vitamin B, help to increase strength. An annoying "hacking" will interfere with sleep and it is here that cough medicines containing codeine, paregoric, or Brown mixture are soothing. Lying in bed leads to sluggishness of the bowl but a simple laxative like milk of magnesia will solve the problem. Daily bathing must not be neglected because when the temperature is up and down, perspiration is augmented.

Measles is contagious and since the cough spray is carried about five feet, anything within that range can be considered contaminated. This is true of toys, books, towels, face cloths, etc. The disease can be spread if such objects are removed from the sickroom and handled by other susceptible members of the family before being cleansed. Those who attend the patient should be aware of this; furthermore, they must wash their hands on leaving the room. To protect the clothes, a gown or apron should be available in the sickroom and worn over the outer garments.

Complications must always be watched for. The physician should be called if the ears ache, the cough becomes more severe, or the temperature does not subside. The wonder drugs are of great value in the circumstances and may prevent a long period of disability.

Gambling Fever

B. P. writes: What can be done about an otherwise intelligent man who plays the horses to such an extent that he is continually in debt and cannot buy clothes or other essentials even though he earns good money in his job?

REPLY

Once gambling "gets into the blood" it is difficult to cure. But your friend is hardly intelligent if he cannot keep his debts down to a level he can afford. Some of these individuals need psychiatric care.

Drooping Lid

B. T. writes: One of my eyelids has fallen. Is there an operation to put it back into place?

REPLY

Yes, but whether such a course is feasible will depend upon the cause.

Painting and Pregnancy

Mrs. H. writes: Is it harmful for a pregnant woman to inhale the fumes from wet paint? I have heard that miscarriage may follow.

REPLY

I doubt if miscarriage would result but some women develop nausea or headache, particularly during the early months of pregnancy.

Go Ahead

Mrs. M. writes: Is it safe for a person with an active goiter to have her varicose veins treated?

REPLY

Yes—any time you and your physician decide. But be sure that the veins are amenable to treatment. If your thyroid is overactive, however, this condition should take precedent over the vein problem.

Discolored Nail

O. P. writes: What causes the big toe nail to turn black and blue? Could wearing a tight shoe be responsible?

REPLY

Yes, but the disorder usually requires an accident like dropping a brick or having an obese woman step on it.

Only By Surgery

J. K. writes: Can knock-knees in an adult be helped by exercise?

REPLY

No—not even that provided by their knocking each other as the subject walks. Surgery is the only cure.

Truman "Shot From Hip" In Announcing His Determination To Run Again; Truman Still Hopeful On Palestine Solution; Army's Lobby On UMT

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 12—The President of the United States was blazing mad and shooting from the hip when Democratic chairman Howard McGrath and executive director Gael Sullivan went in to see him earlier this week. They had expected to have a quiet talk over political conditions and warn Truman of growing revolt inside the party.

But they never had a chance.

Once inside the door, Truman said he was fed up with the lack of loyalty by certain party leaders. He blamed the southern revolt on Senator Byrd of Virginia and described Byrd as the "finest Republican in the Democratic party."

The two callers almost gasped at the vehemence of the tirade.

The President said he wanted his candidacy announced at once. He wasn't going to wait until the meeting of the Democratic executive committee scheduled for later in the week, he said, indicating that he didn't want to have it appear that he had waited for them to ask him to run.

Turning to Matt Connelly, his secretary, who was in the room with McGrath and Sullivan, he asked his advice on the form of the announcement. Connally suggested that McGrath announce it to reporters when they asked him what he had talked to the President about.

"Suppose they don't ask me," suggested McGrath.

"Even if they don't ask, you go ahead and announce it," insisted Truman.

Truman also leveled a blast at the "no-good columnist Drew Pearson" and congratulated McGrath for having issued a statement denying a Pearson report that he, McGrath, would like to resign as national chairman.

"It was the best thing you ever did," encouraged the President, adding that McGrath should issue a second blast against Pearson. (McGrath did so at 11:15 that night.)

Palestine Solution Still Possible

By this time, the President had quieted down somewhat, and McGrath had a chance to get in a word about Palestine.

"Come over here, Howard," replied the President, motioning to a big globe.

He pointed to a line on the map where the U. S. Army had built a railroad north from the Gulf of Persia and explained that the Russians were out to get this rail line plus all of the Arab oil regions and the Eastern Mediterranean. At one time, Truman added, he thought he had the Palestine problem all settled, then things turned out differently.

"While I was in Florida I put a lot of time in on this," the President said, adding that he expected to come up with something right away.

Reaching into the third drawer of his desk, the President took out a copy of the Palestine report prepared in part by Bartley Crum of San Francisco who visited the Near East with the Anglo-American Commission.

"That's my bible," said Mr. Truman.

He explained that he thought he had British Foreign Minister Bevin persuaded to put the Crum ideas on Palestine into effect, but that Bevin had backed out.

Note—The Anglo - American Commission, which Truman referred to as the "Crum Report," recommended a trusteeship for Palestine under the United Nations and urged that Britain continue its mandate until the trusteeship could be set up. It opposed any separate Jewish or Arab state, warning that such division would cause world-wide disorders. The report also asked for the immigration of 100,000 Jews into Palestine immediately, but urged that other countries also open their doors, since Palestine would not be able to hold all Jewish refugees.

Forgotten Vice President

McGrath had intended talking to Truman about a Vice-Presidential running mate, and planned to suggest Senator Lister Hill of Alabama. He thought a southerner on the ticket would win back the South, and that Hill would also be liberal enough to suit the North.

Knocked off base by the vehemence of the President's tirade, however, McGrath forgot all about mentioning Hill's name.

The Army's Lobby

At a closed meeting of the House Expenditures Committee the other day, Ohio's Congressman Clarence Brown, a power in Republican circles, erupted with indignation.

"The military," he exploded, "has put over a colossal propaganda program on the American people, and caused some people to get unduly excited over universal military training."

He urged his colleagues to back up a subcommittee report by Congressman Forrest Harness, Indiana Republican, condemning the Army's propaganda activities.

"Obviously," charged Brown, "these military people are high-pressuring universal military training in order to keep their jobs. It is not the proper approach to preparedness, and they know it. So that they can hang on to their power and authority, they are willing to have the Government pay for false military security."

Massachusetts' John McCormack, Democratic whip, took issue with Brown over the necessity of military training, but kept tongue-in-cheek over the Army's lobbying. The report presented such a clear-cut case of Army lobbying that expenditures chairman Clare Hoffman of Michigan wanted to usurp the report from subcommittee chairman Harness and report it to the House himself.

Harness, who wanted to present the report without submitting it to the full committee, got Congressman James Wadsworth, New York Republican, to offer a motion giving him that right. But Hoffman angrily objected, and the committee backed him up.

So Hoffman now will get the publicity.

Outcome Of Italian Election Will Profoundly Affect U. S.

By MARK SULLIVAN

To be called on to turn from a Republican primary election in New Hampshire to a general election in Italy, is one of many evidences of the strange and enlarged world into which America has lived. Doubtless Many of our people will be slow in turning from the one to the other; and may never grasp the complexities of Italian politics, or become as familiar with the names of the central figures there — de Gasperi, Togliatti and others — as with Dewey and Stassen who contended in New Hampshire or the other aspirants for the American Presidency.

But our policy-makers in Washington know well the vital meaning of the Italian election to us. They follow the Iatlian campaign intently, for they know that the outcome, on April 19, will profoundly affect the United States. One possible outcome—a gain by the Communist Party going so far as to enable them later to seize the Italian government — would call on us for a specific decision, as fateful as any we have ever made.

Could Present Stark Alternatives

Though our policy-makers scrupulously refrain from saying it, though they strive to prevent passion from arising among our people about it, the fact is the decision entailed by Communist seizure of Italy, if it should take place, would be comparable to the one that confronted us in the recent world war. Persons less restrained, including members of Congress, do not hesitate to say that advance of Russia and Communism as far toward us as seizure of Italy would be, would present us with stark alternatives. One would be to let the totalitarian regime of Communism, as intolerable as that of Naziism, go on and dominate the world, including us. The other would be to resist, to say to Russian Communism, in effect, "So far but no further, the iron curtain must not be moved closer to us than it now is."

The present Italian government is anti-Communist. Its head, Premier de Gasperi, has taken the firmest steps taken by any government on the continent of Europe toward checking inflation and other measures for restoring the country to the economic health that is an antidote to Communism. He is supported by the conservative forces and sentiment of the country, including acute concern felt by the Catholic Church, the Church knows well what a Communist seizure of Italy would mean to religion, especially to the Vatican.

In an indirect yet concrete way, de Gasperi is strengthened by us and our policy of help for European recovery. Our help makes at once for economic restoration of the country and for prestige of the existing government. In an attempt at a Communist coup last fall, the de Gasperi government was strengthened by the emergency European relief which the special session of Congress appropriated. We are turning over to Italy, by authority of Congress, a number of merchant ships. The expectation of relief under the Marshall plan is a principal factor in the Italian campaign, and this is one reason for the urgency with which the plan is pressed in Congress, in the hope of passage in time for relief to Italy before the election.

Togliatti Ablest Communist

The head of the Communists, Togliatti, is the ablest Communist leader and strategist outside Moscow. The present strength of the party, as represented in parliament, is some 18 per cent. The Communists do not expect to increase this percentage materially in the coming election, it is not the Communist technique to aim for a majority. They rely upon what they call a "peoples' bloc"—again a Communist technique—in which they are a majority and the remainder is a portion of the Socialist party, though not including all that school of thought.

If the "peoples' bloc" can win close to 50 percent in the coming election, it could demand corresponding representation in the cabinet. The Communists, again following a standard technique, would demand for themselves and maneuver to get, four strategic cabinet posts—the Ministry of the Interior which controls the police, and the posts which control the courts, and public information and censorship. Thus buttressed, the Communists would proceed toward a seizure of the same sort and by the same methods by which they achieved their recent coup in Czechoslovakia.

The decision and policy called for from us would not wait until the actual coup. It would be called for if and as soon as the outcome of the coming election should show the coup in the making.

American Answer To Russia Is Surely Being Formulated

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 12—Slowly but surely the American answer to Russian aggression is being formulated.

The situation growing out of Communistic advances in the Far East, which threaten to make China a base of operations for Russia, and the problems arising out of the Communist seizure of Czechoslovakia and the threatened seizure of Italy and France have all combined to make inevitable some concrete step on the part of the United States government.

To issue an ultimatum would force a showdown and perhaps prevent an honorable retreat. It might provoke a war that could be avoided.

To encourage a debate in the United Nations Security Council is a step that has been proved futile in impressing Moscow.

It all adds up to the likelihood that a conference between high officials of the American and Russian governments is the only step that can be taken, because diplomacy conducted with klieg lights does not permit adjustment of vexatious disputes.

Any conference that might be held, however, could easily be the forerunner of public exchanges, but, if such an event occurred, it would be recognition that strong words would be followed by military assistance to the countries of Europe most in danger from further Russian aggression.

Meeting of Minds Sought

President Truman has let it be known that no "official approach" looking toward a meeting of high officers of the two governments has been made. From this it may be inferred that informal efforts to get the two governments together have been made and that Russia has taken the initiative. In view of the fact that such informal action occurred, according to authentic reports, just before the Czechoslovakian tragedy, it may well be that the United States government did not feel inclined to enter into such parleys.

The situation now has veered to the point where American officials may want the conference if only to say in unmistakable language that the end of the jockeying or bargaining on the various items in dispute between the two countries—from Korea to Berlin and Vienna—is now at hand.

If the American government were to choose to speak plainly and forthrightly to Russia in private conference and issue a warning there that war could conceivably result from further aggression and refusal to settle pending problems amicably, it would be because such a procedure would allow for Soviet reversal without public humiliation or criticism from within her own country.

As dangerous as the situation appears on the surface, in the sense that war could come quickly, it is equally logical to say that overnight the whole situation may be transformed and an era of peace introduced.

There has all along been a school of thought which has believed that Russia was bluffing her way forward in Europe and that she hoped to take advantage of a traditional isolationism in America which would forsake the European continent altogether and, in effect, abandon it to Russian caprice.

Basic American Viewpoint

But events in recent months and various polls show that Republican and Democratic parties are reflecting the basic American viewpoint, which is that Russia must halt her aggression or face the consequences. If Russia ignores the American trend in policy, it seems certain that billions will be spent to build up manpower and equipment among the western democracies for a broad defense of Europe and the world against further aggression.

The fact that the Republican leaders of the House have just agreed to insist on military assistance to China and that the Marshall Plan billions could be made available in an emergency for military aid in Europe should impress Moscow that, despite the election year, Americans are thinking alike and working together against Russian aggression.

The opportunity for an over-all settlement with Russia by peaceful means is at hand if the Russians will only see the folly of provoking American opinion still further. Once an over-all settlement of the major problems is reached, a rapid deflation of war talk everywhere would occur and all attention could be concentrated on economic recovery.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Jan Masaryk

BIG and gay was Jan Masaryk. A cosmopolitan, half-American by birth, he was as much at home in New York as in London or his own Prague. He and Eduard Benes were the authors of their country's Janus-faced policy—the policy of looking East and West simultaneously.

And now he is dead. It will long be argued how he came to die so suddenly at the age of 61. We do know that it was through a window, but not whether he jumped out of that window the way Japanese commit hara-kari to save their honor and for the glory of their race, or whether he was thrown out of the window by murderous opponents. We do not know whether he was killed before he was thrown from the window or whether that was left to the inevitable—a word the Marxists love.

At any rate, he is dead. Jan goes to his Maker to ask forgiveness for his sins, for he believed that he could save his country by appeasement and he has lost his country by appeasement—lost it perhaps irrevocably. When he became conscious of Czechoslovakia's fate, what could he do? To oppose Stalin would mean that he would be sent to some such place as Yakutsk where he could sit in servitude with other so-called democrats to discuss what might have happened had they been as wise before as after the treachery. Such a life was not for Jan Masaryk.

The alternative was to be another Tito or Dimitrov, a Quisling of a foreign power, a slave, a liar, a scoundrel, a thief of his own people's bread. That Jan Masaryk could not do. And so he died.

What has happened to Jan Masaryk may happen to the Pope after April 18. For should Togliatti take Italy, what greater prize could Stalin have than the Holy Father? That would be when the Hammer and Sickle fly over the Vatican and the paintings of Sistine Chapel are shipped to Russia as booty! That is the next step—and the world is quiet about it.

And what about our own Quislings who have discovered a charm in appeasement. Henry Wallace and his followers, sincere or opportunistic, Communist slaves or misguided appeasers, wise men who believe in myths or morons who follow voices—they are like the Jan Masaryks of Czechoslovakia who play with the nation's life on the off-chance that their gamble will not bring to it a death by violence and shame.

When I see men and women wearing big blue buttons with the name, Wallace, across it, I cannot help but wonder how long it will be before that blue button is changed to red, before the dupes are turned into slaves.

Jan Masaryk could answer that question. His death answers that question. How many men have been killed for their beliefs since the Oriental despot from the Caucasus sat himself on Ivan the Terrible's throne? Stalin had killed, by one process or another, nearly all the old Bolsheviks, including his peer and Lenin's associate, Leon Trotzky. He had killed every outstanding figure of the Revolution that elevated him—every one that paved the way for his rise to power. Bukharin, Zinoviev, Kamenev, Tukhachevsky—the list is long and it is futile to pile name upon name, except to note the latest one, Jan Masaryk, who erred only in that he believed Stalin at all.

And the lesson in all this for us is that those who still counsel appeasement are the enemies of this nation. Let us label them as such. They have willfully set themselves aside as associates of those who murder to achieve power. Let us treat them as such. When judges of our courts lean over backwards to give these Quislings the benefit of the doubt, let us not mistake fatuity for justice. It is too late not to recognize that these devils have voluntarily renounced the rights of man by becoming the slaves of a tyrant. Let us treat them with the contempt they fully deserved.

Farewell, Jan Masaryk. You died better than you lived.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

The Peace Of Trust

Religion is far more essential in this world than any amount of material wealth. Jesus sought to impress this fact upon that "rich young Ruler" who became attracted to his words and personality, and so went to him for advice. Jesus, sensing his great love for money, told him to go and sell all that he had and then to come and follow Him. That was too much for the young Ruler, who turned and went away "sorrowfully." It is not recorded that he ever returned.

No nation can long survive that leaves God out of its rulership. None can read Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address without sensing Lincoln's deep dependence upon God. Indeed, half of the address is given over to a discussion along these lines. "The Almighty has his own purposes," he said, and then he closed with those immortal words: "With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in."

I have often quoted that beautiful expression — "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because he trusteth in thee." It comes to me every night as I put myself to bed for rest. Trust in God will give to anyone perfect peace—of mind, heart, and spirit.

Few books of the past fifty years have breathed peace, trust, and eternal hope as that rare and treasured little classic, born to be immortal — "The Roadmender," by Michael Fairless. She wrote under a man's name, her real name being Margaret Fairless Barber. It is one of the most beloved books in my library. Over and over again have I read it, and told others about it. The author died before the book was published — but her spirit lives triumphant in a troubled world. She said: "After all, what do we ask of life, here or indeed hereafter, but leave to serve, to live, to commune with our fellow-men and with ourselves; and from the lap of earth to look up into the face of God?"

Another prized little volume is "Doctor Johnson's Prayers," recently published, edited by Elton Trueblood. Each prayer is an example of the trust that a great mind placed in God.

The Southern Retort To Truman's Civil Rights Bill

Even the political tyro realizes by this time that the revolt of the South, together with the candidacy of Henry Wallace, is probably going to blow President Truman's chances for re-election sky-high. But there has been far too little analysis of the motivation of Southern senators and representatives who oppose the Truman civil rights program.

Most of the northern Democratic newspapers, and especially the "liberal" press, see the motive as pure racial bigotry. The problem would be a good deal easier to handle if the explanation were that simple. But you can't explain everything by "bigotry" when a high-minded senator like Harry F. Byrd of Virginia is just as vehement in condemning the Truman program as any Democratic county politician in Mississippi.

Byrd represents a state which has had an effective anti-lynch law on its books for 20 years. Virginia has taken the lead in the widespread movement in the South to eradicate the horrible crime of lynching. Many editors in Virginia and other Southern states have been campaigning to remove the poll tax—which white as well as Negro voters have to pay. They feel that real progress has been made in recent years through state action. While they do not defend the electoral, economic or social conditions everywhere in the South, they feel that an attempt to regulate these by Federal action will produce deep unrest and will hurt the very people whom presume to benefit.

What the Southerners resent even more is what they call the "holier-than-thou" assumption in the North, especially in some of the New York press, that the whole South is given over to ignorance, bigotry and racial violence. Pointing out that there was only one lynching in the entire South last year, they ask whether the Federal Government should not interest itself in the repeated murder waves in Chicago. They ask how a Federal poll-tax law can possibly square with the United States Constitution. They point out that the FEPC issue crosses party lines in the North. Resentful of having the finger of shame pointed at them, they ask whether racial discrimination has been eliminated in the North. Did you know, they ask, that it is illegal for an Indian to become a citizen in Arizona or New Mexico?

But most of all the Southerners resent the obvious political motivation of the Truman program. It is an attempt to hold the Democratic big-city vote in the North and to out-maneuver Henry Wallace's radical crowd. They see the Truman program not as a great reform movement but as a piece of unvarnished personal politics. They are prepared to believe the hints of White House politicos that no serious attempt would be made to enforce civil rights laws in the South once they were put on the statute books—for the record.

But that does not lessen the resentment of men like Harry F. Byrd that the whole South is being politically burned to make a Truman holiday.

These facts should be kept in mind not to defend but to understand the attitude of the Southerners in Congress.

Youthful Murderers Are Baffling Best of Minds

No amount of moralizing or pointing with alarm will solve the problem of American boys and girls who turn to murder at the slightest provocation. In a small Missouri town a 17-year-old girl killed her mother when refused permission to go on a trip. Then she killed her father while he slept to keep him from discovering the first crime. "Mother refused to let me go, so I killed her," was her explanation. She expressed no regret, only admitting she did become a bit uneasy afterwards. She since has changed her story.

If this was the first case of the sort it would not be too alarming. But accounts of murders committed by mere children are all too frequent in the news. Denied some simple request teen-agers have shot down parents or beaten them to death. They have killed playmates for no other reason than to express a childish whim. To them murder is as casual as a visit to the movies.

The answer will not be found in a lack of parental care or training. It cannot be said there was no religious influence in the homes. Public schools cannot be blamed. In fact no outside influence is responsible for the breakdown in childish morals or responsibility. Best minds of the nation are considering the problem and finding no answer.

Certainly modern society has not broken down to such an extent that our youth finds encouragement for not only failing to honor their parents, but to murder them when crossed.

The Meson as Key

It didn't appear on Page One in the newspapers. Those who found it in the inside pages, and read it, probably didn't follow it too well—most laymen being far beyond their depth in this part of the field of science. But the story of the production of the meson in the University of California's giant cyclotron was by all odds the most significant news item published on March 9, 1948.

That is an understatement. When the scientists who reported this achievement go so far as to call it "one of the greatest milestones of all time in fundamental atomic research," it seems clear in the future this year will be starred in the history of science because it brought mankind across a new threshold of knowledge. Or perhaps it will be said that this decade of the 1940s was chiefly memorable for this mighty advance. Or this Twentieth Century.

At present the ability to produce mesons appears to have no practical application. But it means that scientists now have a key that may make it possible for them to unlock the remaining mysteries of the atom. When and if they understand the structure of that tiny building block of matter they may be able to perform miracles as great or greater as the one represented by the atomic bomb.

American scientists were largely responsible for this long stride forward. But Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, inventor of the cyclotron and director of the laboratory, who made the announcement, gave credit to Dr. Cesare Lattes, young Brazilian researcher who has been working at Bristol, England. It was by combining techniques used at Bristol and Berkeley that the thing was done.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Going Through Measles

Youngsters do not always react in the same way. In some, the infection is only a nuisance; others are deathly sick and require skilled care. The older child seems to have the advantage in this respect, withstanding the disease much better than his younger sister or brother.

Dr. Van Dellen

No vaccines are available today that offer complete protection against measles. This is in contrast to vaccination for smallpox or toxoid for diphtheria. There are serums, however, that can be used when exposure has taken place and the ailment is likely to develop within a wek or two. Absolute safety is not provided but symptoms are modified and the chances of complications are minimized. One such preparation is immune globulin which will help even though administered only the day before the rash breaks out. It is most useful, therefore, among tots of pre-school age or younger who have been exposed.

Once the malady appears, the youngster ought to be kept in bed until the temperature has remained normal for three days. A warm room is perfect but the air should be fresh. The shades need not be drawn but since light sometimes hurts the eyes, colored glasses can be worn or the bed turned in such a way that the rays do not strike the face. Petroleum jelly may be used on the lids if they have a tendency to stick together. Aspirin relieves headaches and calamine lotion or zinc oxide diminishes itching. If the thermometer reading is excessive, frequent sponging with cool water is valuable. Should the glands in the neck swell, ice packs or cold applications ease discomfort.

Those who feel miserable do not care to eat but usually tolerate fluids and semi-solids. Hence the menus for a day or two may consist of orange juice, broth, cooked cereals, toast, apple sauce, or puddings. As appetite improves, cooked vegetables, fruits, and various desserts may be added. Meats, eggs, and fats seldom appeal to any one who has fever but are advised during the recovery stage and, when combined with cod liver oil and vitamin B, help to increase strength. An annoying "hacking" will interfere with sleep and it is here that cough medicines containing codeine, paregoric, or Brown mixture are soothing. Lying in bed leads to sluggishness of the bowl but a simple laxative like milk of magnesia will solve the problem. Daily bathing must not be neglected because when the temperature is up and down, perspiration is augmented.

Measles is contagious and since the cough spray is carried about five feet, anything within that range can be considered contaminated. This is true of toys, books, towels, face cloths, etc. The disease can be spread if such objects are removed from the sickroom and handled by other susceptible members of the family before being cleansed. Those who attend the patient should be aware of this; furthermore, they must wash their hands on leaving the room. To protect the clothes, a gown or apron should be available in the sickroom and worn over the outer garments.

Complications must always be watched for. The physician should be called if the ears ache, the cough becomes more severe, or the temperature does not subside. The wonder drugs are of great value in the circumstances and may prevent a long period of disability.

Gambling Fever

B. P. writes: What can be done about an otherwise intelligent man who plays the horses to such an extent that he is continually in debt and cannot buy clothes or other essentials even though he earns good money in his job?

REPLY

Once gambling "gets into the blood" it is difficult to cure. But your friend is hardly intelligent if he cannot keep his debts down to a level he can afford. Some of these individuals need psychiatric care.

Drooping Lid

B. T. writes: One of my eyelids has fallen. Is there an operation to put it back into place?

REPLY

Yes, but whether such a course is feasible will depend upon the cause.

Painting and Pregnancy

Mrs. H. writes: Is it harmful for a pregnant woman to inhale the fumes from wet paint? I have heard that miscarriage may follow.

REPLY

I doubt if miscarriage would result but some women develop nausea or headache, particularly during the early months of pregnancy.

Go Ahead

Mrs. M. writes: Is it safe for a person with an active goiter to have her varicose veins treated?

REPLY

Yes—any time you and your physician decide. But be sure that the veins are amenable to treatment. If your thyroid is overactive, however, this condition should take precedent over the vein problem.

Discolored Nail

O. P. writes: What causes the big toe nail to turn black and blue? Could wearing a tight shoe be responsible?

REPLY

Yes, but the disorder usually requires an accident like dropping a brick or having an obese woman step on it.

Only By Surgery

J. K. writes: Can knock-knees in an adult be helped by exercise?

REPLY

No—not even that provided by their knocking each other as the subject walks. Surgery is the only cure.

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 12—The President of the United States was blazing mad and shooting from the hip when Democratic chairman Howard McGrath and executive director Gael Sullivan went in to see him earlier this week. They had expected to have a quiet talk over political conditions and warn Truman of growing revolt inside the party.

But they never had a chance.

Once inside the door, Truman said he was fed up with the lack of loyalty by certain party leaders. He blamed the southern revolt on Senator Byrd of Virginia and described Byrd as the "finest Republican in the Democratic party."

The two callers almost gasped at the vehemence of the tirade.

The President said he wanted his candidacy announced at once. He wasn't going to wait until the meeting of the Democratic executive committee scheduled for later in the week, he said, indicating that he didn't want to have it appear that he had waited for them to ask him to run.

Turning to Matt Connelly, his secretary, who was in the room with McGrath and Sullivan, he asked his advice on the form of the announcement. Connally suggested that McGrath announce it to reporters when they asked him what he had talked to the President about.

"Suppose they don't ask me," suggested McGrath.

"Even if they don't ask, you go ahead and announce it," insisted Truman.

Truman also leveled a blast at the "no-good columnist Drew Pearson" and congratulated McGrath for having issued a statement denying a Pearson report that he, McGrath, would like to resign as national chairman.

"It was the best thing you ever did," encouraged the President, adding that McGrath should issue a second blast against Pearson. (McGrath did so at 11:15 that night.)

Palestine Solution Still Possible

By this time, the President had quieted down somewhat, and McGrath had a chance to get in a word about Palestine.

"Come over here, Howard," replied the President, motioning to a big globe.

He pointed to a line on the map where the U. S. Army had built a railroad north from the Gulf of Persia and explained that the Russians were out to get this rail line plus all of the Arab oil regions and the Eastern Mediterranean. At one time, Truman added, he thought he had the Palestine problem all settled, then things turned out differently.

"While I was in Florida I put a lot of time in on this," the President said, adding that he expected to come up with something right away.

Reaching into the third drawer of his desk, the President took out a copy of the Palestine report prepared in part by Bartley Crum of San Francisco who visited the Near East with the Anglo-American Commission.

"That's my bible," said Mr. Truman.

He explained that he thought he had British Foreign Minister Bevin persuaded to put the Crum ideas on Palestine into effect, but that Bevin had backed out.

Note—The Anglo - American Commission, which Truman referred to as the "Crum Report," recommended a trusteeship for Palestine under the United Nations and urged that Britain continue its mandate until the trusteeship could be set up. It opposed any separate Jewish or Arab state, warning that such division would cause world-wide disorders. The report also asked for the immigration of 100,000 Jews into Palestine immediately, but urged that other countries also open their doors, since Palestine would not be able to hold all Jewish refugees.

Forgotten Vice President

McGrath had intended talking to Truman about a Vice-Presidential running mate, and planned to suggest Senator Lister Hill of Alabama. He thought a southerner on the ticket would win back the South, and that Hill would also be liberal enough to suit the North.

Knocked off base by the vehemence of the President's tirade, however, McGrath forgot all about mentioning Hill's name.

The Army's Lobby

At a closed meeting of the House Expenditures Committee the other day, Ohio's Congressman Clarence Brown, a power in Republican circles, erupted with indignation.

"The military," he exploded, "has put over a colossal propaganda program on the American people, and caused some people to get unduly excited over universal military training."

He urged his colleagues to back up a subcommittee report by Congressman Forrest Harness, Indiana Republican, condemning the Army's propaganda activities.

"Obviously," charged Brown, "these military people are high-pressuring universal military training in order to keep their jobs. It is not the proper approach to preparedness, and they know it. So that they can hang on to their power and authority, they are willing to have the Government pay for false military security."

Massachusetts' John McCormack, Democratic whip, took issue with Brown over the necessity of military training, but kept tongue-in-cheek over the Army's lobbying. The report presented such a clear-cut case of Army lobbying that expenditures chairman Clare Hoffman of Michigan wanted to usurp the report from subcommittee chairman Harness and report it to the House himself.

Harness, who wanted to present the report without submitting it to the full committee, got Congressman James Wadsworth, New York Republican, to offer a motion giving him that right. But Hoffman angrily objected, and the committee backed him up.

So Hoffman now will get the publicity.

Outcome Of Italian Election Will Profoundly Affect U. S.

By MARK SULLIVAN

To be called on to turn from a Republican primary election in New Hampshire to a general election in Italy, is one of many evidences of the strange and enlarged world into which America has lived. Doubtless Many of our people will be slow in turning from the one to the other; and may never grasp the complexities of Italian politics, or become as familiar with the names of the central figures there — de Gasperi, Togliatti and others — as with Dewey and Stassen who contended in New Hampshire or the other aspirants for the American Presidency.

But our policy-makers in Washington know well the vital meaning of the Italian election to us. They follow the Iatlian campaign intently, for they know that the outcome, on April 19, will profoundly affect the United States. One possible outcome—a gain by the Communist Party going so far as to enable them later to seize the Italian government — would call on us for a specific decision, as fateful as any we have ever made.

Could Present Stark Alternatives

Though our policy-makers scrupulously refrain from saying it, though they strive to prevent passion from arising among our people about it, the fact is the decision entailed by Communist seizure of Italy, if it should take place, would be comparable to the one that confronted us in the recent world war. Persons less restrained, including members of Congress, do not hesitate to say that advance of Russia and Communism as far toward us as seizure of Italy would be, would present us with stark alternatives. One would be to let the totalitarian regime of Communism, as intolerable as that of Naziism, go on and dominate the world, including us. The other would be to resist, to say to Russian Communism, in effect, "So far but no further, the iron curtain must not be moved closer to us than it now is."

The present Italian government is anti-Communist. Its head, Premier de Gasperi, has taken the firmest steps taken by any government on the continent of Europe toward checking inflation and other measures for restoring the country to the economic health that is an antidote to Communism. He is supported by the conservative forces and sentiment of the country, including acute concern felt by the Catholic Church, the Church knows well what a Communist seizure of Italy would mean to religion, especially to the Vatican.

In an indirect yet concrete way, de Gasperi is strengthened by us and our policy of help for European recovery. Our help makes at once for economic restoration of the country and for prestige of the existing government. In an attempt at a Communist coup last fall, the de Gasperi government was strengthened by the emergency European relief which the special session of Congress appropriated. We are turning over to Italy, by authority of Congress, a number of merchant ships. The expectation of relief under the Marshall plan is a principal factor in the Italian campaign, and this is one reason for the urgency with which the plan is pressed in Congress, in the hope of passage in time for relief to Italy before the election.

Togliatti Ablest Communist

The head of the Communists, Togliatti, is the ablest Communist leader and strategist outside Moscow. The present strength of the party, as represented in parliament, is some 18 per cent. The Communists do not expect to increase this percentage materially in the coming election, it is not the Communist technique to aim for a majority. They rely upon what they call a "peoples' bloc"—again a Communist technique—in which they are a majority and the remainder is a portion of the Socialist party, though not including all that school of thought.

If the "peoples' bloc" can win close to 50 percent in the coming election, it could demand corresponding representation in the cabinet. The Communists, again following a standard technique, would demand for themselves and maneuver to get, four strategic cabinet posts—the Ministry of the Interior which controls the police, and the posts which control the courts, and public information and censorship. Thus buttressed, the Communists would proceed toward a seizure of the same sort and by the same methods by which they achieved their recent coup in Czechoslovakia.

The decision and policy called for from us would not wait until the actual coup. It would be called for if and as soon as the outcome of the coming election should show the coup in the making.

American Answer To Russia Is Surely Being Formulated

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 12—Slowly but surely the American answer to Russian aggression is being formulated.

The situation growing out of Communistic advances in the Far East, which threaten to make China a base of operations for Russia, and the problems arising out of the Communist seizure of Czechoslovakia and the threatened seizure of Italy and France have all combined to make inevitable some concrete step on the part of the United States government.

To issue an ultimatum would force a showdown and perhaps prevent an honorable retreat. It might provoke a war that could be avoided.

To encourage a debate in the United Nations Security Council is a step that has been proved futile in impressing Moscow.

It all adds up to the likelihood that a conference between high officials of the American and Russian governments is the only step that can be taken, because diplomacy conducted with klieg lights does not permit adjustment of vexatious disputes.

Any conference that might be held, however, could easily be the forerunner of public exchanges, but, if such an event occurred, it would be recognition that strong words would be followed by military assistance to the countries of Europe most in danger from further Russian aggression.

Meeting of Minds Sought

President Truman has let it be known that no "official approach" looking toward a meeting of high officers of the two governments has been made. From this it may be inferred that informal efforts to get the two governments together have been made and that Russia has taken the initiative. In view of the fact that such informal action occurred, according to authentic reports, just before the Czechoslovakian tragedy, it may well be that the United States government did not feel inclined to enter into such parleys.

The situation now has veered to the point where American officials may want the conference if only to say in unmistakable language that the end of the jockeying or bargaining on the various items in dispute between the two countries—from Korea to Berlin and Vienna—is now at hand.

If the American government were to choose to speak plainly and forthrightly to Russia in private conference and issue a warning there that war could conceivably result from further aggression and refusal to settle pending problems amicably, it would be because such a procedure would allow for Soviet reversal without public humiliation or criticism from within her own country.

As dangerous as the situation appears on the surface, in the sense that war could come quickly, it is equally logical to say that overnight the whole situation may be transformed and an era of peace introduced.

There has all along been a school of thought which has believed that Russia was bluffing her way forward in Europe and that she hoped to take advantage of a traditional isolationism in America which would forsake the European continent altogether and, in effect, abandon it to Russian caprice.

Basic American Viewpoint

But events in recent months and various polls show that Republican and Democratic parties are reflecting the basic American viewpoint, which is that Russia must halt her aggression or face the consequences. If Russia ignores the American trend in policy, it seems certain that billions will be spent to build up manpower and equipment among the western democracies for a broad defense of Europe and the world against further aggression.

The fact that the Republican leaders of the House have just agreed to insist on military assistance to China and that the Marshall Plan billions could be made available in an emergency for military aid in Europe should impress Moscow that, despite the election year, Americans are thinking alike and working together against Russian aggression.

The opportunity for an over-all settlement with Russia by peaceful means is at hand if the Russians will only see the folly of provoking American opinion still further. Once an over-all settlement of the major problems is reached, a rapid deflation of war talk everywhere would occur and all attention could be concentrated on economic recovery.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Jan Masaryk

BIG and gay was Jan Masaryk. A cosmopolitan, half-American by birth, he was as much at home in New York as in London or his own Prague. He and Eduard Benes were the authors of their country's Janus-faced policy—the policy of looking East and West simultaneously.

And now he is dead. It will long be argued how he came to die so suddenly at the age of 61. We do know that it was through a window, but not whether he jumped out of that window the way Japanese commit hara-kari to save their honor and for the glory of their race, or whether he was thrown out of the window by murderous opponents. We do not know whether he was killed before he was thrown from the window or whether that was left to the inevitable—a word the Marxists love.

At any rate, he is dead, Jan goes to his Maker to ask forgiveness for his sins, for he believed that he could save his country by appeasement and he has lost his country by appeasement—lost it perhaps irrevocably. When he became conscious of Czechoslovakia's fate, what could he do? To oppose Stalin would mean that he would be sent to some such place as Yakutsk where he could sit in servitude with other so-called democrats to discuss what might have happened had they been as wise before as after the treachery. Such a life was not for Jan Masaryk.

The alternative was to be another Tito or Dimitrov, a Quisling of a foreign power, a slave, a liar, a scoundrel, a thief of his own people's bread. That Jan Masaryk could not do. And so he died.

What has happened to Jan Masaryk may happen to the Pope after April 18. For should Togliatti take Italy, what greater prize could Stalin have than the Holy Father? That would be when the Hammer and Sickle fly over the Vatican and the paintings of Sistine Chapel are shipped to Russia as booty! That is the next step—and the world is quiet about it.

And what about our own Quislings who have discovered a charm in appeasement. Henry Wallace and his followers, sincere or opportunistic, Communist slaves or misguided appeasers, wise men who believe in myths or morons who follow voices—they are like the Jan Masaryks of Czechoslovakia who play with the nation's life on the off-chance that their gamble will not bring to it a death by violence and shame.

When I see men and women wearing big blue buttons with the name, Wallace, across it, I cannot help but wonder how long it will be before that blue button is changed to red, before the dupes are turned into slaves.

Jan Masaryk could answer that question. His death answers that question. How many men have been killed for their beliefs since the Oriental despot from the Caucasus sat himself on Ivan the Terrible's throne? Stalin had killed, by one process or another, nearly all the old Bolsheviks, including his peer and Lenin's associate, Leon Trotzky. He had killed every outstanding figure of the Revolution that elevated him—every one that paved the way for his rise to power. Bukharin, Zinoviev, Kamenev, Tukhachevsky—the list is long and it is futile to pile name upon name, except to note the latest one, Jan Masaryk, who erred only in that he believed Stalin at all.

And the lesson in all this for us is that those who still counsel appeasement are the enemies of this nation. Let us label them as such. They have willfully set themselves aside as associates of those who murder to achieve power. Let us treat them as such. When judges of our courts lean over backwards to give these Quislings the benefit of the doubt, let us not mistake fatuity for justice. It is too late not to recognize that these devils have voluntarily renounced the rights of man by becoming the slaves of a tyrant. Let us treat them with the contempt they fully deserved.

Farewell, Jan Masaryk. You died better than you lived.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

The Peace Of Trust

Religion is far more essential in this world than any amount of material wealth. Jesus sought to impress this fact upon that "rich young Ruler" who became attracted to his words and personality, and so went to him for advice. Jesus, sensing his great love for money, told him to go and sell all that he had and then to come and follow Him. That was too much for the young Ruler, who turned and went away "sorrowfully." It is not recorded that he ever returned.

No nation can long survive that leaves God out of its rulership. None can read Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address without sensing Lincoln's deep dependence upon God. Indeed, half of the address is given over to a discussion along these lines. "The Almighty has his own purposes," he said, and then he closed with those immortal words: "With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in."

I have often quoted that beautiful expression — "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because he trusteth in thee." It comes to me every night as I put myself to bed for rest. Trust in God will give to anyone perfect peace—of mind, heart, and spirit.

Few books of the past fifty years have breathed peace, trust, and eternal hope as that rare and treasured little classic, born to be immortal — "The Roadmender," by Michael Fairless. She wrote under a man's name, her real name being Margaret Fairless Barber. It is one of the most beloved books in my library. Over and over again have I read it, and told others about it. The author died before the book was published — but her spirit lives triumphant in a troubled world. She said: "After all, what do we ask of life, here or indeed hereafter, but leave to serve, to live, to commune with our fellow-men and with ourselves; and from the lap of earth to look up into the face of God?"

Another prized little volume is "Doctor Johnson's Prayers," recently published, edited by Elton Trueblood. Each prayer is an example of the trust that a great mind placed in God.

Revival Of Religion Seen For Yugoslavia

GENEVA.—A religious revival is taking place in Yugoslavia, says a report published by the World Council of Churches here.

The report quoted a member of the Serbian Orthodox Church who said religious life was thriving, despite heavy losses suffered by the church during and since the German occupation. The Council gave no indication of the author's identity.

It said three Serbian bishops and numerous priests were killed during the war, and 2,000 churches and monasteries were destroyed or looted. After the war, the report said, the church lost nearly all its remaining property through actions by the Tito government.

But these "external difficulties" the report said, "have brought inner renewal to the orthodox church. The churches have never been as full as they are today."

There is no anti-religious propaganda or other state interference in church life, the report asserted, and, although the state's financial aid for the clergy has ceased, services are held twice daily in all churches, and congregations "give most generously" to support clergy and teachers of religion.

There is great enthusiasm for religious studies at the universities, whose theological faculties have been renewed with government assistance, the report said, and the church "can draw daily on new forces for its work for God's kingdom".

Revival Of Religion Seen For Yugoslavia

GENEVA.—A religious revival is taking place in Yugoslavia, says a report published by the World Council of Churches here.

The report quoted a member of the Serbian Orthodox Church who said religious life was thriving, despite heavy losses suffered by the church during and since the German occupation. The Council gave no indication of the author's identity.

It said three Serbian bishops and numerous priests were killed during the war, and 2,000 churches and monasteries were destroyed or looted. After the war, the report said, the church lost nearly all its remaining property through actions by the Tito government.

But these "external difficulties" the report said, "have brought inner renewal to the orthodox church. The churches have never been as full as they are today."

There is no anti-religious propaganda or other state interference in church life, the report asserted, and, although the state's financial aid for the clergy has ceased, services are held twice daily in all churches, and congregations "give most generously" to support clergy and teachers of religion.

There is great enthusiasm for religious studies at the universities, whose theological faculties have been renewed with government assistance, the report said, and the church "can draw daily on new forces for its work for God's kingdom".

Evelyn Lechliter Heads New Trinity Young Adult Group

The Young Adults of Trinity Methodist Church elected officers and discussed projects for the young people of the church at the second meeting since its organization, held last night at the church.

Evelyn Lechliter was elected president; Ernest Miller, vice president; Dorothy McCoy, secretary, and Edward Nield, treasurer.

The group discussed obtaining a projector and showing moving pictures in the church on Saturdays and sponsoring a Boy Scout Troop.

Miss McCoy led the devotionals and Mr. Miller directed the discussion. His topic was "Juvenile Delinquency." Concluding the meeting a recreational period was held with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nield in charge. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Betty Miller.

The next meeting will be held April 9 at the church, at which time committee chairmen will be named with the assistance of the County Council.

Forty-three members attended the meeting.

Eisenhower's book, due in the Fall, has the working title of "Crusade in Europe." . . . Dashiell Hammett will probably be Wallace's campaign speech writer. . . . Political pressure kept an outstanding UN figure from posing for sculptor Jo Davidson, as scheduled, at the Museum of Science & Industry show the other day. . . . Washington hears that when Supreme Court Justices Felix Frankfurter and Frank Murphy communicate with each other it is only by means of notes, transmitted by way of Chief Justice Vinson.

Our Havana Embasssy has at long last taken official cognizance of Satira, the dancer sentenced to a 15-year jail sentence. . . . A New York black market in French francs is being investigated. . . . A singing bandleader who owes too many people in the East cleaned up between $20,000 and $30,000 at the Las Vegas gaming tables last week. . . . Leo Durocker's book, "Dem Bums," to be brought out by Ziff-Davis in May, is said to pull no punches (as the publishers delicately put it, "Leo holds back little") . . . Ridgeley Woman Filed As Wallace Elector

Mrs. Carlotta Fryer, Ridgeley resident, has been named as one of the eight presidential electors for Henry A. Wallace's Progressive Party of West Virginia.

The names were filed at the office of the Secretary of State at Charleston Friday and announced by Chief Clerk D. Pitt O'Brien.

The platform of the party calls for opposition to the Marshall Plan, $1 hourly minimum wage law, support of the labor demands for wage increases, and other points.

Family Of Nine Flees Burning Structure

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Robinette and their seven children escaped without injuries early Friday morning as fire gutted their four-room frame home on Warrior Mountain.

The Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company answered the alarm but due to bad road conditions, arrived too late to save the dwelling.

All nearby buildings were saved, and Robinette, a farmer, indicated he would build another home in the near future.

Oldtown Group Receives Offer To Read Korean

Another motorist, Ernest V. Dove, Hoy, W. Va., forfeited bonds totaling $22.90 for reckless driving and operating a motor vehicle without a license. He was arrested Wednesday on Route 40 at Narrows Park by First Sgt. W. O. O'Hara, of the State Police.

HOLLYWOOD, March 12—(INS)—One week from tomorrow night the Academy Awards, will be handed out, and Delmer Daves, who is in charge of the presentation, will start something new.

Louella Parsons

This year the women will present the Oscars to the men, and the men to the women. For instance, Olivia De Havilland, last year's winner hands out the 1948 male award, and Frederic March presents the best actress prize.

Anne Baxter, 1947 winner of the best supporting actress award, hands the Oscar to the best supporting actor, while Harold Russell, who won last year's award, (and who hopes to get here, although it is not yet certain, will give the prize to the best supporting actress.

Robert Montgomery will hand out the technical awards; Shirley Temple the cartoon prizes; Dick Powell, the song achievements, and David Niven the story winners. Dinah Shore, Dennis Day, Frances Langford, Gordon Macre, Johnny Mercer and the Pied Pipers will take care of the musical end.

I couldn't believe that Dick Haymes was really going to do the life story of Bing Crosby for Universal-International, but Dick is very serious about the whole thing, and hopes Bing will give him permission. Dick says he wants Bing to sing the songs.

"But why?" I asked Dick. "Why doesn't Bing do his own life story? He's one of the best known men in the world, and why should you, who are a good singer, let another man do your songs?"

Dick explained that he is a Crosby fan and certainly nobody can sing for Bing. Granted. But nobody can act for Bing either.

When I asked Larry Crosby about it, he said, "I don't believe Bing will ever let anybody do his life story while he's alive. My brother Ted and I did write a book about him 10 years ago, besides, why should Bing have anybody do a Larry Parks for him?"

Madeleine Carroll isn't lingering in Hollywood when she finishes her movie, "An Innocent Affair." She and her husband, Henri Lavorel, will leave immediately on a project that will take them to every country of the United Nations.

They will shoot pictures, not of the big shots, but of the average people, their habits and ways of life, with the hope that when citizens of other countries see the films, it will promote a better understanding.

I was so happy to get a note in Lady Mendl's own handwriting because that shows she is so much better. She was so very, very sick. Elsie tells me she leaves April 2 for New York and sails May 5 for Paris. I hope to see her this summer, although we are spending most of our time in Ireland and the Scandinavian countries.

Wednesday, March 10, was the 26th wedding anniversary of Elsie and Sir Charles Mendl. They were married at the British embassy. A belated congratulations to both of them.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Howard Hughes, who never lets money stand in his way if a job is to be done on a movie, is still doing retakes on "Vendetta," which has been two years in the making.

Myrna Dell has saved all her dates this week for Jimmy Stewart, because Jimmy leaves Saturday to take over the Frank Fay role in "Harvey" again.

The Robert Mitchums celebrate their eighth wedding anniversary next Tuesday, so you can throw all those rift rumors out the window.

Why Eddie! One of the big scenes in "Key Largo" will have Eddie Robinson taking a bubble bath. That I've got to see!

A very romantic couple at the Brown Derby today was Rita Rend, Mrs. Mervyn Leroy's pretty daughter, and Bob Sterling.

Martha Vickers and A. C. Lyles have had more than 40 offers from people wanting to rent them apartments since we first announced what was holding up their marriage.

Phil Reed and Adele Jergens a happy twosome at Cezar's. Phil gets around, and we don't blame the girls for liking him.

Ruth Warrick is a very happy girl because Merrill Pye, the man she cares for most, is here from New York on a two week visit.

The Robert Ryan baby will be named Cheney, a family name.

That's all today.

"But why?" I asked Dick. "Why doesn't Bing do his own life story? He's one of the best known men in the world, and why should you, who are a good singer, let another man do your songs?"

Dick explained that he is a Crosby fan and certainly nobody can sing for Bing. Granted. But nobody can act for Bing either.

When I asked Larry Crosby about it, he said, "I don't believe Bing will ever let anybody do his life story while he's alive. My brother Ted and I did write a book about him 10 years ago, besides, why should Bing have anybody do a Larry Parks for him?"

Madeleine Carroll isn't lingering in Hollywood when she finishes her movie, "An Innocent Affair." She and her husband, Henri Lavorel, will leave immediately on a project that will take them to every country of the United Nations.

They will shoot pictures, not of the big shots, but of the average people, their habits and ways of life, with the hope that when citizens of other countries see the films, it will promote a better understanding.

I was so happy to get a note in Lady Mendl's own handwriting because that shows she is so much better. She was so very, very sick. Elsie tells me she leaves April 2 for New York and sails May 5 for Paris. I hope to see her this summer, although we are spending most of our time in Ireland and the Scandinavian countries.

Wednesday, March 10, was the 26th wedding anniversary of Elsie and Sir Charles Mendl. They were married at the British embassy. A belated congratulations to both of them.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Howard Hughes, who never lets money stand in his way if a job is to be done on a movie, is still doing retakes on "Vendetta," which has been two years in the making.

Myrna Dell has saved all her dates this week for Jimmy Stewart, because Jimmy leaves Saturday to take over the Frank Fay role in "Harvey" again.

The Robert Mitchums celebrate their eighth wedding anniversary next Tuesday, so you can throw all those rift rumors out the window.

Why Eddie! One of the big scenes in "Key Largo" will have Eddie Robinson taking a bubble bath. That I've got to see!

A very romantic couple at the Brown Derby today was Rita Rend, Mrs. Mervyn Leroy's pretty daughter, and Bob Sterling.

Martha Vickers and A. C. Lyles have had more than 40 offers from people wanting to rent them apartments since we first announced what was holding up their marriage.

Phil Reed and Adele Jergens a happy twosome at Cezar's. Phil gets around, and we don't blame the girls for liking him.

Ruth Warrick is a very happy girl because Merrill Pye, the man she cares for most, is here from New York on a two week visit.

The Robert Ryan baby will be named Cheney, a family name.

That's all today.

Go to Church this Sunday, your Church, any Church, but go!

The two extremes in these pictures do not necessarily reveal the character nor forecast the future of these boys.

But Alexander Pope was, nevertheless, right when he wrote, "As the twig is bent, the tree's inclined." One of the strongest influences in the life of a man is the environment in which he grows up.

In these confusing days youngsters feel even more than their parents the bewilderment of the times. When it is hard for adults to maintain their sense of values, it is far more difficult for youngsters to gain such a foundation.

The most constructive influence in any community is the Church. It provides the guidance, the spiritual insight, the sustaining power that enables parents and children to find the highest values in life.

There is a church in your community that needs your support. There are boys and girls growing up in your community who need the training that church—with your support—can provide.

Go to Church this Sunday, your Church, any Church, but go!

"As the Twig is Bent..."

The two extremes in these pictures do not necessarily reveal the character nor forecast the future of these boys.

But Alexander Pope was, nevertheless, right when he wrote, "As the twig is bent, the tree's inclined." One of the strongest influences in the life of a man is the environment in which he grows up.

In these confusing days youngsters feel even more than their parents the bewilderment of the times. When it is hard for adults to maintain their sense of values, it is far more difficult for youngsters to gain such a foundation.

The most constructive influence in any community is the Church. It provides the guidance, the spiritual insight, the sustaining power that enables parents and children to find the highest values in life.

There is a church in your community that needs your support. There are boys and girls growing up in your community who need the training that church—with your support—can provide.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Honest Abe Stirs Parking Troubles

SIOLX FALLS, S. D. (AP)—The city commission has undertaken to reconcile the operation of parking meters on holidays.

Originally, it was generally understood that parking meters were not operative on holidays. A new ordinance says that the meters needn't be fed coins on holidays—except Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays.

The idea is to head off further misunderstandings such as occurred on Lincoln's birthday. Police issued a batch of tickets that day to motorists who neglected to feed the meters. Then Municipal Judge Walter Conway dismissed all tickets issued that day.

Honest Abe Stirs Parking Troubles

SIOLX FALLS, S. D. (AP)—The city commission has undertaken to reconcile the operation of parking meters on holidays.

Originally, it was generally understood that parking meters were not operative on holidays. A new ordinance says that the meters needn't be fed coins on holidays—except Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays.

The idea is to head off further misunderstandings such as occurred on Lincoln's birthday. Police issued a batch of tickets that day to motorists who neglected to feed the meters. Then Municipal Judge Walter Conway dismissed all tickets issued that day.

When Mont Irked Coach

By C. V. BURNS

The split decision given in favor of Richard B3ryant of the Baltimore YMCA over Randall "Skeets" Starkey of the Cumberland Amvets in the 147-pound quarter finals of the South Atlantic Association AAU boxing tournament in Baltimore Wednesday night was about as "raw" a verdict as we have ever seen handed out anywhere.

As soon as the decision was announced a large percentage in that crowd of approximately 1,000 at The Gardens booed and stamped their feet and the demonstration continued about six minutes. The fans made so much noise that it was impossible for the announcer to introduce the boxers in the succeeding match.

Bryant is a favorite with Baltimoreans and when a decision in his favor is booed and hooted by his hometown crowd and the referee casts his vote for the out-of-town boy there is something radically wrong in the system used by the two judges in scoring points for an important tournament match of this kind.

Charley Proffen, of the Baltimore Evening Sun, and Van "Rip" Hudson, who covered the tournament for the Community News of Dundalk and myself occupied seats in the press section at the ringside, and they expressed the opinion that the decision was unfair. "I can't figure out how they arrived at such a verdict," Proffen declared. Hudson stated that lengthy demonstrations such as that are rare at Baltimore fights. He said: "I agree with the crowd, Starkey won that one."

Bryant was a rushing type of fighter and after the first round when Starkey got warmed up the Baltimorean ran into so many left jabs and hooks and hard right crosses to the jaw that "Skeets" piled up enough points to win two fights. Starkey biffed Bryant on the nose in the second round and the claret flowed freely the rest of the fight.

The decision in the Bryant-Starkey go was the only one the crowd booed in the 13 bouts that went the limit of three-minute rounds. There were nine knockouts.

So if you hear "Sparky" Chisholm say that "we wuz robbed" believe him because that decision was really something to gripe about.

Joe Ervin, well known in this section as former WMI League basketball referee, saw the fights and said he was sorry that a bad decision had to cheat Starkey out of a chance of going to the semi-finals.

Ervin stated that he was forced to give up basketball refereeing because he can't hold a whistle in his mouth due to upper and lower false teeth plates.

The best looking welterweight on the card appeared to be Millard Pack of the Northwest Police Boys' Club. He belted out Willie Jackson in 19 seconds to reach the semi-finals after winning his first bout by a quick knockout. That guy really slays em!

After he regained consciousness, Jackson asked his handlers:

"Who let the mule in that ring?"

One of Allegany county's outstanding high school athletes of the 1920s passed on the other day when death took Courtney "Butch" Andrews, 42, of Barton.

Andrews starred on Barton High School teams in the days when the little up-creek school was supreme in basketball and soccer in Allegany county. In fact, he played as a regular on four of the Braves' championship teams.

Barton won WMI League basketball titles in 1923, 1925 and 1926. In 1923 "Butch" was center on the team whose personnel included Ernie and Karl Schramm, Claude "Pink" Waring and Tommy Chappell. Two years later he was the pivot man of the championship team on which Dave Thomas and the three Schramms—Ernie, Karl and Harrison—played.

Under Coach Benny Artigiani of Baltimore, Barton won state soccer championships in 1923, 1924 and 1925. Andrews was one of the main cogs in the 1923 and 1924 elevens. He played a fullback position and he could boot 'em a mile.

Some of the other good Barton players of those days were Tommy Chappell, Ernie, Karl and Harrison, Schramm, Vernon O'Neill, Dave Smith, Dave Thomas, Wilbur McDonald and Kermit Longridge.

We made many a trip with Andrews and his teammates in those days and know his many friends will be sorry to hear of his sudden death following a heart attack.

It was just about a month ago we ran into "Butch" on Baltimore street after having not seen him since his high school days. He looked the picture of health and said he was feeling fine.

Jim Kelley is slated to go to Washirngton, D. C., on March 19 to referee the second dual boxing meet between Lock Haven, (Pa.) Teachers and American University. Kelley worked the first series of matches at Lock Haven when the Teachers won 4½ to 3½ points.

It will be Kelley's fourth collegiate assignment of the season.

They tell a story at the University of Maryland about Burton Shipley, who coached varsity basketball teams there for 23 years and the yarn is of interest here because it also concerns Cumberland's own Tommy Mont who played under "Ship."

The Terps mentor was all excited after a mighty close game his team lost to VMI. It seems that Tommy Mont had let his man score the winning basket for the Soldiers. Shipley, who was about fit to be tied, was berating Tom in the dressing room after the game and was so excited about the whole thing that he followed Mont right into the shower room and there he stood fully clothed, replete with hat under a shower, while Mont calmly took his own shower.

No one would dare to laugh at Shipley's plight, but the old coach, after he realized just where he was standing, came out with a real classic statement:

"You see, you guys were all wet today as basketball players, now you got me in your habits."

Fort Hill's girls defeated Bruce High School in Westernport by the score of 16-12 and Allegany High's sextet downed Central High School at Lonaconing, 26-12, yesterday afternoon in the closing contests of the WML League.

The contest in Westernport was marked by an argument over uniforms. Both teams have white uniforms and Bruce started the game in blue jerseys. In the final period, however, the home team shed its blue jerseys in favor of white—then the trouble began. Fort Hill's coach tossed the team's red warm-up jackets on the floor and the Cumberland team put them on to finish the game.

Fort Hill, league and county Class "A" champions held the upper hand throughout the game. The quarter scores were 5-2, 12-6 and 16-8. Miss Blackburn accounted for 10 of the 12 points credited to Bruce.

Dolores Howe registered 13 tallies as Allegany's girls won their final game for the season on their home floor. The victory enabled the Blue and White to tie Beall High of Frostburg for the runner-up berth in the league.

Allegany was on top throughout, the quarter scores being 10-2, 17-4 and 19-7. Lineups:

Aging French Star Loses In Net Meet

Jean Borotra Beaten By Nathan Goldstein

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—Aging Jean Borotra, France's one-time "bounding basque" of the tennis courts, missed his bid for a fifth U. S. indoor championship today when he bowed to Nathan Goldstein, a New York collegian unknown outside the Metroplitan area.

Borotra was joined on the sidelines by Vinicius Rurac, former Romanian champion, who was bounced out of the first round by 17-year-old Bill Long, New York schoolboy star.

The upsets marked the second day's play in the 45th national indoor tournament which reduced the men's singles field to the second round—with one exception—at the seventh regiment armory.

Marcel Bernard of Paris, No. 1 player in France and top-seeded foreign entrant here, progressed to the round of 32 along with Brazilian champion Armando Vieira of Rio De Janeiro and Frank Shields of New York, this country's leading player 15 years ago.

But the years caught up with Borotra, who first won the U. S. indoor title in 1925 and recaptured it three times in the period between two world wars.

Fred Faurot To Coach Murray State Gridders

MURRAY, Ky., March 12 (AP)—Murray State College today announced the appointment of Fred W. Faurot as head football coach to succeed Jim Moore, who resigned several months ago.

Faurot, former coach of several Missouri and Iowa college teams, will report for duty April 1.

Indiana State Wins

Moorefield Beats Kingwood, To Battle Ridgeley Tonight

Jackets Bag 39-22 Win In Region 4 Contest

KEYSER, W. Va., March 12—Moorefield High School advanced to the finals of West Virginia's Region No. 4 scholastic basketball tournament tonight by eliminating Kingwood High School of Preston County, 39-22, before a crowd of 650 persons at Potomac State School's gymnasium.

The Stags led only once in the game and that was two minutes after the opening whistle when "Sonny" Delligatti's field goal made the score 2-1. Bill Raines' lay-up sent the Yellow Jackets from Hardy County to the fore and they stayed there the remainder of the game.

Quarter scores were 9-5, 17-12 and 25-16.

Kingwood pulled up four points in the rear at 19-15 in the third period but two baskets by Welton and one by Raines jumped the Jackets' lead to 10 points at 25-15. In the fourth stanza the Preston countians trailed at 26-21 with 5:30 to go. Then Coach Johnny Paugh's cagers reeled off nine consecutive points to put the game on ice.

Bill Raines and Harry Welton led the Jackets' in scoring with 13 points each. Dominic Marrara was high man for Kingwood with seven tallies.

Kingwood's record was 19 wins, 6 losses before tonight's game while Moorefield had won 18 and lost 6.

Moorefield will play Ridgeley here Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Region No. 4 finals. The winner will qualify for the state championship tournament at Morgantown. Lineups:

All-America Loop Offers Three Good Players To Colts

Two Tackles Will Be Sent To Baltimore

CHICAGO, March 12—(AP)—The All-America Football Conference will supply the Baltimore Colts "three good players" to satisfy prospective new owners of the club.

This assurance followed a conference today between Commissioner Jonas Ingram and Benjamin F. Lindheimer, chairman of the All-America executive committee.

Ingram further said that "within a week we expect to conclude all details of negotiations with a Baltimore group which is planning to take over the club's franchise."

The commissioner met with Lindheimer to present an offer by 15 Baltimore businessmen to assume the Colt franchise if the club personnel was bolstered by better players from stronger league members.

The franchise was picked up by the league March 1 after owner Bob Rodenberg of Washington and his associates failed to show enough capital to cover 1948 operations.

Ingram yesterday said "I personally guarantee that two outstanding tackles will be transferred to the Colts."

Lindheimer said the "three good players" presumably will include two tackles, but that "there always is a little problem in determining which is which and moving players whose homes are established in cities of their clubs."

Lindheimer also indicated that an announcement concerning the new ownership of the Chicago Rockets, long expected, might be made next week.

In a prepared statement before he left to visit his Jeffersonville, Ind., home, Ingram also said the league was "well pleased with the attitude of Baltimore's leading citizens and gratified by the indication they would support wholeheartedly major league football activity in their city."

Ingram previously said it appeared likely a civic committee rounded up by Mayor D'Alesandro would be able to raise $300,000 needed for sound financing of the Colts.

Amvets Will Oppose Fairchild Floormen

The Cumberland Amvets will play Fairchild Aircraft in the Hagerstown Invitational Basketball Tournament tonight at 8 o'clock.

Fairchild defeated the Hagerstown Cabineers who hold two decisions over the Amvets this season.

Members of the Amvets' squad will leave from the Amvets' Home in Automobiles at 5:30 p. m.

League Will Meet

Officers will be elected at a meeting of the City Softball League on Monday at 8:30 p. m. at the Amvets' Home. All teams seeking franchises in the league are urged to send re-automobiles at 5:30 p. m.

TO COACH LSU—All-American end a decade ago at Louisiana State University, Gaynell Tinsley has been appointed head football coach of his alma mater. He has been end coach for five years.

PECK'S ARM IMPROVES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12 (AP)—Hal Peck's workouts gave rise to hopes today that the Cleveland Indians outfielder has recovered from a sore throwing arm which bothered him last season.

Hal had no opportunity to test his wing competitively in yesterday's match which Cleveland dropped 5 to 2 to Los Angeles, but his throwing in practice was strong.

"Hal is throwing better now than he did at any time last season," Coach Bill McKechnie said. "He can raise his arm and throw the ball overhand as an outfielder should. Last season he had to give us those sidearm curves."

Cerdan Flattens Roach In Eighth Round At Garden

Texan Is Outclassed After Opening Stanza

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, March 12 (INS)—France's Marcel Cerdan signalized his return to the American middleweight boxing scene tonight with an eight-round knockout of Lavern Roach, Plainview, Texas, contender.

The end came in 2:31 of the round, after Roach had been on the floor three times during the round and five times for the evening.

The European champion was a virtual two-handed assassin tonight at a trim tigerish 156½ pounds and Roach never had a chance after the first round. He took a slight edge here, but paid for it the next minute.

The second round bell had hardly rung when Cerdan lashed out of a crouch with a right that shot to its mark like a bolt from the blue.

Texan Shows Gameness

It up-ended the astounded Roach, left him sitting in a semi-coma while the count went to 9. It almost reached the decisive 10, but the game Texan managed to beat it as he tottered to his feet.

The round still had 2:45 to go and a knockout seemed inevitable. But Cerdan went wall-eyed in the excitement, missed more punches than he landed and, in the end, missed his chance to win early.

Midway through the round, Roach was nailed with a right uppercut coming off the ropes and, in the ensuing clinch, both went to the floor. Roach stayed there for another 9—not realizing that the knockdown wasn't strictly according to John L.

Roach never recovered from the lambasting he took in this round, though there were nearly six more to follow.

Only the kid's courage, which was excessive, and Cerdan's lack of direction, which was lurid, kept it going that far.

It was Cerdan's fifth fight in three American visits—and his fifth win, three of these by knockouts. It also was his 33rd consecutive victory in America, Europe and North Africa.

16,905 See Match

Moreover, it was scored before a bumper "house" of $80,030 and a paid admission total of 16,905.

It also came a few hours after New York Boxing Chairman Eddie Eagan promised to recommend the holding of the middleweight championship elimination tournament which, if sanctioned, quite likely would recognize Cerdan's knockout victory as its opening episode.

The tourney's most notable feature apparently was the elimination of World's Champion Rocky Graziano, who is ineligible in New York and member-states of the National Boxing Association.

Washington Redskins Sell 25,000 Tickets

WASHINGTON, March 12 (INS)—The Washington Redskins announced today they have passed the half-million dollar mark in advance sales for the 1948 professional football season.

The 'Skins management said 25,000 season tickets have been sold, within 6,000 of last year's total season ticket sale. When season tickets were first sold in 1937, less than 1,000 were purchased.

Draft Evasion Charges Against Burman Dropped

Judge Finds Technical Defect In Indictment

BALTIMORE, March 12 (AP)—The government today dropped draft evasion charges against Clarence (Red) Burman, Baltimore heavyweight fighter.

Federal Judge William C. Coleman ruled there was a technical defect in the indictment against Burman because his draft board was in New York.

Since the statute of limitation blocks the filing of a new charge in New York, Judge Coleman ordered the case closed.

At the same time he set the first week in May for the trial of several other prize fight figures accused either of evading the draft or helping associates do it.

Among the defendants are Henry Jeffra, 32-year-old former world's bantamweight and featherweight champion; Peter C. Galiano, 30, another fighter; Frances E. De Orge, a truck driver, and Nathan E. Phillips, 45, matchmaker for the Garden Athletic Club here.

All have been free on bail since they were indicted almost a year ago.

A federal court jury last week convicted Benjamin Magliano, former fighter and promoter known as Benny Trotta; John V. Cataneo, president of the American Ship Cleaning Company, and Vincent Drecchio, a foreman at the plant, on companion charges.

They have appealed their sentences.

Phillips also is an officer of the ship cleaning firm and the government charged it falsely carried the fighters as deferred war workers.

Burman ranked among the top ten heavyweights back in the early 40's. He was a protege of Jack Dempsey.

A hearing will be held tomorrow in Richmond, Va., before the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals on a request for release for bail by Magliano, Cataneo and Drecchio.

"SKIP" ALEXANDER LEADS IN TOURNEY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 12 (AP)—Top place in the Jasksonville Invitational Golf Tournament tonight was still in the hands of Skip Alexander of Mid Pine, N. C.

He was able to better par by only one stroke today, shooting a 35-36—71 for a 36-hole score of 138. Alexander was four strokes off the 67 pace he set in yesterday's opening round over the waterlogged 6,282-yard Brentwood Municipal Course.

None of the others was able to catch him. Closest at the halfway point was Steve Savel of Schenectady, N. Y., who took over second place at 139.

Chick Harbert of Detroit matched Savel's 69, going out in 33 but needing par 36 on the second nine. He moved up to third spot at 141.

Marty Furgol of Brooklyn was even par 72 today, which went with his 69 yesterday to tie him with Locke for fourth at 141.

Four players were bunched at 142. They were Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa.; Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va.; John Palmer of Badin, N. C., and Jim Milward of Three Lakes, Wis.

Italian Fighter Dies After Taking Beating

ROME, March 12 (AP)—Francesco Loi, a leading contender for the Italian welterweight title, died today after taking a bad beating in a match with Fernando Jannilli last night.

Loi's death was the third this year in boxing. Within the past month two United States fighers, Sam Baroudi of New York and Leroy Decatur of Hollywood, Calif., have died soon after being knocked out. Last year nine fighters were fatally injured.

Peggy Kirk Will Play Polly Riley In Finals

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 12 (AP)—Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, and Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas, will meet tomorrow in the 18-hole finals of the Florida East Coast Women's Golf Tournament.

The two, co-medalists in the qualifying round Monday and both members of the Curtis Cup women's golf team, defeated their opponents handily in today's semifinals matches.

Miss Kirk won over Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., 4 and 2, and Miss Riley eliminated Patricia Devany of Grosse Ile, Mich., 5 and 3.

Youngstown Cubs Will Play Here On Sunday Night

Altoona Defeat Will Make Close Finish

Tonight is an important one in the All-American Professional Basketball League as the outcome of two games may determine whether Cumberland or Altoona will finish fourth and gain a spot in the Circuit's Shaughnessy playoff series.

Cumberland's Dukes, now in 5th place, will play hosts to the powerful Columbus (Ohio) Mariners, formerly the Dayton Mets, at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium tonight at 9 o'clock. Youngstown's Cubs will battle Altoona's present 4th place club tonight in Altoona.

If Altoona wins tonight's game the Pennsylvanians will clinch fourth place. If Altoona loses and Cumberland defeats Columbus tonight and Youngstown here Sunday night the Dukes will finish fourth with a percentage of .440 to Altoona's .400. If Altoona loses Cumberland could still tie the Keystone State for 4th place at .400 each by splitting even with Columbus and Youngstown.

Columbus' great team which now holds down second place in the league is headed by Sweetwater Clifton and Duke Cumberland. The Mariners hung it on Wheeling Wednesday night by the score of 68-49 on the Puritans' home court.

Sunday night's game here with Youngstown is the last on the league schedule for Cumberland. It will get under way at 9 o'clock. In the prelim at 7:45 the Amvets will play the local Moose quint.

Bill Hahn and Clifton Van Roby will handle both the Saturday and Sunday league games at SS. Peter and Paul gym.

That Terrible Decision

When Mont Irked Coach

By C. V. BURNS

The split decision given in favor of Richard B3ryant of the Baltimore YMCA over Randall "Skeets" Starkey of the Cumberland Amvets in the 147-pound quarter finals of the South Atlantic Association AAU boxing tournament in Baltimore Wednesday night was about as "raw" a verdict as we have ever seen handed out anywhere.

As soon as the decision was announced a large percentage in that crowd of approximately 1,000 at The Gardens booed and stamped their feet and the demonstration continued about six minutes. The fans made so much noise that it was impossible for the announcer to introduce the boxers in the succeeding match.

Bryant is a favorite with Baltimoreans and when a decision in his favor is booed and hooted by his hometown crowd and the referee casts his vote for the out-of-town boy there is something radically wrong in the system used by the two judges in scoring points for an important tournament match of this kind.

Charley Proffen, of the Baltimore Evening Sun, and Van "Rip" Hudson, who covered the tournament for the Community News of Dundalk and myself occupied seats in the press section at the ringside, and they expressed the opinion that the decision was unfair. "I can't figure out how they arrived at such a verdict," Proffen declared. Hudson stated that lengthy demonstrations such as that are rare at Baltimore fights. He said: "I agree with the crowd, Starkey won that one."

Bryant was a rushing type of fighter and after the first round when Starkey got warmed up the Baltimorean ran into so many left jabs and hooks and hard right crosses to the jaw that "Skeets" piled up enough points to win two fights. Starkey biffed Bryant on the nose in the second round and the claret flowed freely the rest of the fight.

The decision in the Bryant-Starkey go was the only one the crowd booed in the 13 bouts that went the limit of three-minute rounds. There were nine knockouts.

So if you hear "Sparky" Chisholm say that "we wuz robbed" believe him because that decision was really something to gripe about.

Joe Ervin, well known in this section as former WMI League basketball referee, saw the fights and said he was sorry that a bad decision had to cheat Starkey out of a chance of going to the semi-finals.

Ervin stated that he was forced to give up basketball refereeing because he can't hold a whistle in his mouth due to upper and lower false teeth plates.

The best looking welterweight on the card appeared to be Millard Pack of the Northwest Police Boys' Club. He belted out Willie Jackson in 19 seconds to reach the semi-finals after winning his first bout by a quick knockout. That guy really slays em!

After he regained consciousness, Jackson asked his handlers:

"Who let the mule in that ring?"

One of Allegany county's outstanding high school athletes of the 1920s passed on the other day when death took Courtney "Butch" Andrews, 42, of Barton.

Andrews starred on Barton High School teams in the days when the little up-creek school was supreme in basketball and soccer in Allegany county. In fact, he played as a regular on four of the Braves' championship teams.

Barton won WMI League basketball titles in 1923, 1925 and 1926. In 1923 "Butch" was center on the team whose personnel included Ernie and Karl Schramm, Claude "Pink" Waring and Tommy Chappell. Two years later he was the pivot man of the championship team on which Dave Thomas and the three Schramms—Ernie, Karl and Harrison—played.

Under Coach Benny Artigiani of Baltimore, Barton won state soccer championships in 1923, 1924 and 1925. Andrews was one of the main cogs in the 1923 and 1924 elevens. He played a fullback position and he could boot 'em a mile.

Some of the other good Barton players of those days were Tommy Chappell, Ernie, Karl and Harrison, Schramm, Vernon O'Neill, Dave Smith, Dave Thomas, Wilbur McDonald and Kermit Longridge.

We made many a trip with Andrews and his teammates in those days and know his many friends will be sorry to hear of his sudden death following a heart attack.

It was just about a month ago we ran into "Butch" on Baltimore street after having not seen him since his high school days. He looked the picture of health and said he was feeling fine.

Jim Kelley is slated to go to Washirngton, D. C., on March 19 to referee the second dual boxing meet between Lock Haven, (Pa.) Teachers and American University. Kelley worked the first series of matches at Lock Haven when the Teachers won 4½ to 3½ points.

It will be Kelley's fourth collegiate assignment of the season.

They tell a story at the University of Maryland about Burton Shipley, who coached varsity basketball teams there for 23 years and the yarn is of interest here because it also concerns Cumberland's own Tommy Mont who played under "Ship."

The Terps mentor was all excited after a mighty close game his team lost to VMI. It seems that Tommy Mont had let his man score the winning basket for the Soldiers. Shipley, who was about fit to be tied, was berating Tom in the dressing room after the game and was so excited about the whole thing that he followed Mont right into the shower room and there he stood fully clothed, replete with hat under a shower, while Mont calmly took his own shower.

No one would dare to laugh at Shipley's plight, but the old coach, after he realized just where he was standing, came out with a real classic statement:

"You see, you guys were all wet today as basketball players, now you got me in your habits."

Fort Hill's girls defeated Bruce High School in Westernport by the score of 16-12 and Allegany High's sextet downed Central High School at Lonaconing, 26-12, yesterday afternoon in the closing contests of the WML League.

The contest in Westernport was marked by an argument over uniforms. Both teams have white uniforms and Bruce started the game in blue jerseys. In the final period, however, the home team shed its blue jerseys in favor of white—then the trouble began. Fort Hill's coach tossed the team's red warm-up jackets on the floor and the Cumberland team put them on to finish the game.

Fort Hill, league and county Class "A" champions held the upper hand throughout the game. The quarter scores were 5-2, 12-6 and 16-8. Miss Blackburn accounted for 10 of the 12 points credited to Bruce.

Dolores Howe registered 13 tallies as Allegany's girls won their final game for the season on their home floor. The victory enabled the Blue and White to tie Beall High of Frostburg for the runner-up berth in the league.

Allegany was on top throughout, the quarter scores being 10-2, 17-4 and 19-7. Lineups:

Aging French Star Loses In Net Meet

Jean Borotra Beaten By Nathan Goldstein

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—Aging Jean Borotra, France's one-time "bounding basque" of the tennis courts, missed his bid for a fifth U. S. indoor championship today when he bowed to Nathan Goldstein, a New York collegian unknown outside the Metroplitan area.

Borotra was joined on the sidelines by Vinicius Rurac, former Romanian champion, who was bounced out of the first round by 17-year-old Bill Long, New York schoolboy star.

The upsets marked the second day's play in the 45th national indoor tournament which reduced the men's singles field to the second round—with one exception—at the seventh regiment armory.

Marcel Bernard of Paris, No. 1 player in France and top-seeded foreign entrant here, progressed to the round of 32 along with Brazilian champion Armando Vieira of Rio De Janeiro and Frank Shields of New York, this country's leading player 15 years ago.

But the years caught up with Borotra, who first won the U. S. indoor title in 1925 and recaptured it three times in the period between two world wars.

Fred Faurot To Coach Murray State Gridders

Moorefield Beats Kingwood, To Battle Ridgeley Tonight

Jackets Bag 39-22 Win In Region 4 Contest

KEYSER, W. Va., March 12—Moorefield High School advanced to the finals of West Virginia's Region No. 4 scholastic basketball tournament tonight by eliminating Kingwood High School of Preston County, 39-22, before a crowd of 650 persons at Potomac State School's gymnasium.

The Stags led only once in the game and that was two minutes after the opening whistle when "Sonny" Delligatti's field goal made the score 2-1. Bill Raines' lay-up sent the Yellow Jackets from Hardy County to the fore and they stayed there the remainder of the game.

Quarter scores were 9-5, 17-12 and 25-16.

Kingwood pulled up four points in the rear at 19-15 in the third period but two baskets by Welton and one by Raines jumped the Jackets' lead to 10 points at 25-15. All-America Loop Offers Three Good Players To Colts

Two Tackles Will Be Sent To Baltimore

CHICAGO, March 12—(AP)—The All-America Football Conference will supply the Baltimore Colts "three good players" to satisfy prospective new owners of the club.

This assurance followed a conference today between Commissioner Jonas Ingram and Benjamin F. Lindheimer, chairman of the All-America executive committee.

Ingram further said that "within a week we expect to conclude all details of negotiations with a Baltimore group which is planning to take over the club's franchise."

The commissioner met with Lindheimer to present an offer by 15 Baltimore businessmen to assume the Colt franchise if the club personnel was bolstered by better players from stronger league members.

The franchise was picked up by the league March 1 after owner Bob Rodenberg of Washington and his associates failed to show enough capital to cover 1948 operations.

Ingram yesterday said "I personally guarantee that two outstanding tackles will be transferred to the Colts."

Lindheimer said the "three good players" presumably will include two tackles, but that "there always is a little problem in determining which is which and moving players whose homes are established in cities of their clubs."

Lindheimer also indicated that an announcement concerning the new ownership of the Chicago Rockets, long expected, might be made next week.

In a prepared statement before he left to visit his Jeffersonville, Ind., home, Ingram also said the league was "well pleased with the attitude of Baltimore's leading citizens and gratified by the indication they would support wholeheartedly major league football activity in their city."

Ingram previously said it appeared likely a civic committee rounded up by Mayor D'Alesandro would be able to raise $300,000 needed for sound financing of the Colts.

PECK'S ARM IMPROVES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12 (AP)—Hal Peck's workouts gave rise to hopes today that the Cleveland Indians outfielder has recovered from a sore throwing arm which bothered him last season.

Hal had no opportunity to test his wing competitively in yesterday's match which Cleveland dropped 5 to 2 to Los Angeles, but his throwing in practice was strong.

"Hal is throwing better now than he did at any time last season," Coach Bill McKechnie said. "He can raise his arm and throw the ball overhand as an outfielder should. Last season he had to give us those sidearm curves."

Cerdan Flattens Roach In Eighth Round At Garden

Texan Is Outclassed After Opening Stanza

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, March 12 (INS)—France's Marcel Cerdan signalized his return to the American middleweight boxing scene tonight with an eight-round knockout of Lavern Roach, Plainview, Texas, contender.

The end came in 2:31 of the round, after Roach had been on the floor three times during the round and five times for the evening.

The European champion was a virtual two-handed assassin tonight at a trim tigerish 156½ pounds and Roach never had a chance after the first round. He took a slight edge here, but paid for it the next minute.

The second round bell had hardly rung when Cerdan lashed out of a crouch with a right that shot to its mark like a bolt from the blue.

Texan Shows Gameness

It up-ended the astounded Roach, left him sitting in a semi-coma while the count went to 9. It almost reached the decisive 10, but the game Texan managed to beat it as he tottered to his feet.

The round still had 2:45 to go and a knockout seemed inevitable. But Cerdan went wall-eyed in the excitement, missed more punches than he landed and, in the end, missed his chance to win early.

Midway through the round, Roach was nailed with a right uppercut coming off the ropes and, in the ensuing clinch, both went to the floor. Roach stayed there for another 9—not realizing that the knockdown wasn't strictly according to John L.

Roach never recovered from the lambasting he took in this round, though there were nearly six more to follow.

Only the kid's courage, which was excessive, and Cerdan's lack of direction, which was lurid, kept it going that far.

It was Cerdan's fifth fight in three American visits—and his fifth win, three of these by knockouts. It also was his 33rd consecutive victory in America, Europe and North Africa.

16,905 See Match

Moreover, it was scored before a bumper "house" of $80,030 and a paid admission total of 16,905.

It also came a few hours after New York Boxing Chairman Eddie Eagan promised to recommend the holding of the middleweight championship elimination tournament which, if sanctioned, quite likely would recognize Cerdan's knockout victory as its opening episode.

The tourney's most notable feature apparently was the elimination of World's Champion Rocky Graziano, who is ineligible in New York and member-states of the National Boxing Association.

Washington Redskins Sell 25,000 Tickets

WASHINGTON, March 12 (INS)—The Washington Redskins announced today they have passed the half-million dollar mark in advance sales for the 1948 professional football season.

The 'Skins management said 25,000 season tickets have been sold, within 6,000 of last year's total season ticket sale. When season tickets were first sold in 1937, less than 1,000 were purchased.

The 'Skins played to a record 214,863 home attendance last year.

Draft Evasion Charges Against Burman Dropped

Judge Finds Technical Defect In Indictment

BALTIMORE, March 12 (AP)—The government today dropped draft evasion charges against Clarence (Red) Burman, Baltimore heavyweight fighter.

Federal Judge William C. Coleman ruled there was a technical defect in the indictment against Burman because his draft board was in New York.

Since the statute of limitation blocks the filing of a new charge in New York, Judge Coleman ordered the case closed.

At the same time he set the first week in May for the trial of several other prize fight figures accused either of evading the draft or helping associates do it.

Among the defendants are Henry Jeffra, 32-year-old former world's bantamweight and featherweight champion; Peter C. Galiano, 30, another fighter; Frances E. De Orge, a truck driver, and Nathan E. Phillips, 45, matchmaker for the Garden Athletic Club here.

All have been free on bail since they were indicted almost a year ago.

A federal court jury last week convicted Benjamin Magliano, former fighter and promoter known as Benny Trotta; John V. Cataneo, president of the American Ship Cleaning Company, and Vincent Drecchio, a foreman at the plant, on companion charges.

They have appealed their sentences.

Phillips also is an officer of the ship cleaning firm and the government charged it falsely carried the fighters as deferred war workers.

Burman ranked among the top ten heavyweights back in the early 40's. He was a protege of Jack Dempsey.

A hearing will be held tomorrow in Richmond, Va., before the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals on a request for release for bail by Magliano, Cataneo and Drecchio.

"SKIP" ALEXANDER LEADS IN TOURNEY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 12 (AP)—Top place in the Jaskson ville Invitational Golf Tournament tonight was still in the hands of Skip Alexander of Mid Pine, N. C.

He was able to better par by only one stroke today, shooting a 35-36—71 for a 36-hole score of 138. Alexander was four strokes off the 67 pace he set in yesterday's opening round over the waterlogged 6,282-yard Brentwood Municipal Course.

None of the others was able to catch him. Closest at the halfway point was Steve Savel of Schenectady, N. Y., who took over second place at 139.

Chick Harbert of Detroit matched Savel's 69, going out in 33 but needing par 36 on the second nine. He moved up to third spot at 141.

Marty Furgol of Brooklyn was even par 72 today, which went with his 69 yesterday to tie him with Locke for fourth at 141.

Four players were bunched at 142. They were Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa.; Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va.; John Palmer of Badin, N. C., and Jim Milward of Three Lakes, Wis.

Italian Fighter Dies After Taking Beating

ROME, March 12 (AP)—Francesco Loi, a leading contender for the Italian welterweight title, died today after taking a bad beating in a match with Fernando Jannilli last night.

Loi's death was the third this year in boxing. Within the past month two United States fighers, Sam Baroudi of New York and Leroy Decatur of Hollywood, Calif., have died soon after being knocked out. Last year nine fighters were fatally injured.

Peggy Kirk Will Play Polly Riley In Finals

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 12 (AP)—Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, and Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas, will meet tomorrow in the 18-hole finals of the Florida East Coast Women's Golf Tournament.

The two, co-medalists in the qualifying round Monday and both members of the Curtis Cup women's golf team, defeated their opponents handily in today's semifinals matches.

Miss Kirk won over Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., 4 and 2, and Miss Riley eliminated Patricia Devany of Grosse Ile, Mich., 5 and 3.

Youngstown Cubs Will Play Here On Sunday Night

Altoona Defeat Will Make Close Finish

Tonight is an important one in the All-American Professional Basketball League as the outcome of two games may determine whether Cumberland or Altoona will finish fourth and gain a spot in the Circuit's Shaughnessy playoff series.

Cumberland's Dukes, now in 5th place, will play hosts to the powerful Columbus (Ohio) Mariners, formerly the Dayton Mets, at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium tonight at 9 o'clock. Youngstown's Cubs will battle Altoona's present 4th place club tonight in Altoona.

If Altoona wins tonight's game the Pennsylvanians will clinch fourth place. If Altoona loses and Cumberland defeats Columbus tonight and Youngstown here Sunday night the Dukes will finish fourth with a percentage of .440 to Altoona's .400. If Altoona loses Cumberland could still tie the Keystone State for 4th place at .400 each by splitting even with Columbus and Youngstown.

Columbus' great team which now holds down second place in the league is headed by Sweetwater Clifton and Duke Cumberland. The Mariners hung it on Wheeling Wednesday night by the score of 68-49 on the Puritans' home court.

Sunday night's game here with Youngstown is the last on the league schedule for Cumberland. It will get under way at 9 o'clock. In the prelim at 7:45 the Amvets will play the local Moose quint.

Bill Hahn and Clifton Van Roby will handle both the Saturday and Sunday league games at SS. Peter and Paul gym.

NYU Plays Texas, DePaul Will Face Wolfpack Tonight

Semi-Finals Of NIT Are Set For Monday

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK, March 12—(AP)—The second and last night of quarter-final play in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament brings on four more teams tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden. The general impression is that the newcomers will have to be terrific to reach the class of last night's winners.

Displaying their wares for the first time in the tourney will be second seeded New York University against Texas and third seeded North Carolina State against DePaul.

The victors will be matched Monday night on a semi-final card which will also include Western Kentucky vs. St. Louis.

Some 17,000 fans who sat in on last night's proceedings will be glad to tell you that the tourney winner will emerge from the Western Kentucky-St. Louis clash.

These two clubs, and particularly St. Louis, were real crowd-pleasers. The Kentuckians overpowered LaSalle of Philadelphia, 68 to 61, while St. Louis coasted past Bowling Green, 69 to 53.

NYU Is Favorite

If the seedings hold true tomorrow night as they did in the upper bracket, NYU and N. C. State could be expected to win. The experts like New York over Texas but have installed DePaul as slight favorites over State's transplanted Hoosiers.

The reason for this switch is the illness of Dick Dickey, leading scorer and sparkplug of the North Carolina club. He's recuperating from the mumps and definitely won't play against DePaul. Coach Everett Case said the redhead might see limited action later if State survives its first round.

New York University also has a man on the doubtful list. Don Forman, one of the regulars is nursing an aching back. Coach Howard Cann said today he still didn't know if Forman would play against Texas.

The New Yorkers lost to City College Tuesday night with Forman on the sidelines. Their supporters will be worried if the little guard is still missing tomorrow night.

North Carolina State has the best season's record of the four teams playing tomorrow. The Wolfpack successfully defended its southern conference title while winning 29 games and losing only to West Virginia and Holy Cross, the latter in overtime.

NYU's Violets won 19 straight before dropping one to Notre Dame. They added one more victory before their final loss to City College. DePaul won 21 and lost 6 and concluded a victory over St. Louis. Texas finished with a 20 and 4 record.

Tomorrow's games start at 8 p. m. (EST) with the NYU-Texas show going on first.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 12—(INS)—If you meet an old bird on the street these days muttering "a horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse," please don't mistake him for a broken-down Shakespearean actor.

He is more likely to be a harness track operator or a prospective buyer of some high-priced speed on the hoof.

For harness racing that grew up wild in the sticks has now developed into a rich hot-house plant. The Texas blue-bonnett has now become an orchid.

Fans from Earmuff, Ark. to glamorous Santa Anita and Roosevelt Raceway on Long Island will see the trotters and pacers in action at more than 700 tracks this season.

Sulky skippers will move into 75 new spots and the number of tracks will almost double the 437 operating in 1944. Big cities on the circuit include New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Toledo, Cincinnati, and the Washington-Baltimore area.

Pari-mutuel harness racing now is legalized in a dozen states with a total of 29 plants featuring the tote board rather than the county fair as a side attraction.

As a sample of how eager the boys in the bushes are to separate the chump from his change, the U. S. Trotting Association, governing body of harness racing in the United States and Canada, has received 21 applications from potential pari-mutuel plants this year.

Building problems will short-circuit many of these this season but at least a dozen new ones will see action, including three in Maryland.

The USTA actually is afraid there won't be enough horses to fill the demand of all the new tracks and therefore has empowered its president, Henry Knauf, to reject new tracks at his own discretion.

Some eastern tracks actually are contemplating overnight races with no entry fees in an attempt to hold horses at their tracks. This, of course, is gravy for the reinsmen.

Minimum purses at the two biggest harness plants, Roosevelt and Santa Anita, are pegged at $1,000. A few years ago the sulky skippers were glad to get $200 or $300.

Purse distribution jumped a million bucks last year for an all-time record of $7,453,379. But this season, with richer stakes and higher purse minimums, the total outlay is expected to surpass $10,000,000.

The 1948 campaign gets under way at Santa Anita April 2 and this track will offer two $50,000 numbers, one for trotters and one for pacers.

Fairmont Park in St. Louis will make its harness debut May 21 in a meet running to July 17 and this will be the first one-mile night racing plant in the country. Like the Cardinals and Browns in baseball, the St. Louis harness people expect more sugar at night.

Santa Anita will see Victory Song, horse of the year in 1947. Friscoway, Octave Blake's top money-winning two-year-old last season, will launch his three-year-old campaign on the coast.

Friscoway looms as the main threat to Knight Dream, last year's world champion two-year-old, in the famed Little Brown Jug Classic at Delaware, Ohio. This $50,000 race for pacers is the equivalent of the Hambletonian for trotters.

From all this one gathers the impression that the trotters and pacers are making a real challenge to the runners for public popularity — and also for the public's dough.

During the hatching season, wild turkeys make a hissing sound in imitation of a snake as a protection against disturbers seeking their eggs.

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK, March 12—(AP)—The second and last night of quarter-final play in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament brings on four more teams tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden. The general impression is that the newcomers will have to be terrific to reach the class of last night's winners.

Displaying their wares for the first time in the tourney will be second seeded New York University against Texas and third seeded North Carolina State against DePaul.

The victors will be matched Monday night on a semi-final card which will also include Western Kentucky vs. St. Louis.

Some 17,000 fans who sat in on last night's proceedings will be glad to tell you that the tourney winner will emerge from the Western Kentucky-St. Louis clash.

These two clubs, and particularly St. Louis, were real crowd-pleasers. The Kentuckians overpowered La-Salle of Philadelphia, 68 to 61, while St. Louis coasted past Bowling Green, 69 to 53.

NYU Is Favorite

If the seedings hold true tomorrow night as they did in the upper bracket, NYU and N. C. State could be expected to win. The experts like New York over Texas but have installed DePaul as slight favorites over State's transplanted Hoosiers.

The reason for this switch is the illness of Dick Dickey, leading scorer and sparkplug of the North Carolina club. He's recuperating from the mumps and definitely won't play against DePaul. Coach Everett Case said the redhead might see limited action later if State survives its first round.

New York University also has a man on the doubtful list. Don Forman, one of the regulars is nursing an aching back. Coach Howard Cann said today he still didn't know if Forman would play against Texas.

The New Yorkers lost to City College Tuesday night with Forman on the sidelines. Their supporters will be worried if the little guard is still missing tomorrow night.

North Carolina State has the best season's record of the four teams playing tomorrow. The Wolfpack successfully defended its southern conference title while winning 29 games and losing only to West Virginia and Holy Cross, the latter in overtime.

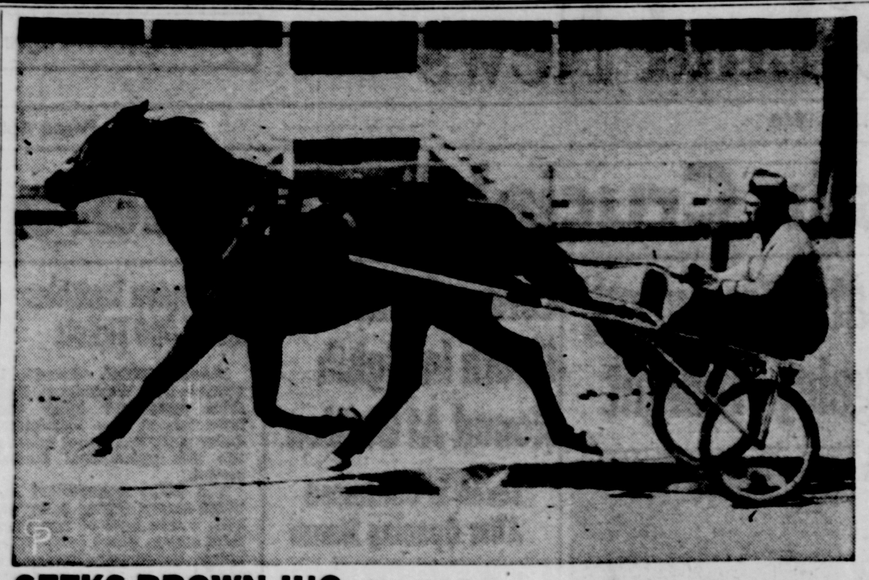

NYU's Violets won 19 straight before dropping one to Notre Dame. They added one more victory before their final loss to City College. DePaul won 21 and lost 6 and concluded a victory over St. Louis. Texas finished with a 20 and 4 record.

Tomorrow's games start at 8 p. m. (EST) with the NYU-Texas show going on first.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 12—(INS)—If you meet an old bird on the street these days muttering "a horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse," please don't mistake him for a broken-down Shakespearean actor.

He is more likely to be a harness track operator or a prospective buyer of some high-priced speed on the hoof.

For harness racing that grew up wild in the sticks has now developed into a rich hot-house plant. The Texas blue-bonnett has now become an orchid.

Fans from Earmuff, Ark. to glamorous Santa Anita and Roosevelt Raceway on Long Island will see the trotters and pacers in action at more than 700 tracks this season.

Sulky skippers will move into 75 new spots and the number of tracks will almost double the 437 operating in 1944. Big cities on the circuit include New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Toledo, Cincinnati, and the Washington-Baltimore area.

Pari-mutuel harness racing now is legalized in a dozen states with a total of 29 plants featuring the tote board rather than the county fair as a side attraction.

As a sample of how eager the boys in the bushes are to separate the chump from his change, the U. S. Trotting Association, governing body of harness racing in the United States and Canada, has received 21 applications from potential pari-mutuel plants this year.

Building problems will short-circuit many of these this season but at least a dozen new ones will see action, including three in Maryland.

The USTA actually is afraid there won't be enough horses to fill the demand of all the new tracks and therefore has empowered its president, Henry Knauf, to reject new tracks at his own discretion.

Some eastern tracks actually are contemplating overnight races with no entry fees in an attempt to hold horses at their tracks. This, of course, is gravy for the reinsmen.

Minimum purses at the two biggest harness plants, Roosevelt and Santa Anita, are pegged at $1,000. A few years ago the sulky skippers were glad to get $200 or $300.

Purse distribution jumped a million bucks last year for an all-time record of $7,453,379. But this season, with richer stakes and higher purse minimums, the total outlay is expected to surpass $10,000,000.

The 1948 campaign gets under way at Santa Anita April 2 and this track will offer two $50,000 numbers, one for trotters and one for pacers.

Fairmont Park in St. Louis will make its harness debut May 21 in a meet running to July 17 and this will be the first one-mile night racing plant in the country. Like the Cardinals and Browns in baseball, the St. Louis harness people expect more sugar at night.

Santa Anita will see Victory Song, horse of the year in 1947. Friscoway, Octave Blake's top money-winning two-year-old last season, will launch his three-year-old campaign on the coast.

Friscoway looms as the main threat to Knight Dream, last year's world champion two-year-old, in the famed Little Brown Jug Classic at Delaware, Ohio. This $50,000 race for pacers is the equivalent of the Hambletonian for trotters.

From all this one gathers the impression that the trotters and pacers are making a real challenge to the runners for public popularity — and also for the public's dough.

During the hatching season, wild turkeys make a hissing sound in imitation of a snake as a protection against disturbers seeking their eggs.

"Peter Grimes" Will End Opera Season Over Radio

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, March 12—(AP)—Another season of opera broadcasting is to come to a close via ABC at 2 p. m. Saturday. The closing production is "Peter Grimes," to run until around 5:30.

Among the Saturday changes is the appearances of the Teen-club on MBS as 11:30 a. m. in a new series. It once was on NBC at about the same morning hour. Johnny Desmond will be in the show again, the opener to come from Chattanooga, Tenn.

Then there are some changes to be made: Coffee with Congress on NBC is moving from 9:30 to 12:30 p. m.; The new Accent of Youth of CBS at 4 not to be Accent on Youth but under a title change will become Make Way For Youth; A couple of MBS programs switching with each other, the Stop Me gags to be heard at 8:30 and Keeping Up With the Kids in a quiz to go on at 9.

Ralph Edwards winner of his "walk man" contest, Mrs. Florence Hubbard of Chicago, is to be the guest of his Truth or Consequences on NBC at 8:30 p. m. She, like a lot of other folks had guessed Jack Benney.

Moscow Tube Station To Have 20 Escalators

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet capital is building what is said here to be the largest subway station in Europe.

The station is being built on Komsomolsk Square where three of Moscow's largest railway stations are located.

The new station will be 615 feet long, 85 feet wide and it will have 20 escalators. It is being built to accommodate 150,000 passengers every hour.

'Pop Goes The Weasel'

AARAU, Switzerland - (AP) Farmer Paul Hunziker was annoyed by a weasel which had established itself in a stack of firewood, and summoned four sturdy neighbors, armed with shotguns.

He placed his huntsmen strategically at the four corners of the stack, while he crept close to the wood to chase the weasel into the line of fire.

A few hours later, Hunziker woke up in a hospital with a load of shot in his head.

One of the huntsmen had mistaken his mop of brown hair for the weasel.

"Peter Grimes" Will End Opera Season Over Radio

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, March 12—(AP)—Another season of opera broadcasting is to come to a close via ABC at 2 p. m. Saturday. The closing production is "Peter Grimes," to run until around 5:30.

Among the Saturday changes is the appearances of the Teen-club on MBS as 11:30 a. m. in a new series. It once was on NBC at about the same morning hour. Johnny Desmond will be in the show again, the opener to come from Chattanooga, Tenn.

Then there are some changes to be made: Coffee with Congress on NBC is moving from 9:30 to 12:30 p. m.; The new Accent of Youth of CBS at 4 not to be Accent on Youth but under a title change will become Make Way For Youth; A couple of MBS programs switching with each other, the Stop Me gags to be heard at 8:30 and Keeping Up With the Kids in a quiz to go on at 9.

Ralph Edwards winner of his "walk man" contest, Mrs. Florence Hubbard of Chicago, is to be the guest of his Truth or Consequences on NBC at 8:30 p. m. She, like a lot of other folks had guessed Jack Benney.

The station is being built on Komsomolsk Square where three of Moscow's largest railway stations are located.

The new station will be 615 feet long, 85 feet wide and it will have 20 escalators. It is being built to accommodate 150,000 passengers every hour.

'Pop Goes The Weasel'

AARAU, Switzerland - (AP) Farmer Paul Hunziker was annoyed by a weasel which had established itself in a stack of firewood, and summoned four sturdy neighbors, armed with shotguns.

He placed his huntsmen strategically at the four corners of the stack, while he crept close to the wood to chase the weasel into the line of fire.

A few hours later, Hunziker woke up in a hospital with a load of shot in his head.

One of the huntsmen had mistaken his mop of brown hair for the weasel.

Elks Will Assist Army, Air Force Recruiting Drive

Program To Unify Work Of Organizations

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG—Frostburg Lodge No. 470, B. P. O. Elks, was notified Tuesday by the National Veterans Commission of the Grand Lodge that within a week or ten days its secretary will receive information kits explaining the new community relations program soon to be launched in towns and cities throughout the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting service.

The purpose of this program, the letter states, is to unify community support for the services, particularly the co-operation which strong national organizations have been giving individually toward creating public understanding and direct aid in raising and maintaining a strong volunteer Regular Army and Air Force.

The Elks Lodge is one of six national organizations which have endorsed the program and the Elks National Veterans Service Commission, headed by James T. Hallihan, New York City, is urging all local lodges to provide maximum aid to local recruiters in securing increased numbers of enlistments to meet continuing needs.

All Elks lodges are being urged to appoint a military manpower committee to set the Elks plan of action in motion and keep it running as long as the need exists. The local committee appointed by Frostburg Lodge is headed by John Clise, Mt. Pleasant Street, an officer of the lodge.

Hardesty Reports Crowded Garrett School Conditions

Outlines Causes, Suggests Remedy

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND—Statistics illustrating the over-crowded conditions in our schools today, not only in Garrett County but throughout the state and nation, and the steps now being taken to correct this condition locally within the next few years, were outlined by R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools, at a dinner meeting of about 75 members of the Booster's Club in the William-James hotel.

Hardesty was also principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club this week, at which time he spoke in similar vein.

Hardesty pointed out that increased school enrollments and halting of construction work in the past few years had forced schools to make use of classrooms in rented dwellings, hallways, basements and libraries. One high school rents a gymnasium from a nearby West Virginia school, and has no shop. Another uses a stage for classrooms. Shops of all high schools except one are temporary structures. Libraries of all high schools are substandard, with too small rooms, he said.

Only two high schools, he said, have space to provide a guidance room, which he termed so essential in a modern school. Only three of the 47 schools in the county have cafeterias.

These and other crowded conditions were outlined and Hardesty said children were being educated in poorly lighted one-room buildings heated by coal stoves with outside toilets and pumps.

All these conditions and problems in this county are not unlike those of other counties of Maryland, which are also undertaking building programs.

Agencies contributing to future over-crowded conditions and proving a need for speeding up a county-wide building program were stated as follows: (1) 250 seventh graders, who belong in high school buildings, now being housed in elementary buildings. (2) Provision in compulsory attendance law whereby some 14 and 15-year old pupils may withdraw from school has been removed by law, effective 1949, and will increase county enrollment by about 100 students. (3) Children now in the ninth grade will not graduate in June, 1950, but will enter the new 12th grade in September, 1951, meaning an approximate increase of 293 pupils. (4) By law, effective 1951, elementary class size must reduce from 35 to 30 pupils. This will require more classrooms and result in better educational opportunities.

Four members of the State department of Education will come to Garrett county early in April, Hardesty said, to work in evaluating the present educational program to determine to what extent our instructional offerings are meeting the needs of the boys and girls.

Dr. Clarence Newell, University of Maryland; Dr. E. L. Morphet, Florida State Department of Education; Dr. N. L. Englehardt, New York City State Department of Education, building consultants, will visit and evaluate the condition of all 47 school buildings and then recommend a master county-wide school building program.

There are also plans for the early employment of an architect.

Governor To Speak

Governor W. Preston Lane will be speaker at a special meeting of the Oakland Rotary Club and their guests next Thursday evening, at the William-James hotel. It is a program especially for "Ladies' Night."

What America needs to do in order to play its part in the critical world situation will be discussed in the third lecture of the Oakland Rotary Club's forum at the Methodist Church assembly room next Monday.

Dr. Wesley M. Gewehr, chairman of the history department, University of Maryland, will speak on the subject, "The Great Dilemma."

Dr. Gewehr spent a year in China in 1925. History professor at Denison and American universities, he went to Maryland in 1940. In 1945 he was named as civilian chairman of the history departments of the Army universities in England and France. He was also assigned to the Army Educational Bureau in Germany.

He is the author of a number of books.

Marriage Announced

The marriage of Miss Margaret Smet, South Bend, Indiana, and Chester Roland Sines, Oakland, took place March 1 at the home of Rev. J. E. Johnson, who performed the ceremony.

The couple was attended by Miss Barbara Winters and Delbert Swartzentruber.

Mr. Sines recently was discharged from the U. S. Navy at San Diego, California, after serving for one year and ten months. Following a visit to South Bend the couple will reside in San Diego.

High School Play

"Angel Face," a comedy in one act, and "The Opening of a Door," a one-act play on the supernatural, are to be presented next Thursday, by Oakland High School Thespians in the school auditorium.

Actors in the first include Fred Bell, Barbara Winters, Peter MacMurray, Barbara Filsinger, Della Biggs, Norma Roth, Homer Bennett and Charles Moore.

Actors in the second presentation include Louise Gross, Tommy Lewis, Vivian Paugh, Gaye Bolyard, Mahlon Yost, and Patty Filsinger. During the intermission there will be tap dancing by Barbara Pollock, a Floradora sextet composed of Boyd Friend, Max Beckman, Wayne Hauser, Charles Martin, Richard Leighton and William Hesen, and directed by William Lambert. Another skit will include Ben Knepp, Junior Harvey, James Fitzwater, Paul Bernard, David Whittaker and Karl Smith.

Regulation Clarified

The timber-cutting regulation, recently established by the Garrett County Forestry Board, under the terms of the Forest Conservancy Act, will include the following tree species as desirable trees, it was announced by the Department of Forest and Parks: red oak, white oak, sugar maple, red maple, hemlock, black cherry, all pine, white ash, black walnut, yellow birch and spruce.

According to the department, no tree of the foregoing species shall be cut that is less than seven inches in diameter, measured one foot above the average ground level, unless prior approval is obtained from the county forestry board. All other species, it was pointed out, may be cut to any desired diameter.

It was emphasized that the regulation does not apply to those farmers and others who cut timber from their own land for personal use.

History In Song Is Lions Topic

By MRS. ROSE O'ROURKE

MT. SAVAGE—Lewyn C. Davis, principal of Lonaconing High School, was the guest speaker at the Mt. Savage Lions club Thursday night in the recreation room of the Methodist Church.

Davis chose as his topic "American History in Song," and related to the club the various phases of songs that have come down through the years. According to Davis, during the years 1830 to 1840, the movement of the pioneers was to the West and they gave forth with such songs as "Buffalo Gal," "Old Zip Coon," and "Old Man Tucker," all of which reflect the lives of the pioneers who would gather around fires at night for wholesome recreation.

Davis continued with the Civil War giving out with such songs as "Just Before the Battle Mother," "Marching Through Georgia" and "My Maryland." The Spanish-American War was recorded with "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." As for World War No. 1 "Pack Up Your Troubles" was a popular tune and during the last war "God Bless America," "White Cliffs of Dover," "Pass the Ammunition," "Coming in on a Wing and a Prayer" were most popular, which leads Davis to believe they will remain as the others and become standard songs.

Hardesty Reports Crowded Garrett School Conditions

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND—Statistics illustrating the over-crowded conditions in our schools today, not only in Garrett County but throughout the state and nation, and the steps now being taken to correct this condition locally within the next few years, were outlined by R. Bowen Hardesty, assistant superintendent of schools, at a dinner meeting of about 75 members of the Booster's Club in the William-James hotel.

Hardesty was also principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club this week, at which time he spoke in similar vein.

Hardesty pointed out that increased school enrollments and halting of construction work in the past few years had forced schools to make use of classrooms in rented dwellings, hallways, basements and libraries. One high school rents a gymnasium from a nearby West Virginia school, and has no shop. Another uses a stage for classrooms. Shops of all high schools except one are temporary structures. Libraries of all high schools are substandard, with too small rooms, he said.

Only two high schools, he said, have space to provide a guidance room, which he termed so essential in a modern school. Only three of the 47 schools in the county have cafeterias.

These and other crowded conditions were outlined and Hardesty said children were being educated in poorly lighted one-room buildings heated by coal stoves with outside toilets and pumps.

All these conditions and problems in this county are not unlike those of other counties of Maryland, which are also undertaking building programs.

Agencies contributing to future over-crowded conditions and proving a need for speeding up a county-wide building program were stated as follows: (1) 250 seventh graders, who belong in high school buildings, now being housed in elementary buildings. (2) Provision in compulsory attendance law whereby some 14 and 15-year old pupils may withdraw from school has been removed by law, effective 1949, and will increase county enrollment by about 100 students. (3) Children now in the ninth grade will not graduate in June, 1950, but will enter the new 12th grade in September, 1951, meaning an approximate increase of 293 pupils. (4) By law, effective 1951, elementary class size must reduce from 35 to 30 pupils. This will require more classrooms and result in better educational opportunities.

Four members of the State department of Education will come to Garrett county early in April, Hardesty said, to work in evaluating the present educational program to determine to what extent our instructional offerings are meeting the needs of the boys and girls.

Dr. Clarence Newell, University of Maryland; Dr. E. L. Morphet, Florida State Department of Education; Dr. N. L. Englehardt, New York City State Department of Education, building consultants, will visit and evaluate the condition of all 47 school buildings and then recommend a master county-wide school building program.

There are also plans for the early employment of an architect.

Governor To Speak

Governor W. Preston Lane will be speaker at a special meeting of the Oakland Rotary Club and their guests next Thursday evening, at the William-James hotel. It is a program especially for "Ladies' Night."

What America needs to do in order to play its part in the critical world situation will be discussed in the third lecture of the Oakland Rotary Club's forum at the Methodist Church assembly room next Monday.

Dr. Wesley M. Gewehr, chairman of the history department, University of Maryland, will speak on the subject, "The Great Dilemma."

Dr. Gewehr spent a year in China in 1925. History professor at Denison and American universities, he went to Maryland in 1940. In 1945 he was named as civilian chairman of the history departments of the Army universities in England and France. He was also assigned to the Army Educational Bureau in Germany.

He is the author of a number of books.

Regulation Clarified

The timber-cutting regulation, recently established by the Garrett County Forestry Board, under the terms of the Forest Conservancy Act, will include the following tree species as desirable trees, it was announced by the Department of Forest and Parks: red oak, white oak, sugar maple, red maple, hemlock, black cherry, all pine, white ash, black walnut, yellow birch and spruce.

According to the department, no tree of the foregoing species shall be cut that is less than seven inches in diameter, measured one foot above the average ground level, unless prior approval is obtained from the county forestry board. All other species, it was pointed out, may be cut to any desired diameter.

It was emphasized that the regulation does not apply to those farmers and others who cut timber from their own land for personal use.

History In Song Is Lions Topic

By MRS. ROSE O'ROURKE

MT. SAVAGE—Lewyn C. Davis, principal of Lonaconing High School, was the guest speaker at the Mt. Savage Lions club Thursday night in the recreation room of the Methodist Church.

Davis chose as his topic "American History in Song," and related to the club the various phases of songs that have come down through the years. According to Davis, during the years 1830 to 1840, the movement of the pioneers was to the West and they gave forth with such songs as "Buffalo Gal," "Old Zip Coon," and "Old Man Tucker," all of which reflect the lives of the pioneers who would gather around fires at night for wholesome recreation.

Davis continued with the Civil War giving out with such songs as "Just Before the Battle Mother," "Marching Through Georgia" and "My Maryland." The Spanish-American War was recorded with "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." As for World War No. 1 "Pack Up Your Troubles" was a popular tune and during the last war "God Bless America," "White Cliffs of Dover," "Pass the Ammunition," "Coming in on a Wing and a Prayer" were most popular, which leads Davis to believe they will remain as the others and become standard songs.

Hardy County March Of Dimes Nets Over $1200

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Irvin Bowman, chairman of the March of Dimes drive in Hardy County this year, reports the final total of donations of $1,291.70, the largest amount ever raised for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in the county.

Bowman expressed his thanks to the citizens for their support in the campaign. Last year's donations totaled $769.28. A balance of $1,546.26 is now in the county chapter's treasury for use in the event of a polio case in the county. This money will be invested in government bonds.

The county schools donated $331.61 in this year's campaign. Expenses for the coin boxes, buttons and posters amounted to $69.66.

Measure Extending

Increase On Lease Basis

1. Rents could be increased 15 per cent where tenants and landlords agreed on a lease running through 1949. However, tenants who agreed to a 15 per cent hike last year—under the present law—could not be charged another increase during the life of the new law.

2. For those tenants who have agreed to a 15 per cent increase in return for leases running through 1948 rents would be "frozen" from January 1, 1949, to the end of March, 1949. Then rent control would end for them.

3. Generally speaking there could be no increase before March 31, 1949, unless tenants consent or unless the local rent boards decides to grant such an increase or decontrol of the area entirely.

4. The House committee bill specifically directs the Federal Administrator to act to relieve landlords who can prove they are suffering hardships. The Senate measure would require rent hikes where landlords could show they are losing money.

Once-Rejected

Santa Cruz said in addition to asking for a non-voting seat in the council for Chile, he would demand that Papanek be seated to speak for Czechoslovakia.

Western Europe

United States, wishing to associate itself with the work of the union would have to deal with the European union as a whole, the Associated Press was informed. It could not join and have a voice inside it.

The agreement, which includes four of the world's greatest colonial powers, provides for automatic inutual aid in case of attack in Europe. It calls for consultation in case of attack in colonial areas.

It was reliably understood to go farther than any of its authors originally had planned.

The final result was described by one authoritative source as the putting together the ideas of "British political internationalism, French juridicial preciseness and Benelux business mindedness."

Pact Called "Sensational"

Apparently the British came with the intention of formulating a simple pact carrying the warning "don't tread on me." They ran into hard-headed Dutch, Belgian and Luxembourg businessmen-statesmen, however, who put a premium on saving their standard of living and who were not now so much concerned with danger from Germany as Russia.

As each side went farther in making concessions, the pact took a shape described by a high French embassy source as "sensational."

"The European union is unlike anything that has ever been tried on this continent," this informant added.

One source predicted "there will be no great rush of other European nations to join as much as we want them. They will learn when they see the pact is no mere political gesture. It must be done seriously and will involve far-reaching commitments."

Senate Spurns

"very, very serious" and that "a great crisis" exists.

"I do not interpret them to mean," Taft said, 'that they have any reason to expect warlike attacks from Communist nations. I assume that if they had any such reasons, they would tell the country what those reasons are.

"I know of no indication of Russian intention to undertake military aggression beyond the sphere of influence which was originally assigned to them."

Czechoslovakia's going Communist, Taft said, is "indeed tragic."

"But there has been no (Russian) military advance and the situation is merely a logical development from the agreements made at Yalta and Potsdam," the senator said.

Earlier, the Senate Republican Policy Committee adopted a tentative timetable for action on all major foreign aid programs by April 10—eight days before the Italian elections which are expected to provide the next test of Communist strength in Europe.

Palestine with a flat statement that its position favoring partition was not changed.

Today it took note of published reports in which United Nations sources expressed belief that the United States has abandoned the United Nations program for partitioning Palestine.

The second statement insisted that there must be a peaceful solution of the Palestine problem. The United States delegation said the purpose of the big power talks is to find a means for carrying out peacefully the recommendation of the United Nations Assembly for the partition of Palestine within an economic union.

Seeks $100 Month Pension

Lewis is seeking a pension of $100 a month for miners over 60 years of age and with 20 years' service. He would not discuss the demand with reporters, but said the pension proposal could not cost more than 10 or 15 million dollars in the first year. In any case, he said, it could not exceed the amount actually collected by the 10-cent royalty.

In the letter, Lewis told the miners:

"During the past year and throughout the hard winter which has afflicted the nation, our membership have continued loyally and with a sense of public duty to break all records in the production of coal. This service increased the profits of the coal companies and should have won their respect for contract and some consideration for human values; but instead had made them contemptuous of their contractual and moral obligations.

"The winter is now gone. This office proposes to go forward in requiring the coal operators to honor their agreement. Your ears will soon be assailed by their outcries and wails of anguish. To relieve themselves, they need only to comply with the provisions of the agreement which they solemnly executed in this office on July 8, 1947."

Lewis roared "no" when asked if he had notified the Conciliation and Mediation Service of the dispute which he says exists.

"Do you mean the Taft slave bill mediation service?" he asked.

the Charter and so refused to interfere. The effect in my case, was to make me pay about double the 30 cents per 1,000 gallons, collected from others, although my consumption was about seven times as great as the consumption allowed for the regular $18 minimum applied to other domestic consumers, of 30 cents per 1,000 gallons.

"The courts have refused to interfere, and so the wronged 2,009 water consumers who are now compelled to pay these discriminating and unnecessary fictitious meter-minimums, can look to the Mayor and City Council alone, to right the wrong.

"What crime have these 2,009 house-owners committed that they should be denied the equal treatment granted all others of paying according to meter-proof of their consumption, under the general scale of rates? Have they not paid their increased taxes, increased prices for coal, etc., like the other water customers?

ing fund or serial bond requirements; and in case of any deficit in the operations of the water department, then the water rentals shall be increased in order to prevent any future deficit, and to liquidate the past deficit.'

"While the city claims that it does not aim at a profit, it has in fact accumulated a profit of $351,714.94, surplus over all expenses in the last few years, according to the auditors report, about the amount of these fictitious double, trebel, or quadruple meter-minimums collected from the 2,009 house-owner customers picked out by the ordinance, from the 9,084 customers it serves, for these discriminating burdens.

"The city has not turned this surplus over to the sinking fund trustess to apply in reduction of the outstanding water bonds. Instead, it contemplates applying it to extentions of the water plant, which it has planned, and so avoiding a vote by the people on a bond issue as to that amount. This means in effect that 2,009 of the water customers are singled out of the 9,084 customers to supply capital for new construction.

Cites Court Decision

"What do the courts say about such fictitious meter - minimum charges? I can answer that question from my own personal experience, when represented by very able counsel, I challenged the city's action in the courts. The courts decided in effect, that the City Council had 'do as it pleases' power to interpret

Practice Not Common

"And why should the city council be less just than the city councils of Hagerstown, Altoona, Baltimore, Washington, and other cities generally without exception, none of which ask the payment of such fictitious meter-minimums. The courts have said, in effect, you the Council have "Do as you please" power on the subject matter. Why not exercise that power to grant the same equal rights to these 2,009 meter customers granted to all the others of the 9,084.

"May I add that no present member of the city council or its mayor had anything to do with the passage of the ordinances under which these objectionable fictitious meter-minimums were imposed. They were not in office when they were passed; they are therefore, under no bond of consistency to defend or continue them. Why then should they not feel free to make the necessary amendments to such ordinances which plain justice dictates. I do not think other water-takers would object to such action."

Lewis presented this report:

Garment Production To Be Normal Monday

Normal operations at the Cumberland Undergarment Company which was damaged by fire February 25, will be resumed Monday, Maurice Milberg, manager, reported yesterday.

Milberg said loss from the fire which started in an air duct, will approximate $100,000.

The plant resumed 40 per cent operation the Monday after the blaze and has been operating at 90 per cent of normal this week. About 375 persons are employed at the plant on Gay Street.

Co-operation of employes and suppliers has aided in the speedy progress made after the fire, he said.

Although the plant plans to employ from 500 to 600 workers, the inability to secure additional materials has delayed expansion plans, Milberg said.

LET THE BUNNY BRING HER EASTER GLAMOR

EASTER EGG. . .Black decorated with hand-painted flowers, holds perfume props sure to please her.

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Give her something to add to her glamor this Easter. Her charm in a pretty new suit and gay Easter bonnet can be further enhanced by the gift of a lovely compact, a complete new makeup ensemble in the pink mood or perfume.

The Easter bunny has whipped up some attractive new packages to please that Lady on Easter morn. White enamel compacts gaily decorated with birds will be a sure-fire hit. No matter what colors her Easter finery accents, there's a bird from the bright red cardinal to the blue jay and the yellow-feathered Baltimore oriole to complement her costume.

Perfume is encased in eye-catching packages. A miniature shiny black sailor hat trimmed with frills of net and bright cerise bow and streamers holds two bottles of perfume. One glistening black egg, hand - painted with vari - colored spring flowers, holds three scents. Another egg decorated to give a sugar-coated effect also holds three bottles.

Whatever you decide to give that special someone for Easter, make sure it will flatter her vanity. Easter is a dress-up day when it is smart and fashionable to confess that everything one is wearing is brand new.

Verdicts Expected In Cases Against Bartenders Today

Two Will Enter Pleas At 9 A. M.

Verdicts in four cases against bartenders of local taverns, accused of selling alcoholic beverages to minors, are expected this morning after the last two cases are heard in Police Court.

Arrested Thursday night, the four bartenders, three men and a woman, posted $200, two for hearings yesterday, when they entered pleas of "not guilty" and two are scheduled for trials this morning at 9 o'clock.

Following testimony on the charges against Allen Knippenberg, an employe of the Alibi Cocktail Lounge, 28 Baltimore Street, and Ralph Cameron, bartender at the City Cafe, 134 North Centre Street, Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., withheld his decision until this morning when the remaining two cases are scheduled.

Fay Hartley, employed at the G. and W. Restaurant, 43 North Mechanic Street, are the two scheduled for trial this morning.

Knippenberg and Cameron, both represented by counsel at yesterday's hearings, pleaded not guilty to the charges, which police said were the outgrowth of a 17-year-old youth's conduct, who was arrested Tuesday on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct and resisting an officer.

The youth, Donald J. Cavey, 800 Lafayette Avenue, who was given a one-year prison term in Juvenile Court, testified at the hearings yesterday along with John Pendergast, 18, Lafayette Avenue, who allegedly accompanied the youth when he visited the four taverns. The youths identified both defendents as the persons who served them.

Both Cavey and Pendergast told Magistrate Bruce they drank whisky in the Alibi Cocktail Lounge after consuming approximately 10 bottles of beer in the other three taverns.

Knippenberg, represented by Harold E. Naughton, testified that Cavey and Pendergast entered the Alibi shortly after George Devers, 115 Frederick Street, ordered a drink and then left with him. The bartender denied serving the two youths.

Devers was also arrested yesterday morning and is being held on $500 for a hearing this morning in Juvenile Court, where police said he will be charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Cameron, represented by Frederick A. Puderbaugh, likewise denied serving the two youths, who he admitted entered the City Cafe shortly after 8:15 o'clock Tuesday morning. Cameron's testimony was corraborated by James Shaffer, Hyndman, Pa., a customer at the time, who told Magistrate Bruce the two men created a disturbance while they were in the place, but were not served while he was there.

The four bartenders were arrested Thursday after Cavey and Pendergas identified them at Police Headquarters.

By KATHERINE FISHER

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Irvin Bowman, chairman of the March of Dimes drive in Hardy County this year, reports the final total of donations of $1,291.70, the largest amount ever raised for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in the county.

Bowman expressed his thanks to the citizens for their support in the campaign. Last year's donations totaled $769.28. A balance of $1,-546.26 is now in the county chapter's treasury for use in the event of a polio case in the county. This money will be invested in government bonds.

The county schools donated $331.61 in this year's campaign. Expenses for the coin boxes, buttons and posters amounted to $69.66.

Increase On Lease Basis

1. Rents could be increased 15 per cent where tenants and landlords agreed on a lease running through 1949. However, tenants who agreed to a 15 per cent hike last year—under the present law—could not be charged another increase during the life of the new law.

2. For those tenants who have agreed to a 15 per cent increase in return for leases running through 1948 rents would be "frozen" from January 1, 1949, to the end of March, 1949. Then rent control would end for them.

3. Generally speaking there could be no increase before March 31, 1949, unless tenants consent or unless the local rent boards decides to grant such an increase or decontrol of the area entirely.

4. The House committee bill specifically directs the Federal Administrator to act to relieve landlords who can prove they are suffering hardships. The Senate measure would require rent hikes where landlords could show they are losing money.

Santa Cruz said in addition to asking for a non-voting seat in the council for Chile, he would demand that Papanek be seated to speak for Czechoslovakia.

Western Europe

United States, wishing to associate itself with the work of the union would have to deal with the European union as a whole, the Associated Press was informed. It could not join and have a voice inside it.

The agreement, which includes four of the world's greatest colonial powers, provides for automatic inutual aid in case of attack in Europe. It calls for consultation in case of attack in colonial areas.

It was reliably understood to go farther than any of its authors originally had planned.

The final result was described by one authoritative source as the putting together the ideas of "British political internationalism, French juridicial preciseness and Benelux business mindedness."

Pact Called "Sensational"

Apparently the British came with the intention of formulating a simple pact carrying the warning "don't tread on me." They ran into hard-headed Dutch, Belgian and Luxembourg businessmen-statesmen, however, who put a premium on saving their standard of living and who were not now so much concerned with danger from Germany as Russia.

As each side went farther in making concessions, the pact took a shape described by a high French embassy source as "sensational."

"The European union is unlike anything that has ever been tried on this continent," this informant added.

One source predicted "there will be no great rush of other European nations to join as much as we want them. They will learn when they see the pact is no mere political gesture. It must be done seriously and will involve far-reaching commitments."

Senate Spurns

"very, very serious" and that "a great crisis" exists.

"I do not interpret them to mean," Taft said, 'that they have any reason to expect warlike attacks from Communist nations. I assume that if they had any such reasons, they would tell the country what those reasons are.

"I know of no indication of Russian intention to undertake military aggression beyond the sphere of influence which was originally assigned to them."

Czechoslovakia's going Communist, Taft said, is "indeed tragic."

"But there has been no (Russian) military advance and the situation is merely a logical development from the agreements made at Yalta and Potsdam," the senator said.

Earlier, the Senate Republican Policy Committee adopted a tentative timetable for action on all major foreign aid programs by April 10—eight days before the Italian elections which are expected to provide the next test of Communist strength in Europe.

The United States delegation said the purpose of the big power talks is to find a means for carrying out peacefully the recommendation of the United Nations Assembly for the partition of Palestine within an economic union.

Seeks $100 Month Pension

Lewis is seeking a pension of $100 a month for miners over 60 years of age and with 20 years' service. He would not discuss the demand with reporters, but said the pension proposal could not cost more than 10 or 15 million dollars in the first year. In any case, he said, it could not exceed the amount actually collected by the 10-cent royalty.

In the letter, Lewis told the miners:

"During the past year and throughout the hard winter which has afflicted the nation, our membership have continued loyally and with a sense of public duty to break all records in the production of coal. This service increased the profits of the coal companies and should have won their respect for contract and some consideration for human values; but instead had made them contemptuous of their contractual and moral obligations.

"The winter is now gone. This office proposes to go forward in requiring the coal operators to honor their agreement. Your ears will soon be assailed by their outcries and wails of anguish. To relieve themselves, they need only to comply with the provisions of the agreement which they solemnly executed in this office on July 8, 1947."

Lewis roared "no" when asked if he had notified the Conciliation and Mediation Service of the dispute which he says exists.

"Do you mean the Taft slave bill mediation service?" he asked, the Charter and so refused to interfere. The effect in my case, was to make me pay about double the 30 cents per 1,000 gallons, collected from others, although my consumption was about seven times as great as the consumption allowed for the regular $18 minimum applied to other domestic consumers, of 30 cents per 1,000 gallons.

"The courts have refused to interfere, and so the wronged 2,009 water consumers who are now compelled to pay these discriminating and unnecessary fictitious meter-minimums, can look to the Mayor and City Council alone, to right the wrong.

"What crime have these 2,009 house-owners committed that they should be denied the equal treatment granted all others of paying according to meter-proof of their consumption, under the general scale of rates? Have they not paid their increased taxes, increased prices for coal, etc., like the other water customers?

ing fund or serial bond requirements; and in case of any deficit in the operations of the water department, then the water rentals shall be increased in order to prevent any future deficit, and to liquidate the past deficit.'

"While the city claims that it does not aim at a profit, it has in fact accumulated a profit of $351,-714.94, surplus over all expenses in the last few years, according to the auditors report, about the amount of these fictitious double, trebel, or quadruple meter-minimums collected from the 2,009 house-owner customers picked out by the ordinance, from the 9,084 customers it serves, for these discriminating burdens.

"The city has not turned this surplus over to the sinking fund trustess to apply in reduction of the outstanding water bonds. Instead, it contemplates applying it to extentions of the water plant, which it has planned, and so avoiding a vote by the people on a bond issue as to that amount. This means in effect that 2,009 of the water customers are singled out of the 9,084 customers to supply capital for new construction.

Cites Court Decision

"What do the courts say about such fictitious meter - minimum charges? I can answer that question from my own personal experience, when represented by very able counsel, I challenged the city's action in the courts. The courts decided in effect, that the City Council had 'do as it pleases' power to interpret

Practice Not Common

"And why should the city council be less just than the city councils of Hagerstown, Altoona, Baltimore, Washington, and other cities generally without exception, none of which ask the payment of such fictitious meter-minimums. The courts have said, in effect, you the Council have "Do as you please" power on the subject matter. Why not exercise that power to grant the same equal rights to these 2,009 meter customers granted to all the others of the 9,084.

"May I add that no present member of the city council or its mayor had anything to do with the passage of the ordinances under which these objectionable fictitious meter-minimums were imposed. They were not in office when they were passed; they are therefore, under no bond of consistency to defend or continue them. Why then should they not feel free to make the necessary amendments to such ordinances which plain justice dictates. I do not think other water-takers would object to such action."

Lewis presented this report:

Garment Production To Be Normal Monday

Normal operations at the Cumberland Undergarment Company which was damaged by fire February 25, will be resumed Monday, Maurice Milberg, manager, reported yesterday.

Milberg said loss from the fire which started in an air duct, will approximate $100,000.

The plant resumed 40 per cent operation the Monday after the blaze and has been operating at 90 per cent of normal this week. About 375 persons are employed at the plant on Gay Street.

Co-operation of employes and suppliers has aided in the speedy progress made after the fire, he said.

Although the plant plans to employ from 500 to 600 workers, the inability to secure additional materials has delayed expansion plans, Milberg said.

Commissioners Hear About Jap Beetles

The Allegany Board of County Commissioners will allot $1,138.50 as its share in ridding the county of the Jap beetle.

The board took action following a meeting with three agricultural officials this week. The state will pay a similar sum as its share.

Appearing before the board were Dr. George S. Langford, Department of Entomology, University of Maryland, Ralph F. McHenry, county farm agent, and Hugh Stevenson, chairman of the control program for the county.

Undergoes Operation

Rev. Benedict Wich, O.F.M. Cap., of SS. Peter and Paul Monastery here, who underwent an operation in Allegany Hospital last Friday, is reported getting along satisfactorily. Father Benedict, who is 82, is senior priest of the Pittsburgh province of the Capuchin order, both in point of age and ordination.

Driver Forfeits Bond

Arrested yesterday morning at 1:35 o'clock, Lawrence Rank, 111 McCulloh Street, Frostburg, last night forfeited $25 bond in Frostburg Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of careless driving. Officers Ronald Krieder and John Kerr arrested Rank on Main Street.

LET THE BUNNY BRING HER EASTER GLAMOR

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Give her something to add to her glamor this Easter. Her charm in a pretty new suit and gay Easter bonnet can be further enhanced by the gift of a lovely compact, a complete new makeup ensemble in the pink mood or perfume.

The Easter bunny has whipped up some attractive new packages to please that Lady on Easter morn. White enamel compacts gaily decorated with birds will be a sure-fire hit. No matter what colors her Easter finery accents, there's a bird from the bright red cardinal to the blue jay and the yellow-feathered Baltimore oriole to complement her costume.

Perfume is encased in eye-catching packages. A miniature shiny black sailor hat trimmed with frills of net and bright cerise bow and streamers holds two bottles of perfume. One glistening black egg, hand - painted with vari - colored spring flowers, holds three scents. Another egg decorated to give a sugar-coated effect also holds three bottles.

Whatever you decide to give that special someone for Easter, make sure it will flatter her vanity. Easter is a dress-up day when it is smart and fashionable to confess that everything one is wearing is brand new.

Verdicts Expected In Cases Against Bartenders Today

Two Will Enter Pleas At 9 A. M.

Verdicts in four cases against bartenders of local taverns, accused of selling alcoholic beverages to minors, are expected this morning after the last two cases are heard in Police Court.

Arrested Thursday night, the four bartenders, three men and a woman, posted $200, two for hearings yesterday, when they entered pleas of "not guilty" and two are scheduled for trials this morning at 9 o'clock.

Following testimony on the charges against Allen Knippenberg, an employe of the Alibi Cocktail Lounge, 28 Baltimore Street, and Ralph Cameron, bartender at the City Cafe, 134 North Centre Street, Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., withheld his decision until this morning when the remaining two cases are scheduled.

Fay Hartley, employed at the G. and W. Restaurant, 43 North Mechanic Street, are the two scheduled for trial this morning.

Knippenberg and Cameron, both represented by counsel at yesterday's hearings, pleaded not guilty to the charges, which police said were the outgrowth of a 17-year-old youth's conduct, who was arrested Tuesday on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct and resisting an officer.

The youth, Donald J. Cavey, 800 Lafayette Avenue, who was given a one-year prison term in Juvenile Court, testified at the hearings yesterday along with John Pendergast, 18, Lafayette Avenue, who allegedly accompanied the youth when he visited the four taverns. The youths identified both defendents as the persons who served them.

Both Cavey and Pendergast told Magistrate Bruce they drank whisky in the Alibi Cocktail Lounge after consuming approximately 10 bottles of beer in the other three taverns.

Knippenberg, represented by Harold E. Naughton, testified that Cavey and Pendergast entered the Alibi shortly after George Devers, 115 Frederick Street, ordered a drink and then left with him. The bartender denied serving the two youths.

Devers was also arrested yesterday morning and is being held on $500 for a hearing this morning in Juvenile Court, where police said he will be charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Cameron, represented by Frederick A. Puderbaugh, likewise denied serving the two youths, who he admitted entered the City Cafe shortly after 8:15 o'clock Tuesday morning. Cameron's testimony was corraborated by James Shaffer, Hyndman, Pa., a customer at the time, who told Magistrate Bruce the two men created a disturbance while they were in the place, but were not served while he was there.

The four bartenders were arrested Thursday after Cavey and Pendergas identified them at Police Headquarters.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, S/Sgt. Charles Leroy Perdew, who was killed in Germany, 3 years ago, March 13, 1945.

We miss your voice and cheerful smile
That made each day seem worth the while,
Your helping hand and courage too,
That friends always admired in you.

The way you would grin and often play
With little children along the way,
How we miss you, Leroy, you will never know,
But it seems the best must always go.

You were so sweet in every way,
Your memory lives with us each day,
God took you, dear, but we know why;
For a better home up in the sky.

Oh, what we would give to clasp your hand,
Your dear kind face to see,
Your loving smile, your welcome voice
That meant so much to me.

Sadly missed by his MOTHER, FATHER, SISTERS & BROTHERS.

In loving remembrance of our dear Mother, Mrs. Annie Jeffries, Midland, Md., who departed this life three years ago today March 13, 1945.

What is home without a Mother,
All things this world may send;
But when we lost our darling Mother,
We lost our dearest friend.
For those who have a Mother,
Tender her with care;
For you never know her value,
Until you see her vacant chair.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, S/Sgt. Charles Leroy Perdew, who was killed in Germany, 3 years ago, March 13, 1945.

We miss your voice and cheerful smile
That made each day seem worth the while,
Your helping hand and courage too,
That friends always admired in you.

The way you would grin and often play
With little children along the way,
How we miss you, Leroy, you will never know,
But it seems the best must always go.

You were so sweet in every way,
Your memory lives with us each day,
God took you, dear, but we know why;
For a better home up in the sky.

Oh, what we would give to clasp your hand,
Your dear kind face to see,
Your loving smile, your welcome voice
That meant so much to me.

Sadly missed by his MOTHER, FATHER, SISTERS & BROTHERS.

In loving remembrance of our dear Mother, Mrs. Annie Jeffries, Midland, Md., who departed this life three years ago today March 13, 1945.

What is home without a Mother,
All things this world may send;
But when we lost our darling Mother,
We lost our dearest friend.
For those who have a Mother,
Tender her with care;
For you never know her value,
Until you see her vacant chair.

JOHNSON HEIGHTS
I have two beautifully located lots on the northeast corner of Hill Top Drive and Caroline Street. The inside lot is 35'x130', PRICE $1000. The corner lot fronts 41' on Hill Top Drive with a depth of 130' along Caroline Street, PRICE $1,200. These two lots would provide a beautiful home-site with ample space for a garage apartment in rear on Caroline Street. This would also make a fine apartment building site. As single lots each is the size most dwellings have been built upon on Johnson Heights.
Also have a dandy lot in the 400 block Louisiana Avenue for $1075, another in the 900 block for $1190 and one in the 600 block on Brookfield Avenue for $1000.

Assorted Stocks Negotiate Slight Recovery In Slow-Going Session

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—Assorted stocks struggled for recovery with some success today although many market leaders dozed in lower territory.

It was a slow-going session from the start. Transfers for the full proceedings of 680,000 shares compared with 820,000 the day before and were a low since Tuesday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 61.2 for the second straight day. It was the narrowest session in a week. Of 912 issues registering, 346 fell, 332 rose and 234 were all even.

Atlantic Gulf and West Indies added four points at 38¾, and Electric Power and Light added one at 17¼.

Fractional improvement was retained by Paramount Pictures, Twentieth Century-Fox, Warner Brothers, Loew's, Universal Pictures and R-K-O. Gulf Mobile and Ohio was active and up five-eighths at 16¾.

Easier were General Motors, United States Rubber, Firestone Tire, Schenley, Kennecott, American Telephone, Western Union, du Pont, International Paper, and Standard Oil (NJ).

JOHNSON HEIGHTS
I have two beautifully located lots on the northeast corner of Hill Top Drive and Caroline Street. The inside lot is 35'130', PRICE $1000. The corner lot fronts 41' on Hill Top Drive with a depth of 130' along Caroline Street, PRICE $1,300. These two lots would provide a beautiful home-site with ample space for a garage apartment in rear on Caroline Street. This would also make a fine apartment building site. As single lots each is the size most dwellings have been built upon on Johnson Heights.
Also have a dandy lot in the 400 block Louisiana Avenue for $1075, another in the 900 block for $1190 and one in the 600 block on Brookfield Avenue for $1000.

Assorted Stocks Negotiate Slight Recovery In Slow-Going Session

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—Assorted stocks struggled for recovery with some success today although many market leaders dozed in lower territory.

It was a slow-going session from the start. Transfers for the full proceedings of 680,000 shares compared with 820,000 the day before and were a low since Tuesday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 61.2 for the second straight day. It was the narrowest session in a week. Of 912 issues registering, 346 fell, 332 rose and 234 were all even.

Atlantic Gulf and West Indies added four points at 38¾, and Electric Power and Light added one at 17¼.

Fractional improvement was retained by Paramount Pictures, Twentieth Century-Fox, Warner Brothers, Loew's, Universal Pictures and R-K-O. Gulf Mobile and Ohio was active and up five-eighths at 16⅜.

Easier were General Motors, United States Rubber, Firestone Tire, Schenley, Kennecott, American Telephone, Western Union, du Pont, International Paper, and Standard Oil (NJ.).

Among curb advancers were Kaiser-Frazer and United Light. Turnover here was 180,000 shares versus 230,000 yesterday.

1,400 Industrial Workers Laid Off In Past 12 Months

Labor Situation Is "Poor," Carroll Says

Despite the fact that a general furlough trend is not in evidence in Allegany County's industrial plants, Patrick J. Carroll, manager of the local office of the Employment Service, said yesterday that 1,400 workers have been furloughed in the past 12 months.

Carroll said the figures represent workers from most of the county's industries, but added it is not noticeable in any particular plant.

The 1,400 workers are included in the county's 2,500 unemployed, a figure that was released by Carroll March 1, he said, adding that little change is expected in the general situation for the next two or three months.

New construction projects and State Roads Commission work may relieve the labor situation in the area "slightly" over the summer period, according to Carroll, "but the overall picture of job situations is visibly poor."

Carroll said the present job opportunities offered to unemployed persons in the county consist of positions for maids, and salesmen who will work on commission.

Such positions were open even during the peak depression years, Carroll explained, adding that the pay is so poor few persons will consider the situations.

Without giving a definite reason for the bulk of the furlougher workers, Carroll said a small percentage of it could be traced to women who were working in plants during war years. The returning servicemen put many of the women out of work, he declared.

However, the unemployment figure shows few of the women who were working during war years, according to Carroll, because most of the female employes have now returned to their homes and are living on their husbands' incomes.

Report Issued On Midlothian Mine

An inspection report issued by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior commends several improvements at the McNitt Company's McNitt No. 3 Mine at Midlothian, and proposes several improvements in ventilation and other protective measures.

Federal Inspector W. D. Baldwin recommended construction of an air-lock on the slope, offset surface installation and safety devices for the ventilating fan, and provision of an additional flame-safety lamp.

The report credited the mine with a number of recent safety advances, including replacement of broken cross bars at one section of the haulageway, use of special containers for carrying blasting materials, the use of wooden tamping bars, preshift examinations for explosive gas and other hazards, effective frame-grounding of the hoist motor and control switch, and the wearing of protective headgear by all underground workers.

Injunction Issued To Keep Road Open

The Maryland Coal and Realty Company obtained an injunction in Circuit Court yesterday against Robert M. Haislip and Oasie S. Haislip, restraining the latter from blocking a roadway leading from Eckhart Big Vein Mine No. 4 to the Allegany Water Ditch, an underground tunnel which drains the mines.

Filed by Capper and Jenkins, attorneys, the bill of complaint cites that the mining company has had access to the roadway for more than 50 years and that Haislip has recently blocked it. The plaintiffs claim they must have access to the road since it is necessary to send men to the Ditch to maintain it, set timbers, keep it cleaned of refuse and debris. Otherwise, the petition declares, the mines would be flooded.

Fletcher Buys Two Furniture Stores

Harold R. Fletcher, 909 Fayette Street, formerly president of the Peoples Bank here, announced yesterday the purchase of Omps Furniture Stores in Romney, W. Va., and Hancock, Md.

Fletcher also stated he has purchased the local dealer franchise for the Tucker automobile, and company officials are expected here within a week to help select a site for the dealership. He said his franchise for the new car includes Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland, and Mineral, Hampshire, Harday, Tucker and Pendleton counties in West Virginia.

Over 800 scholastic publications, including magazines and newspapers, are entered in this year's contest. Ratings are given on the basis of story content, editorial policy, features, advertisements, makeup and general news coverage.

Bandits Sought In Keyser Area

Search for two highway bandits who robbed a Keyser truckman of $760 at gun point Thursday night at 11 o'clock on Route 50, near Burlington, W. Va., was being centered in the Keyser, W. Va., area last night, but authorities admitted that "clues are slim."

State and municipal officers in Mineral, Hardy and Hampshire counties, W. Va., and in Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties, Md., threw all available officers into the search shortly after it was reported at 11:50 p. m. by the victim, Leonard Sites, 22.

Police said the holdup men, clad in dirty blue coveralls, forced Sites' truck to stop on the highway by driving their car in front of his vehicle. After taking the money, the men reportedly headed toward Keyser on Route 50.

Police said the bandits' car was a 1938 to 1942 model Chevrolet, of a "dirty brown color," with the rear bumper missing and the right rear fender damaged. The car had no license plate on the rear, and "probably not on the front," according to police.

Expect Reports On Rat Killing Drive Next Week

No reports have been received on the "Rat Death Week" campaign, Ralph F. McHenry, county farm agent, said yesterday, but a letter will be mailed to all co-operators the first of next week, asking for returns.

McHenry said weather conditions had been such that some farmers and rural dwellers had not been able to follow the campaign completely last week, but had spread poison this week. Verbal reports, he indicated, tend to show a large kill in the campaign in some sections.

By the time every one has participated and used the poison provided, McHenry believes the rat population of the county will be decreased by several thousands.

Thirty-seven delegates from various local unions conferred here today on the question.

The union delegates declared in a statement that wage increases could be made and manufacturers could afford "to reduce prices while still making a handsome profit."

Among the Celanese Local 1874 delegates at the conference were Playford Aldridge, president, John G. Thomas, business manager, two members of the negotiating committee, and James A. Blackwell, TWUA representative.

County Board Gets More Complaints On County Roads

Several Delegations Request Improvements

Allegany County Commissioners yesterday discussed the condition of a number of county roads, and were informed by several delegations that numerous roads in the county badly need repairs as a result of the rigors of winter weather.

A county road repair, resurfacing and oiling program was adopted a couple of weeks ago, which will care for many of the county's needs, commissioners said, but it is now evident that other work must be done in various sections.

Harmon Broadwater, spokesman for a delegation from the Westernport area, asked for improvements to Mill Run Road, leading from Westernport to the Garrett County Line.

Broadwater explained that six mines and several strip mining operations along this route have created heavy traffic and at least 100 miners use it daily, in addition to other heavy traffic. The group suggested that the road be hard surfaced, but county commissioners said this is not practical at present.

Cost Is Too High

Commissioner William H. Lemmert said a conference with the State Roads Commission revealed a hard-surfaced road over the present grade will cost $87,000 or more, according to state specifications. Under a federal aid program this would cost the county $43,000 and commissioners believe it can be hard surfaced in a satisfactory manner for less than the latter amount.

Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., board president, said the road will be made the No. 1 project for resurfacing next year.

George Frankenberry and John Klipstein appeared before the board seeking repairs for Cunningham Drive in Amcelle Acres on McMullen Highway. Their request was referred to John G. Smith, acting county engineer.

Other Requests Made

Clara Miller asked the commissioners to provide two lengths of pipe for a road off Route 40 near Hendrickson's Service Station. The county engineer will investigate the situation.

Walter and Clarence Minnicks, representing the Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company, asked the commissioners to repair a conduit under the road near the Fire Hall. They said the company will be host to a meeting of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association April 17 and would like to have the repairs made before then. Their request was turned over to Smith.

A. E. Christian, William Lewis, Claude Kline, Harry Eisentrout and Mrs. George Christian appeared before the board seeking repairs to Center and West Streets in LaVale. They said that the road was graded and clay placed on the roadbed last year, but that recent rains and thawing have made it almost impassable.

They told the commissioners that if the county would furnish the trucks they would obtain cinders to place on the road. They also asked that ditches along the road be opened. The county engineer will investigate the complaint.

A delegation of residents on Dolly road and Flintstone Creek road asked that about one-half mile of the roads be graded and shaled. They were told this work will be started Monday if weather permits.

County Must Levy For Nine Or 15 Months Period

Failure To Comply Will Lose State Aid

Whether a nine months levy or a 15 months levy will be set up by the county was discussed yesterday by members of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners. No decision was reached although Commissioner William H. Lemmert, Jr., Frostburg, expressed the view that the 15-month plan should be adopted.

Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the board, said the question will be settled one way or another at an early meeting.

The county must have its new fiscal levy prepared by April 16, and under provisions of Chapter 328 of the Acts of 1947 of the Maryland General Assembly, it is mandatory that the county, as well as all other sub-divisions in the state, make their fiscal years conform with the state's fiscal period, which ends June 30, and begins July 1, or to end December 31 and begin January 1.

Since the county's fiscal year now begins in April, in order to bring the situation in line with the state and to comply with the general provisions of the law, it will be necessary for the board to set up a levy for either nine months, which will close the fiscal period December 31, or for 15 months to close the fiscal period June 30.

The change is necessary for the proper function of the Maryland Commission on Uniform Accounts, according to James J. Lacy, chairman, who wrote the County Commissioners asking for an early decision.

Observers here express the opinion the county board would levy for the 15-month period.

No governmental unit may change its selection of a fiscal period after once adopting it without the permission of the State Comptroller.

Each county and incorporated unit in the state adopting fiscal periods, as provided in the uniform accounts act, shall thereafter keep and maintain its books, records, journals and fiscal reports by such methods as will permit the division of all data, statistics and financial information contained therein into half-yearly periods.

Any governmental unit which fails or refuses to comply with the uniform accounts act shall be denied all funds, grants or state aid to which it is entitled to receive under state law. This includes income taxes, racing taxes and amusement and license taxes which are apportioned to the various cities, towns and counties.

Commissioner James Holmes, Lonaconing commenting on the fiscal year question, said last night, "The plan to bring the counties and incorporated communities in line with the state's fiscal year is a good one. Bookkeeping and auditing will be simplified and more uniform, resulting in less detail work and fewer breakdowns of figures for different periods. We will probably take up the question at our meeting Tuesday, and it appears we will levy on a 15-months basis. I favor this plan, and I believe the other two commissioners do also.

"We must levy for either nine or 15 months," he added, "or the county will lose thousands of dollars in state funds."

Eight Prizes Will Be Awarded In City-Wide Easter Egg Hunt

Eight prizes to be awarded in connection with the city-wide egg hunt to be held in Constitution Park Easter afternoon have been donated by Cumberland business firms, Ted Licot, recreational director of the park, announced yesterday.

The prizes, to be awarded to the children who find the marked eggs among the some 1,800 colored Easter eggs to be hidden throughout the park, were donated by Schwarzenbach and Son, Rosenbaum's, Cumberland Cloak and Suit Company, Burton's, Anthony's Record Mart, Addison's, Maurice's and the Liberty Theater.

The program will begin shortly after 1 p. m. Easter afternoon when a plane, donated by Charles Parks and piloted by Gus Anthony, will drop candy "kisses from Heaven" over the ball park.

Members of the Cumberland Playground Association will tint the 150 dozen eggs which will be hidden for the first community-wide egg hunt ever to be scheduled here.

Parents will be asked to accompany children to the park for the occasion planned for children up to 14 years of age.

None of the eggs will be hidden within 100 feet of flowers or shrubs in the park, but present plans call for the utilization of the entire park area to hide the eggs.

Agreement Made For Purchase Of Embassy Dairy

Co-operative To Buy Plant For $75,000

An agreement of sale for the Embassy Dairy plant on Pennsylvania Avenue here was filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of court between James J. Ward and Lilian F. Ward, the Embassy Dairy, Inc., and the Co-operative Milk Service, Inc.

The agreement indicates the amount of sale is $75,000, with $10,000 paid down and the balance to be paid in 60 days when a deed is to be executed.

The Co-operative Milk Service, Inc., which is purchasing the business, is acquiring the building from the Wards and the plant equipment and personal property from the Embassy Dairy. According to signatures on the three-party document, Carlton Livengood, near Bedford, Pa., is president of the Co-operative and O. C. Hepner, Fort Ashby, W. Va., is secretary.

James J. Ward is president of the Embassy Dairy and Irene Kohl, both of Washington, D. C., secretary.

The Embassy plant here has been operated as a receiving and cooling station for milk from producers in the Tri-State area, with the entire output being shipped to Washington, where the Ward interests operate the Embassy Dairy and another large operation in Baltimore, according to local authorities.

John D. Liebau, Baltimore Pike, long identified with the milk business here, is manager of the local Embassy plant. He said last night he understood an agreement for sale of the place had been made, but said no changes in method of operation appear to be indicated.

The agreement was prepared by C. William Gilchrist, attorney.

Fire Is Fatal To Elderly Man

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—An elderly man, George Benjamin Sites, 78, was fatally burned early Friday morning when the small house in which he was living was destroyed by fire.

Sites occupied the small dwelling in the rear of Mrs. John Thomas' lot and together with several other elderly men had boarded with Mrs. Thomas for a number of years.

The Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company responded to the alarm at 1 o'clock, but was unable to save the small structure.

The origin of the fire still is unknown, but it is believed it started from an overheated stove.

Mr. Sites was unmarried. He is survived by three nieces, Mrs. George See, South Fork; Mrs. Robert Bayse, Mathias, and Mrs. Arthur See, Mathias.

The body was taken to the Thrush Funeral Home. Burial will be near Milan.

Unemployed May File New Benefit Claims March 15

Payment On 1946 Earnings Due Soon

Unemployed persons in Allegany County may begin filing for Maryland unemployment compensation benefits on 1947 earnings after March 15, according to Francis A. Kenney, manager of the Cumberland office of the state division.

The Unemployment Compensation division's fiscal year ends March 31, according to Kenney, but the date for filing for new year benefits has been changed to permit the local agency to handle the work.

Kenney said there are currently 800 persons receiving unemployment benefits on their 1946 earnings. Most of these persons, according to Kenney, will be eligible for benefits on 1947 earnings and will automatically be transferred to that account.

While claims may be filed as early as March 15, Kenney declared, payments will not be made any earlier than the present laws permit which require that the claimant be unemployed for one full week after April 1, before benefits are paid.

The new eligibility will make state unemployment benefits available to persons who become unemployed early in 1947 and used up their residue on the 1946 work period, according to Kenney.

Practically all of the 800 persons now receiving payments are expected to file for benefits allowed in the new fiscal year, Kenney explained, plus many new persons. An estimate of the number of claims that will be filed for the new year, is impossible, Kenney declared.

However, he said the claim load in previous years has increased sharply when new benefits become available.

In most cases persons who file before April 1, will receive the payments after the first week of unemployment in April. The weekly filing of claims as is necessary when benefits are being received will not begin until after April 1.

Persons now filing claims under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act will not be affected, according to Kenney.

Restaurant Theft Probed By Police

Trooper First Class William Baker said entrance to the restaurant, owned and operated by Arthur James Thomas and Eugene L. Twigg, both of Frostburg, was gained through a rear window which was left open.

Trooper Baker said $79 in cash was taken from a cabinet drawer, along with $42 that was kept in another drawer in a cloth money bag and $10 in change, and a $9.36 check was taken from the cash register.

The theft was discovered by Webster Ball, negro cook, when he opened the restaurant yesterday morning.

David J. Lewis Asks Equality For Water Users

Says Multiple Charge Is Discriminatory

Charging the interpretation of the city water ordinance requiring apartment house operators to pay multiple meter charges is discriminatory and unjustified, David J. Lewis, former Sixth District representative, called upon the coming Mayor and City Council to remedy the injustice.

In a statement to the News, Lewis quoted statistics from the city auditor's reports to show that one minimum meter charge, plus 30 cents per 1,000 gallons of water consumed, more than pays for the expense incurred by the city.

Although the city has consistently claimed it does not operate the water system for a profit, Lewis pointed out, it has accumulated a surplus of $351,714.94 in the past few years, an amount he charged was about equal to extra sums collected from the 2,084 customers who pay multiple meter minimums.

Issues Statement

In a statement, Lewis said, "To the water takers and coming Mayor and City Council of Cumberland:

"I am taking advantage of this space, kindly granted by the management of the Cumberland News, to present to you an important phase of our water ordinances, compelling house owners, who rent portions of the building or apartments to pay multiple and fictitious meter-minimum charges when but one meter is in use even though the owner alone is billed or held responsible for the water rent, and himself has paid for the meter and expense of connecting the house with the street water main. Why is he asked to pay two, three, or four meter-rate minimum charges of $18, $36, $54, or $72 per year, and denied the right granted all other metered consumers, like boarding houses, hotels, restaurants, office buildings, saloons, to pay but one meter rate minimum of $18 per year plus 30 cents per 1,000 gallons for consumption as determined by the meters? Common sense will answer at once, that there can be no justification for such unequal, such openly discriminating and fictitious charges for like services rendered at like expense.

"Does it cost the city more to render its meter service to such household owner than to the hotel, office building, etc.? Obviously no! Why have a meter system at all if its count is to be ignored and fictitious minimums substituted instead.

Raises Three Questions

"1. Do these multiple, fictitious meter minimums find justification in the expenses incurred? Does the service through one meter to a house divided into apartments, serviced by one furnace and water heater cost more than to hotels, office buildings, boarding houses, etc.? The answer is obviously no.

"2. What is the purpose of a meter minimum charge?

"3. Does the single meter minimum of $18 per year, ($4.50 per quarter) fully cover the expenses incurred? How much are these expenses?

"Thanks to an analysis of the adequate reports of our capable city auditor and water superintendent (given below) these questions can be examined and answered.

"As to question No. 2, the purpose of a minimum meter charge is to save the city against loss should the customer connected not consume enough water under the sliding scale of rates (30 cents and down per 1000 gallons), to pay administration, interest and unretired capital, and sinking fund charges.

"As to question No. 3, does $18 per year, fully cover the expenses incurred. Analysis of the reports of such auditor and water superintendent show the expenses to be:

"City service expense per customer, $12.19; interest on unpaid capital, and sinking fund charges, 6.37 cents per 1000 gallons, for 60,000 gallons, 3.82, total, $16.01.

City Expenses Cited

"Thus the "City Expense" or administration service is shown in 1947 to have been $12.19 per customer for administration expense; the capital and dam or water storage expenses for 60,000 gallons $3.82, a total of $16.01. The gross metered-gallons delivered over the dam to the City for distribution in the City was 4,115,160,000. Allowing a deduction of 15 per cent for leakage (the late Mr. Bruce's estimate), the used or consumed water amounted to 3,497,886,000 gallons, which divided by the capital expense of $222,674, shows an expense of 6.37 cents, per 1000 gallons.

Thus combining the "City expense" per customer of $12.19, and the capital cost expense for 60,000 gallons of $3.87, a joint cost of $16.01 is shown which is more than covered by a one meter minimum charge of $18.

"Why then demand from these 2,009 house-owners alone two or three or more minimum charges of $18 when but one minimum plus 30 cents per 1,000 gallons, for consumption above 60,000 gallons, more than pays for the expense incurred?

Not Designed For Profit

"The City has consistently claimed that it does not operate the water system for a profit. Certainly it could find no justification for doing so, under the charter, which provides:

"'And it shall be the duty of the Mayor and City Council to establish from time to time such rates for its water system as will pay for all operating expense and all its annual interest and meet all its sink-

Ohio Veterans May File Bonus Applications Here, Says Conlon

Thomas F. Conlon, service officer, announced yesterday that the Maryland Veterans Commission office here will assist Ohio veterans now living in this area to file applications for World War II bonuses.

A limited number of Form No. 1 blanks, to be used by living veterans only, is available at the office in the Liberty Trust Building and supplies of Form No. 2, to be used by the surviving next of kin of deceased Ohio veterans, will be available soon, Conlon said.

The World War II Compensation Fund, provided in an amendment to the Ohio Constitution in November, 1947, provides, in general, that residents of that state who served in the armed forces from December 7, 1941, to September 2, 1945, are entitled to $10 a month for domestic service and $15 for each month of foreign service, not to exceed $400.

Applicants must have served at least 90 days unless they suffered a service-connected disability which would entitle them to compensation.

Compensation may be paid to the surviving next of kin of deceased persons who otherwise would be eligible for the bonus. Forms for filling such claims will be available here in the near future, Conlon said.

1,400 Industrial Workers Laid Off In Past 12 Months

Labor Situation Is "Poor," Carroll Says

Despite the fact that a general furlough trend is not in evidence in Allegany County's industrial plants, Patrick J. Carroll, manager of the local office of the Employment Service, said yesterday that 1,400 workers have been furloughed in the past 12 months.

Carroll said the figures represent workers from most of the county's industries, but added it is not noticeable in any particular plant.

The 1,400 workers are included in the county's 2,500 unemployed, a figure that was released by Carroll March 1, he said, adding that little change is expected in the general situation for the next two or three months.

New construction projects and State Roads Commission work may relieve the labor situation in the area "slightly" over the summer period, according to Carroll, "but the overall picture of job situations is visibly poor."

Carroll said the present job opportunities offered to unemployed persons in the county consist of positions for maids, and salesmen who will work on commission.

Such positions were open even during the peak depression years, Carroll explained, adding that the pay is so poor few persons will consider the situations.

Without giving a definite reason for the bulk of the furloughed workers, Carroll said a small percentage of it could be traced to women who were working in plants during war years. The returning servicemen put many of the women out of work, he declared.

However, the unemployment figure shows few of the women who were working during war years, according to Carroll, because most of the female employes have now returned to their homes and are living on their husbands' incomes.

Report Issued On Midlothian Mine

An inspection report issued by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior commends several improvements at the McNitt Company's McNitt No. 3 Mine at Midlothian, and proposes several improvements in ventilation and other protective measures.

Federal Inspector W. D. Baldwin recommended construction of an air-lock on the slope, offset surface installation and safety devices for the ventilating fan, and provision of an additional flame-safety lamp.

The report credited the mine with a number of recent safety advances, including replacement of broken cross bars at one section of the haulageway, use of special containers for carrying blasting materials, the use of wooden tamping bars, preshift examinations for explosive gas and other hazards, effective frame-grounding of the hoist motor and control switch, and the wearing of protective headgear by all underground workers.

Injunction Issued To Keep Road Open

The Maryland Coal and Realty Company obtained an injunction in Circuit Court yesterday against Robert M. Haislip and Oasie S. Haislip, restraining the latter from blocking a roadway leading from Eckhart Big Vein Mine No. 4 to the Allegany Water Ditch, an underground tunnel which drains the mines.

Filed by Capper and Jenkins, attorneys, the bill of complaint cites that the mining company has had access to the roadway for more than 50 years and that Haislip has recently blocked it. The plaintiffs claim they must have access to the road since it is necessary to send men to the Ditch to maintain it, set timbers, keep it cleaned of refuse and debris. Otherwise, the petition declares, the mines would be flooded.

Bandits Sought In Keyser Area

Search for two highway bandits who robbed a Keyser truckman of $760 at gun point Thursday night at 11 o'clock on Route 50, near Burlington, W. Va., was being centered in the Keyser, W. Va., area last night, but authorities admitted that "clues are slim."

State and municipal officers in Mineral, Hardy and Hampshire counties, W. Va., and in Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties, Md., threw all available officers into the search shortly after it was reported at 11:50 p. m. by the victim, Leonard Sites, 22.

Police said the holdup men, clad in dirty blue coveralls, forced Sites' truck to stop on the highway by driving their car in front of his vehicle. After taking the money, the men reportedly headed toward Keyser on Route 50.

Police said the bandits' car was a 1938 to 1942 model Chevrolet, of a "dirty brown color," with the rear bumper missing and the right rear fender damaged. The car had no license plate on the rear, and "probably not on the front," according to police.

Expect Reports On Rat Killing Drive Next Week

No reports have been received on the "Rat Death Week" campaign, Ralph F. McHenry, county farm agent, said yesterday, but a letter will be mailed to all co-operators the first of next week, asking for returns.

McHenry said weather conditions had been such that some farmers and rural dwellers had not been able to follow the campaign completely last week, but had spread poison this week. Verbal reports, he indicated, tend to show a large kill in the campaign in some sections.

By the time every one has participated and used the poison provided, McHenry believes the rat population of the county will be decreased by several thousands.

Eight Prizes Will Be Awarded In City-Wide Easter Egg Hunt

Eight prizes to be awarded in connection with the city-wide egg hunt to be held in Constitution Park Easter afternoon have been donated by Cumberland business firms, Ted Licot, recreational director of the park, announced yesterday.

The prizes, to be awarded to the children who find the marked eggs among the some 1,800 colored Easter eggs to be hidden throughout the park, were donated by Schwarzenbach and Son, Rosenbaum's, Cumberland Cloak and Suit Company, Burton's, Anthony's Record Mart, Addison's, Maurice's and the Liberty Theater.

The program will begin shortly after 1 p. m. Easter afternoon when a plane, donated by Charles Parks and piloted by Gus Anthony, will drop candy "kisses from Heaven" over the ball park.

Members of the Potomac Valley Motorcycle Club will patrol the park during the entire program which is planned for at least 1,000 participants.

Members of the Cumberland Playground Association will tint the 150 dozen eggs which will be hidden for the first community-wide egg hunt ever to be scheduled here.

Parents will be asked to accompany children to the park for the occasion planned for children up to 14 years of age.

None of the eggs will be hidden within 100 feet of flowers or shrubs in the park, but present plans call for the utilization of the entire park area to hide the eggs.

Thirty-seven delegates from various local unions conferred here today on the question.

Herbert W. Payne, vice president of the union, said company profits have been "skyrocketing."

The union delegates declared in a statement that wage increases could be made and manufacturers could afford "to reduce prices while still making a handsome profit."

County Board Gets More Complaints On County Roads

Several Delegations Request Improvements

Allegany County Commissioners yesterday discussed the condition of a number of county roads, and were informed by several delegations that numerous roads in the county badly need repairs as a result of the rigors of winter weather.

A county road repair, resurfacing and oiling program was adopted a couple of weeks ago, which will care for many of the county's needs, commissioners said, but it is now evident that other work must be done in various sections.

Harmon Broadwater, spokesman for a delegation from the Westernport area, asked for improvements to Mill Run Road, leading from Westernport to the Garrett County Line.

Broadwater explained that six mines and several strip mining operations along this route have created heavy traffic and at least 100 miners use it daily, in addition to other heavy traffic. The group suggested that the road be hard surfaced, but county commissioners said this is not practical at present.

Cost Is Too High

Commissioner William H. Lemmert said a conference with the State Roads Commission revealed a hard-surfaced road over the present grade will cost $87,000 or more, according to state specifications. Under a federal aid program this would cost the county $43,000 and commissioners believe it can be hard surfaced in a satisfactory manner for less than the latter amount.

Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., board president, said the road will be made the No. 1 project for resurfacing next year.

George Frankenberry and John Klipstein appeared before the board seeking repairs for Cunningham Drive in Amcelle Acres on McMullen Highway. Their request was referred to John G. Smith, acting county engineer.

Other Requests Made

Clara Miller asked the commissioners to provide two lengths of pipe for a road off Route 40 near Hendrickson's Service Station. The county engineer will investigate the situation.

Walter and Clarence Minnicks, representing the Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company, asked the commissioners to repair a conduit under the road near the Fire Hall. They said the company will be host to a meeting of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association April 17 and would like to have the repairs made before then. Their request was turned over to Smith.

A. E. Christian, William Lewis, Claude Kline, Harry Eisentrout and Mrs. George Christian appeared before the board seeking repairs to Center and West Streets in LaVale. They said that the road was graded and clay placed on the roadbed last year, but that recent rains and thawing have made it almost impassable.

They told the commissioners that if the county would furnish the trucks they would obtain cinders to place on the road. They also asked that ditches along the road be opened. The county engineer will investigate the complaint.

A delegation of residents on Dolly road and Flintstone Creek road asked that about one-half mile of the roads be graded and shaled. They were told this work will be started Monday if weather permits.

County Must Levy For Nine Or 15 Months Period

Failure To Comply Will Lose State Aid

Whether a nine months levy or a 15 months levy will be set up by the county was discussed yesterday by members of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners. No decision was reached although Commissioner William H. Lemmert, Jr., Frostburg, expressed the view that the 15-month plan should be adopted.

Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., president of the board, said the question will be settled one way or another at an early meeting.

The county must have its new fiscal levy prepared by April 16, and under provisions of Chapter 328 of the Acts of 1947 of the Maryland General Assembly, it is mandatory that the county, as well as all other sub-divisions in the state, make their fiscal years conform with the state's fiscal period, which ends June 30, and begins July 1, or to end December 31 and begin January 1.

Since the county's fiscal year now begins in April, in order to bring the situation in line with the state and to comply with the general provisions of the law, it will be necessary for the board to set up a levy for either nine months, which will close the fiscal period December 31, or for 15 months to close the fiscal period June 30.

The change is necessary for the proper function of the Maryland Commission on Uniform Accounts, according to James J. Lacy, chairman, who wrote the County Commissioners asking for an early decision.

Once the fiscal period is adopted, it cannot be changed without permission of the State Comptroller.

Observers here express the opinion the county board would levy for the 15-month period.

No governmental unit may change its selection of a fiscal period after once adopting it without the permission of the State Comptroller.

Each county and incorporated unit in the state adopting fiscal periods, as provided in the uniform accounts act, shall thereafter keep and maintain its books, records, journals and fiscal reports by such methods as will permit the division of all data, statistics and financial information contained therein into half-yearly periods.

Any governmental unit which fails or refuses to comply with the uniform accounts act shall be denied all funds, grants or state aid to which it is entitled to receive under state law. This includes income taxes, racing taxes and amusement and license taxes which are apportioned to the various cities, towns and counties.

Commissioner James Holmes, Lonaconing commenting on the fiscal year question, said last night, "The plan to bring the counties and incorporated communities in line with the state's fiscal year is a good one. Bookkeeping and auditing will be simplified and more uniform, resulting in less detail work and fewer breakdowns of figures for different periods. We will probably take up the question at our meeting Tuesday, and it appears we will levy on a 15-months basis. I favor this plan, and I believe the other two commissioners do also.

"We must levy for either nine or 15 months," he added, "or the county will lose thousands of dollars in state funds."

Agreement Made For Purchase Of Embassy Dairy

An agreement of sale for the Embassy Dairy plant on Pennsylvania Avenue here was filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of court between James J. Ward and Lilian F. Ward, the Embassy Dairy, Inc., and the Co-operative Milk Service, Inc.

The agreement indicates the amount of sale is $75,000, with $10,000 paid down and the balance to be paid in 60 days when a deed is to be executed.

The Embassy plant here has been operated as a receiving and cooling station for milk from producers in the Tri-State area, with the entire output being shipped to Washington, where the Ward interests operate the Embassy Dairy and another large operation in Baltimore, according to local authorities.

John D. Liebau, Baltimore Pike, long identified with the milk business here, is manager of the local Embassy plant. He said last night he understood an agreement for sale of the place had been made, but said no changes in method of operation appear to be indicated.

The agreement was prepared by C. William Gilchrist, attorney.

Fire Is Fatal To Elderly Man

Sites occupied the small dwelling in the rear of Mrs. John Thomas' lot and together with several other elderly men had boarded with Mrs. Thomas for a number of years.

The Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company responded to the alarm at 1 o'clock, but was unable to save the small structure.

The origin of the fire still is unknown, but it is believed it started from an overheated stove.

Mr. Sites was unmarried. He is survived by three nieces, Mrs. George See, South Fork; Mrs. Robert Bayse, Mathias, and Mrs. Arthur See, Mathias.

The body was taken to the Thrush Funeral Home. Burial will be near Milan.

Unemployed May File New Benefit Claims March 15

Payment On 1946 Earnings Due Soon

Unemployed persons in Allegany County may begin filing for Maryland unemployment compensation benefits on 1947 earnings after March 15, according to Francis A. Kenney, manager of the Cumberland office of the state division.

The Unemployment Compensation division's fiscal year ends March 31, according to Kenney, but the date for filing for new year benefits has been changed to permit the local agency to handle the work.

Kenney said there are currently 800 persons receiving unemployment benefits on their 1946 earnings. Most of these persons, according to Kenney, will be eligible for benefits on 1947 earnings and will automatically be transferred to that account.

While claims may be filed as early as March 15, Kenney declared, payments will not be made any earlier than the present laws permit which require that the claimant be unemployed for one full week after April 1, before benefits are paid.

The new eligibility will make state unemployment benefits available to persons who become unemployed early in 1947 and used up their residue on the 1946 work period, according to Kenney.

Practically all of the 800 persons now receiving payments are expected to file for benefits allowed in the new fiscal year, Kenney explained, plus many new persons. An estimate of the number of claims that will be filed for the new year, is impossible, Kenney declared.

However, he said the claim load in previous years has increased sharply when new benefits become available.

In most cases persons who file before April 1, will receive the payments after the first week of unemployment in April. The weekly filing of claims as is necessary when benefits are being received will not begin until after April 1.

Persons now filing claims under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act will not be affected, according to Kenney.

Restaurant Theft Probed By Police

A $139 theft at Harris' Restaurant, East Main Street, Frostburg, between 2:30 and 7 a. m. yesterday morning was being investigated by Maryland State Police last night, who said the intruders took cash from three drawers but touched nothing else.

Trooper First Class William Baker said entrance to the restaurant, owned and operated by Arthur James Thomas and Eugene L. Twigg, both of Frostburg, was gained through a rear window which was left open.

Trooper Baker said $79 in cash was taken from a cabinet drawer, along with $42 that was kept in another drawer in a cloth money bag and $10 in change, and a $9.36 check was taken from the cash register.

The theft was discovered by Webster Ball, negro cook, when he opened the restaurant yesterday morning.

Ohio Veterans May File Bonus Applications Here, Says Conlon

Thomas F. Conlon, service officer, announced yesterday that the Maryland Veterans Commission office here will assist Ohio veterans now living in this area to file applications for World War II bonuses.

A limited number of Form No. 1 blanks, to be used by living veterans only, is available at the office in the Liberty Trust Building and supplies of Form No. 2, to be used by the surviving next of kin of deceased Ohio veterans, will be available soon, Conlon said.

The World War II Compensation Fund, provided in an amendment to the Ohio Constitution in November, 1947, provides, in general, that residents of that state who served in the armed forces from December 7, 1941, to September 2, 1945, are entitled to $10 a month for domestic service and $15 for each month of foreign service, not to exceed $400.

Applicants must have served at least 90 days unless they suffered a service-connected disability which would entitle them to compensation.

Compensation may be paid to the surviving next of kin of deceased persons who otherwise would be eligible for the bonus. Forms for filling such claims will be available here in the near future, Conlon said.

Says Multiple Charge Is Discriminatory

Charging the interpretation of the city water ordinance requiring apartment house operators to pay multiple meter charges is discriminatory and unjustified, David J. Lewis, former Sixth District representative, called upon the coming Mayor and City Council to remedy the injustice.

In a statement to the News, Lewis quoted statistics from the city auditor's reports to show that one minimum meter charge, plus 30 cents per 1,000 gallons of water consumed, more than pays for the expense incurred by the city.

Although the city has consistently claimed it does not operate the water system for a profit, Lewis pointed out, it has accumulated a surplus of $351,714.94 in the past few years, an amount he charged was about equal to extra sums collected from the 2,084 customers who pay multiple meter minimums.

Issues Statement

In a statement, Lewis said, "To the water takers and coming Mayor and City Council of Cumberland:

"I am taking advantage of this space, kindly granted by the management of the Cumberland News, to present to you an important phase of our water ordinances, compelling house owners, who rent portions of the building or apartments to pay multiple and fictitious meter-minimum charges when but one meter is in use even though the owner alone is billed or held responsible for the water rent, and himself has paid for the meter and expense of connecting the house with the street water main. Why is he asked to pay two, three, or four meter-rate minimum charges of $18, $36, $54, or $72 per year, and denied the right granted all other metered consumers, like boarding houses, hotels, restaurants, office buildings, saloons, to pay but one meter rate minimum of $18 per year plus 30 cents per 1,000 gallons for consumption as determined by the meters? Common sense will answer at once, that there can be no justification for such unequal, such openly discriminating and fictitious charges for like services rendered at like expense.

"Does it cost the city more to render its meter service to such household owner than to the hotel, office building, etc.? Obviously no! Why have a meter system at all if its count is to be ignored and fictitious minimums substituted instead.

Raises Three Questions

"1. Do these multiple, fictitious meter minimums find justification in the expenses incurred? Does the service through one meter to a house divided into apartments, serviced by one furnace and water heater cost more than to hotels, office buildings, boarding houses, etc.? The answer is obviously no.

"2. What is the purpose of a meter minimum charge?

"3. Does the single meter minimum of $18 per year, ($4.50 per quarter) fully cover the expenses incurred? How much are these expenses?

"Thanks to an analysis of the adequate reports of our capable city auditor and water superintendent (given below) these questions can be examined and answered.

"As to question No. 2, the purpose of a minimum meter charge is to save the city against loss should the customer connected not consume enough water under the sliding scale of rates (30 cents and down per 1000 gallons), to pay administration, interest and unretired capital, and sinking fund charges.

"As to question No. 3, does $18 per year, fully cover the expenses incurred. Analysis of the reports of such auditor and water superintendent show the expenses to be:

"City service expense per customer, $12.19; interest on unpaid capital, and sinking fund charges, 6.37 cents per 1000 gallons, for 60,000 gallons, 3.82, total, $16.01.

City Expenses Cited

"Thus the "City Expense" or administration service is shown in 1947 to have been $12.19 per customer for administration expense; the capital and dam or water storage expenses for 60,000 gallons $3.82, a total of $16.01. The gross metered-gallons delivered over the dam to the City for distribution in the City was 4,115,160,000. Allowing a deduction of 15 per cent for leakage (the late Mr. Bruce's estimate), the used or consumed water amounted to 3,497,886,000 gallons, which divided by the capital expense of $222,674, shows an expense of 6.37 cents, per 1000 gallons.

Thus combining the "City expense" per customer of $12.19, and the capital cost expense for 60,000 gallons of $3.87, a joint cost of $16.01 is shown which is more than covered by a one meter minimum charge of $18.

"Why then demand from these 2,009 house-owners alone two or three or more minimum charges of $18 when but one minimum plus 30 cents per 1,000 gallons, for consumption above 60,000 gallons, more than pays for the expense incurred?

Not Designed For Profit

"The City has consistently claimed that it does not operate the water system for a profit. Certainly it could find no justification for doing so, under the charter, which provides:

"'And it shall be the duty of the Mayor and City Council to establish from time to time such rates for its water system as will pay for all operating expense and all its annual interest and meet all its sink-
